Here may be an answer to those who ask "Why the shopping centers?" Population explosion in suburban areas is highlighted in a new Census Bureau report. Two thirds of the population growth in the past nine years has been in metropolitan areas and 95 per cent of that increase has been outside central cities.

It can be understood why major business organizations are following potential customers to the suburbs.

We have frequently praised the post office department for the service it is giving. Because congress cut the requested appropriation of the postmaster general, he is threatening to curtail service . . . such as closing post offices on Saturdays, etc.

That threat in 1957 caused Congress to relent and vote the requested funds.

The letter rate may still go to five cents, but this is an election year and Summerfield may not be able to get congress to enact such legislation.

Is it possible that some people who customarily respond to the national fund drives are going on a sit-down strike? We received some first hand opinions Sunday when we took part in the heart drive in one community.

Other solicitors have similar reports. In one block in Arlington Heights only one person responded.

Then again, 14 persons attending a benefit college concert Sunday, said that no heart fund solictors had been at their homes.

The Red Cross and Cancer drives are coming up . . . both of them very important. They say that experience has taught them that participation in a community fund does not provide the needed funds. Who has the answer?

Here is the other side of the story. Palatine collected over $2,000 for the Heart Fund last week.

It is to be regretted that fund chairmen are having difficulty in finding block solicitors who are willing to go from door to door.

POOR DAD! The telephone company is suggesting the advantage to dad and mother if their daughter is given a phone for her individual use.

Listed in some of the recent directories are "daughter's phone" following the name of parent.

It certainly will be a controversial subject in many a home. Again, we say, "Poor Dad," who must pay the phone bills.

TOO NEW TO know they will have to wait another four years for their first birthday are Northwest Community hospital's contributions to the leap year enjoyment. Mrs. K. Ford holds Barbara Jean Patterson, Rolling Meadows, at left. Barbara weighed in February 29 at 6 pounds 10½ ounces. Mrs. Willard Dreffein holds Kimberly Jean Kilmer, Glenview, at left. She weighed six pounds, ½ ounce.

These Ladies Destined For a Different Life!

Two young ladies were born at the Northwest Community hospital this week, destined to a life that is different from others. The reason is obvious, of course. They were born on that much acclaimed day that comes once every four years, Leap Year's day. This year it came, Monday, Feb. 29.

The future for the two young misses, Barbara Jean Patterson, 3508 Meadow dr., Rolling Meadows, and Kimberly Jean Kilmer, Glenview is bleak enough. Only one cake to blow out when normal people have four in that length of time.

They won't be able to vote legally until they are 84 or drive until they are 64. And if you look at it the other way, they will probably be married by the time they are seven, and grandparents by the time they are 14 or 16.

IT DOESN'T tell us anywhere if they will have an advantage over other adventuresome girls who have been known to "pop the question" during the renowned leap year. Perhaps their fortuitious births should give them an edge on this score, since they have to give up some of the other advantages in life.

Actually, however, the world has devised a neat trick for the unfortunates lacking legal excuse for the annual candle blowing ceremony. Just move the day up or back on those off years.

THAT WAY the two young ladies, shouldn't miss out on too much excitement and will get a quadruple thrill every time the real day does roll around.

Barbara Jean is the third child of Robert and Marilyn Patterson. Kimberly Jean is the first for Paul and Phyllis Kilmer.

Park Board Studies $200,000 Ice Rink

An artificial ice skating rink that would guarantee at least five months of skating a year is being considered by Arlington Heights park board members.

Should the board decide to go ahead with the survey, the predicted revenue will no doubt be of the most interest. Financing the estimated $200,000 price tag on the rink is the prime concern of park board members.

WITH LESS than 20 skating days this season for one of the district's most popular sports, the board agrees that an artificial rink would be desirable. It questions, however, whether park district residents would stand for a tax raise, no matter how small, to finance the project.

State statutes don't allow the financing of a rink through revenue bond. This leaves general obligation bonds as the only means of paying for the project.

Board members are considering an informal arrangement whereby they would ask the voters to approve a general obligation bond issue, and then retire the bonds and interest rate through rink revenues. This would result in no tax increase for park district residents.

SUCH AN arrangement would, of course, depend upon the rink's raising enough money to retire the bonds. Should the anticipated revenue fall short, the balance would have to come from the taxpayers in the form of increased assessments.

A representative of the Ahrendt Engineering company, a Chicago firm specializing in artificial rinks, told park board members at their last meeting that such an arrangement has been worked out in other communities to the satisfaction of taxpayers.

The rink, a concrete slab in which refrigeration pipes are imbedded, would allow ice skating from November through March, and longer if a roof were erected over the outdoor rink, according to Park Director Tom Thornton.

Thornton also notes the 100 by 200 foot slab could be used for roller skating, tennis, dancing, and other sports and games in the off-season.

THE $200,000 figure includes shelter, lights, fencing, and the 100 by 200 foot rink. An 85 by 185 foot rink would be some cheaper.

While Wilmette and Forest Park are the only Chicago area communities that have artificial rinks, Thornton notes that the interest in ice skating in Arlington Heights merits such an addition. He cites this year's cancellation of the Rotary Ice Carnival due to lack of ice, and notes that skating days per season seldom number over 30.

Citizens' Committee Is Formed

A move to conduct a once a year combined fund appeal in Arlington Heights has gained momentum with the formation of a steering committee.

The committee, whose goal is to replace the now numerous fund drives with a single campaign to include both national and local agencies, is in the process of setting up an organizational structure.

THE COMMITTEE desires to get as broad community representation as possible and requests that all organizations and persons interested in assisting in the drive contact Mrs. Anne Mockenhaupt at CL 5-2335.

The decision to work toward a single fund campaign was prompted by dissatisfaction with the duplication of time and effort in the approximately 20 fund solicitations that are conducted annually in the village and the failure of many local organizations to raise even 50 per cent of their goals.

SCARSDALE and Sherwood subdivisions have conducted successful single fund appeals, and there is growing sentiment among village homeowner and civic groups for such a drive.

Successful combined fund drives have been conducted in Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Evanston, and several North Shore communities. The Mt. Prospect chamber of commerce is spearheading efforts to set up a single appeal in that community.

In these communities the budgets of various local and national agencies are reviewed and a goal determined for the single drive, generally held in the fall.

CONTRIBUTORS are encouraged to designate what portion of their donations they want to go to the various agencies.

In return for inclusion in the single fund appeal, the agencies are asked to agree not to hold their individual solicitations.

Brave Man

Courage is rightly esteemed the first of human qualities because it is the quality which guarantees all others.

—Winston Churchill

Northwest Family Service — staggering under an increased case load and inadequate budget — is in danger of going out of business, it was warned at a meeting in Arlington Heights Monday night.

Plans were laid at the gathering to shore up the service's financial structure by reactivating community groups in the four communities it serves to:

1) launch a program to educate residents in the work of the social agency;

2) assist in planning and implementing a fund drive set for September.

The community groups, which first worked to organize the agency, will provide "a core of people educated in Family Service," Bruno Waara, a member of the service's board of directors, told the small assembly at Pioneer Park fieldhouse.

Two such groups have been organized, one in Palatine, and the other, to represent Arlington Heights, following Monday night's meeting.

THE BOARD of directors of Family Service are also planning to meet with Mt. Prospect civic leaders soon, while Des Plaines, the fourth community belonging to the agency, will contribute through the Community Chest.

Family Service's budget will allow it to operate only until the end of March, it was brought out at the meeting.

Mrs. Mary Nicklaus, executive director and the one professional counselor in the agency's employ, however, has agreed to stay with Family Service until after this fall's fund drive.

In Palatine, five housewives and nurses, are organizing coffee clatches to educate persons in the services provided by the agency. Chairman is Mrs. Thurman Sipp, 347 N. Fremont st. Others include: Mrs. Harold Berg, 344 N. Fremont; Miss Dorothy M. Carlson, 153 S. Maple ct.; Mrs. William Nelson, 234 N. Plum Grove, and Mrs. I. V. Brunstrom, 122 N. Linden.

"Friends will be invited to lend an ear and twenty-five cents while Northwest Family Service is discussed, and why there is a need for a vital interest in this family counseling service," the women intend.

VOLUNTEERING to serve on the Arlington Heights council of Family Service were: Rev. John Peterson, pastor of Our Saviour's Lutheran church; Mrs. Helen E. Briscoe, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club and St. John's United Church of Christ; Mrs. H. L. Berthold, Jr., Arlington Heights Women's club, and Gene Oliver, representing Arlington High School District 214.

H. P. Kieskowski, outgoing president of the Chamber of Commerce, also pledged to appoint a representative of his organization to serve on the council.

Northwest Family Service, organized in 1957, has been steadily sliding downward in donations while more demand has been placed on its services.

Dr. Robert G. Savage of Des Plaines, president of the board, described it as a "vicious circle."

"The more publicity we get from fund drives, the more people apply for help. The agency has grown but it's monetary resources have not kept pace with the increased demand," Savage pointed out.

FAMILY SERVICE'S waiting list has spiraled to 80 persons, and this group comes mostly through direct application since ministers and doctors are reluctant to refer people to the agency due to the four-month waiting list.

"We operate inefficiently on $1,000 a month," says Mrs. Nicklaus, who addes that she has been forced to treat cases on an emergency basis in such circumstances as unwed mothers and persons displaying psychotic symptoms.

In 1957, Family Service raised $12,571.08, although its optimum budget was set at $25,516, to include the services of additional professional personnel and consultants.

In 1958, it slipped to $11,480.11, and in 1959 (discounting Des Plaines, which placed it under Community Chest) to $5,026.42.

YET MRS. NICKLAUS is convinced that "one dollar per home" from the area served would be enough to put it on a firm financial basis.

The services are extended to embrace an area supported by from 80,000 to 100,000 persons, it was pointed out, including all of Palatine township with the exclusion of Rolling Meadows, and the city limits of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines.

"The schools have particularly sought the service," Mrs. Nicklaus said, "because they can only do so much with the children and nothing with the parents."

The gathering was further informed that all money collected in the community "stays in the community."

A Community Challenge!

Family Service must be salvaged!

This is a challenge which awaits the response of northwest suburbs served by the agency. How each citizen can play a part in meeting this challenge is discussed in a special editorial to be found inside this week's edition.

Collins Is President Of Chamber

PAUL E. COLLINS

Paul E. Collins, president of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association, has been elected to serve as president of the village chamber of commerce for 1960.

Reelected to serve as vice president was Joseph Lohr of Lohr's Pharmacy.

THE CHAMBER'S board of directors has yet to decide upon a new executive-secretary for the organization.

Deadline for reservations for the chamber's annual spring dinner dance is 6 p.m. Thursday, March 3. Tickets for the event, to be held at Old Orchard country club March 5, may be purchased by contacting any member of the chamber's board.

YMCA's Annual Meeting Slated

A tribute to Thomas M. Blake, retiring chairman of the board of directors of Northwest Suburban YMCA, will be made tonight, Thursday, as part of the seventh annual meeting of the local 'Y,' scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Little Theater of Prospect high school. Ara Parseghian, head football coach at Northwestern university, will be the speaker for the event, and the Irving Park YMCA chorus will sing.

Also on the program is an election of new officers and directors of Northwest Suburban YMCA.

All tickets are free but by reservation only. A few tickets are still available and may be reserved by calling the 'Y' office at VA 4-4156.

Last Chance For Voters!

Today, March 3, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m. is the last opportunity Arlington Heights residents will have to register at the village hall for the April primary.

Registration books will reopen May 2-7 for the judicial election.

Teen Auto Thieves Tripped by Radar

Arlington Heights' radar hit the jackpot last week, and it wasn't an errant motorist that paid off.

The electronic apparatus was responsible for the apprehension of three young young Chicagoans involved

Thursday afternoon the radar's "eye," working just inside the village's eastern boundary, recorded a black 1958 Chevrolet speeding west on the Northwest hwy. It was doing 49 mph in a 40 mph zone.

Officer Norman Busse stepped into the road to signal the car to a halt. Instead of slowing, however, it picked up speed and bore down on the officer, swerving away from him when less than six feet remained between the hurdling car and Busse.

OFFICER HAROLD Dieball, Busse's partner, wheeled his squad car around and pursued the renegade auto to the intersection of U.S. 14 and Carlyle st. where it screeched to a halt beside a service station.

Three youths scrambled from the car and took off on foot in opposite directions through the Stonegate area.

All squad cars were alerted to the area and within a matter of minutes two of the boys were rounded up. The first was found hiding behind a barrel in the rear of Roto Mercury and the second boy was spotted crouched on the roof of the Stonegate tavern.

A short while later the third boy bolted from under a car in a used car lot and was caught in front of 411 Chatham.

TAKEN TO the station, the youths, two 15-year-olds and a 17-year-old, identified themselves as Thomas Joyce and Timothy and James Quinn, brothers.

Joyce told police a friend left a stolen car at his house in Chicago Thursday morning. He said he drove it over to the Quinns' house and the three of them went for a ride. Arriving in Des Plaines, the car broke down, and they abandoned it in a grocery parking lot.

They were getting ready to steal a sports car when a woman spotted them and called police. The boys ran five blocks until they spotted the Chevrolet with the keys in the switch. They hopped in and drove off, heading toward Arlington Heights, according to police records.

WHILE AT the station, the boys began arguing among themselves. "You should have hit that cop," said one, referring to Officer Busse.

"But they would have caught us anyhow," reasoned another.

"Yeah, but we could have rammed the squad car and taken a couple of 'em with us," said the third boy.

The boys were turned over to Des Plaines police.

Such Short Odds

Pupil Wins Stray Puppy

HE MAY HAVE BEEN A STRAY, but no pup could be luckier than this one as he eats dinner in warm home beside his new master, Thomas Hahn, 919 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

A mother's casual consent allowing her 11-year-old son to take part in the drawing for a stray puppy has resulted in the acquisition of a new dog in the James P. Hahn home, 919 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

"I didn't think there'd be such short odds," commented Mrs. Hahn when told that her son, Thomas, had won the dog.

Seems an obviously lost and thoroughly bewildered puppy had adopted the school children in St. James school play yard and the passage of time showed it had no intention of going elsewhere.

Since a school room was not an ideal place for a puppy, according to the teacher, she announced that a drawing would be held among those pupils who obtained parental approval to participate.

THINKING OF the 50 students in the class, Mrs. Hahn told Thomas he could take part in the drawing. She didn't know that the odds came tumbling down when only six of the children obtained parents' permission.

Taken to a vet, the pup was identified as an eight-week old "mostly cocker." (AF

Seek New Building Commissioner Here

A new building commissioner is being sought by Arlington Heights' village manager following a shakeup in the village hall last week.

Fred Hammer, building commissioner for nine years, was relieved of his job last week by Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

"The growth of the village demands a building commissioner who can administer the building, subdivision, and other codes better than is presently being done," said Hanson.

HE NOTED that the strict enforcement of such codes is essential to the village's orderly development.

The job of building commissioner carried a salary ranging from $6,000 to $7,560. The department consists of the commissioner, a building inspector, an electrical inspector, and a secretary.

The manager's office is accepting applications for the job. Electrical inspector and Deputy Commissioner Bruce Nelson is serving as temporary building commissioner. Hammer has been offered the job of village sign inspector. (AF

PTA Book Fair Set Saturday

On Saturday, March 5, South junior high school will open its doors to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to a "wonderful world of books."

The Book Fair, an annual project of the Arlington Heights PTA, will offer over 600 books for sale and will feature a display of more than 4,000 books. The fair will be held at Miner junior high on the north side of town on March 12.

Encouragement of good reading is the primary purpose of the fair. Over $1700 in profits, however, have been used to purchase books for school libraries in recent years.

MOTHERS WILL assist youngsters and parents in finding books of interest to them. Books for adults will be offered at market prices. Browsing is encouraged.

"Remember, the very best in children's books as selected by leading educators and librarians, and best sellers and reference books for adults will be on sale," note Mrs. Earl Stigger and Mrs. Charles Pipkin, chairmen of the fair. (AF

Family Service Must Be Salvaged!

With the dollar devaluated in some economists' eyes to about 25 cents worth of purchasing power, it seems strange that $1 per home is all that would be required to keep the Northwest Family Service in business.

Yet the social counseling agency serves a population area conservatively estimated at around 95,000 persons.

Perhaps only a small percentage of this total feel the effects of having such a confidential counseling service in existence, it could be argued. But this is spurious reasoning. Marital strife, juvenile delinquency, unwed mothers, deserted families are problems that roam the streets, touching on many lives in schools, places of business, and even make a less spectacular appearance in the backwash of increased taxes.

Most persons are willing to donate far more than a dollar to enterprises which represent tangible achievements to them, as witnessed by the solid community financial response in this area to the Northwest Community hospital. Yet they are reluctant to contribute toward something not readily apparent: bodily fractures are more understandable than emotional dislocations.

But anyone consulting the nation's health statistics become aware that mental problems are more multiple than all other illnesses combined. These facts, however publicized, just seem to make the complacent uncomfortable, although it has been demonstrated that if adequate expenditures are made in the first place it saves money over the long course.

Most of the problems which come to the attention of Family Service—and they are every conceivable type of family-oriented ills—are known only to ministers, physicians, and social workers. Perhaps this is why there has been an unwillingness on the part of the communities served to support the agency.

But the simple fact that Family Service's waiting list has climbed to 80 persons speaks in justification for its existence. And you can no more postpone treatment of emotional ills than physical ones; they do not mend of themselves.

Furthermore, if this area—straining under an unprecedented population boom—is to provide the many social services it will require for the future, including mental health clinics, responsible agencies for recalcitrant youngsters, and meet other problems which will come into raw focus with such rapid growth, it must first show an active support of the agency which is the avant-garde in providing such services.

One dollar from each family in Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, the area served by Northwest Family Service, would be sufficient to not only keep the agency in business but to allow it to function with much more efficiency than it now does.

Family Service does charge persons seeking assistance according to ability to pay; but even the most indigent family could afford to contribute a dollar to keep it in operation.

Talent Show Set By Park District

An evening that really fits into the family entertainment budget may be enjoyed Saturday at the Arlington high school Little Theater. Beginning at 8 p.m. the park district Talent Bank will present its first Variety Show. Admission is free.

The program will consist of a group of talented children and adults presenting a mixture of music and dancing. Both classical and popular numbers will be featured.

The show's highlight will be a brief concert by the mixed voices of the Town and Country Chorus. The group is composed of local people who sing for their own enjoyment. They have given several full length concerts in the past and are available to program chairmen of any organization through the park district Talent Bank.

Railway Fare Hearing Reset

The opening hearing on the Chicago and North Western railway's petition to hike suburban fares 7½ per cent, originally set for March 3, has been rescheduled to 10 a.m. March 10 by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The hearing will be held in the State of Illinois Building, 160 N. LaSalle st. Chicago, before Forrest B. McElroy, commission examiner and transportation rate expert.

McElroy reported the commission as of Thursday has received no communication on the railroad's proposed new tariff from suburbs served by the line's three divisions, nor from the city of Chicago.

TEN LETTERS already were on file from individual commuters, some of them favoring higher fares in return for the railroad's continuation of the current new equipment purchasing program and the resultant better service.

Principal witness for the railroad will be Larry S. Provo, controller and a vice president of the North Western. He will testify in the afternoon. In the morning he will be in attendance at the railroad's regular board of director's meeting.

Discontent Grows Among Republicans

by TOM McSHANE

Things have been too quiet for too long in Chicago's Republican suburbs.

And it's beginning to look like the lid finally is lifting in the heretofore complacent Grand Old Party camp.

What promises to be one of the most interesting hard-fought political primaries in many years is shaping up in the suburbs and across the state.

Major and minor disputes are arising within the GOP itself that are driving committeemen and precinct workers into streets they haven't bothered to check for years.

Registration campaigns are underway, and leaflets are rolling off the presses.

UP FOR grabs in the center ring of this particular one-party circus are nominations for the governship of Illinois and a seat in the United [illegible]

In that ring are two big [illegible] gubernatorial spot, and four more for the senatorial nomination.

In each case only one name will officially appear on the November ballot. These names will be picked by Republican voters April 12.

Governor William G. Stratton, with eight years in the state house in his hip pocket, is seeking re-election to a third term. His strongest opponent to date is Hayes Roberts on of suburban Flossmoor.

In the race for the senatorial nomination, Samuel W. Witwer of Riverside has been seeded number one by Stratton's state organization and the Cook county central committee.

It is here, in the inner workings of Cook county's Republican organizations, that the first signs of conflict entered the picture in December. Since that time a battle has been mounting for both places on the ballot.

Witwer's strongest opposition is expected to come from a vigorous, 34-year-old Lake Forest businessman, William H. Rentschler, from former State Treasurer Warren E. Wright of Park Ridge, and from John W. Lewis Jr. of Marshall.

In the central committee's December meeting at which endorsements were made for the senate seat, Witwer reportedly got the nod when Party Chairman Francis Connell forced a vote over a boycott by 17 of the suburbzn or "country towns" representatives.

THE BOYCOTT reportedly was called because of opposition to Stratton and his candidate.

Townships from the northwest suburban area that were represented at the meeting reportedly included Elk Grove, Wheeling, and Palatine, Of these, Wheeling and Elk Grove threw their support to Stratton and endorsed Witwer. Palatine voted against the chair. Barrington, Hanover, Maine, Northfield, and Schaumburg were among those that boycotted the meeting.

At a meeting a month later a majority of the central committee representatives met to endorse Stratton. No formal balloting of the representatives took place. The governor was endorsed by a voice vote.

Since the December and January meetings, the lines of the dispute have become more clearly defined.

Most of the committeemen and party leaders still seem to favor Stratton.

But some strong opposition, led by two north suburban members of the county board of commissioners, Northbrook's Charles F. Chaplin and Evanston's William N. Erickson, is forcing the Stratton workers to extremes unseen for many years in the suburban towns.

CHAPLIN said last week that he was backing Robertson because he wanted a "sparkling, clean candidate."

"The governor is carrying the Hodge and Downing scandals on his shoulders into a try for a third term," he said. "And even though the scandals were not Stratton's fault, they probably will hurt him.

"It's no fun to back a loser. I think Robertson will be a winner, so I am supporting him.

"No one actually is for Stratton," he said. "Some of the fellows have to go with him for patronage reasons, but most really are not for him.

"But," he continued, "this does not mean there is dissension in the party. This is what the primaries are for. There is nothing wrong with competition. And, if Stratton wins the nomination, I'll work for him to the best of my ability. I don't want the Chicago machine, the police and court scandals extended to the suburbs."

EVANSTON'S Erickson, who has had a long-standing feud with the governor, has said he doesn't think Stratton can win a third term. He is backing Robertson because he likes his platform.

Erickson, who also is the Republican committeeman for Evanston township, will swing a large number of votes with his endorsement.

In our immediate northwest suburban area, both the Wheeling and Elk Grove township regular organizations are going with Stratton.

Part of this support stems from political patronage committments by the organizations and their committeemen.

To the west, in Schaumburg, Palatine, Barrington, and Hanover townships, the feeling is more divided since patronage jobs in these areas are few and relatively unimportant.

STATE SENATOR John Graham of Barrington said this week that he was supporting Robertson because he did not think the governor could win a third term. He said he was disappointed with the cooperation between Stratton and the party's workers.

"But," he said, "he may be more unpopular with the workers than with the electorate. It's difficult to judge. Stratton has been a better governor than many people give him credit for. His patronage, along with his good record in the public schools, will help him."

Maine township's member of the county board, Commissioner Fred Fulle of Des Plaines, said last week that he personally favored the governor.

"He should be re-nominated on his record," Fule said. "He has done a good job with our schools and highways."

The Maine township regular organization will announce its formal endorsement tomorrow. Since it, too, is one of the larger suburban townships, this endorsement also will carry a lot of votes.

AS OF THIS week it appears that Stratton will carry the primary, but that he will have some stiff opposition in Chicago's suburbs. The amount of this opposition will depend to a large extent on the party workers in the individual townships.

Here the Lake Forest candidate, Rentschler, apparently has made large inroads in the regular organization's back yard. This race should be a rock 'em, sock 'em wing ding from the word "Go."

Rentschler, who started early and who has maintained a terrific pace, has stumped the state from top to bottom, and his campaigning apparently is bearing fruit.

Witwer, on the other hand, is starting late, undoubtedly leaning heavily on the governor's support. This perhaps is costing him votes.

Some of the township organizations have declared a hands-off policy on the senatorial race, and have refused to endorse anyone.

Others, like Hanover, which is backing Stratton, have climbed on the Rentschler for senator wagon.

Still others, like Elk Grove, are experiencing small uprisings in the ranks of the young Republicans who like their contemporary Rentschler over the older Witwer.

AND WRIGHT is not out by any means in the downstate area where he has pulled heavily in previous campaigns.

Senator Graham thinks the rac ew pihslaluewW-ihttpi—race will shape up with Witwer and Rentschler fighting it out in Cook county, and Wright and Lewis doing battle downstate.

"This is going to be a real tough thing to pick," he said. "But I'm with whoever's on that ticket the day after the primary."

Elk Grove's regular organization President Edward Hofert had much the same thing to say last week when he was asked about a reported rift in the party over the senate nomination.

"We have formally endorsed Witwer," he said, "but there is some strong feeling among the Young Republican organization for Rentschler. This does not mean that there is any fundamental difference in policy. We both have as our object getting the party together and working to get the vote out April 12."

John Bickley, speaking for the Elk Grove Young Republicans, said that the difference in opinion was not a big rift in the organization.

"It's just a small family fight," he characterized. "Some of us like Rentschler over Witwer, but I think we're together on Stratton."

CHAPLIN repeated the stand of those Cook county voters who definitely are for Rentschler.

"I like Sam Witwer," he said, "but I can't go for the governor's man. Wright is too old to build the seniority that is so important in Washington.

"Rentschler is young and has an excellent grasp of the issues. They all are green as far as official Washington is concerned, so you can't judge too much by past experience.' experience."

And so it shapes up. Both races should be good, the senatorial one especialy so.

The next month should be a gem for anyone who enjoys watching the last ditch antics of the sweating candidate who knows that every vote may be his last and that that vote may swing the whole works his way.

Young Newspaperwoman Is Suffragette for Journalism

(This is the third in a series of articles acquainting readers with the men and women who report and write the news for Paddock Publications' 13 suburban newspapers.)

By DICK HOFFMANN

"You should be wearing a horned headdress and carrying a spear," a contemporary cracked with a smile at Paddock Publications only full-time woman editor.

Natalie "Talie" Meyer's appearance does suggest the Nordic image of a Wagnerian heroine: blonde, blue eyes the color of chipped ice, an abundance in stature and figure.

Her manner is direct, straightforward; at times, it is almost bursque. But it telegraphs an immediate impression to the observer: she harbors a dedication bordering on zeal for her profession.

"She is aggressive, resourceful and conscientious," says a superior. These three qualities are near the top of the check list most publishers employ when considering applicants.

"I love it," she relays without reservation.

PADDOCK executives, however, reserved judgment when Miss Meyer was first hired. In a way, they were trampling on company tradition in employing her. She became the first woman on the editorial payroll to enjoy the same professional and salary privileges as male staffers.

"Listen," said the patriarch of the publishing firm when they were mulling the question of hiring her, "you know what they say about blondes."

But she has apparently won the confidence of the most skeptical. When she announced she would be married in May (to George E. McKenzie, 31, an Evanston insurance man), her managing editor, who had been witnessing a resettiing of the staff, shuddered.

She assuaged management fears, however, by confiding that she would continue working after marriage, and that she and her husband would reside in the northwest suburban area.

The editor of the Palatine Enterprise, oldest newspaper in the Paddock chain, Talie at 23 was hired right out of the Medill School of Journalism where she earned a B.S. and M.S. in the trade.

"As a woman, I feel that I'm under pressure to do a little better and work a little harder," she related. "It's hard to evaluate how village and school officials felt when they learned a woman would be the reporter in Palatine, but I think I'm now accepted as a fairly competent person by people in my town.

"I don't feel out of place doing so-called 'man's work'; I feel I'm accepted for what I do and for what I am," she elaborated.

AND, IN THIS respect, she takes good-naturedly the ribbings, reference to her physical endowments and sometimes graphic language of male staffers and Palatine businessmen with whom she dines every day at the Village Inn on Bothwell st.

"No, it's not a good source of news," she said of the restaurant, "but it's a place where I get to know the people better; it makes me feel closer to the town than if I ate in, say Arlington Heights or at home. Then I'd feel more like a foreigner."

There are also advantages to being a woman in editorial work, Talie says realistically. "I can sit down and talk to women over a pot of coffee. I think I can dig deeper in this sort of situation than a man might be able to do."

Talie also edits farm news for the 13 Paddock weeklies even though "I sneeze my head off when I get around hay." The anomaly of the selection was further exaggerated when it was learned that she is allergic to animals; close proximity to cows can bring on an asthma attack.

But she fought to retain the job when this responsibility was to be delegated to someone else. "It keeps me in practice writing heads (headlines)," she discloses simply.

If she has a particular interest, it is in the field of special education. "This comes from sharing an apartment with a bunch of school teachers who used to come home with stories about the gifted and handicapped pupils in their classes."

In this regard she took it upon herself to fashion a series of articles on perceptually handicapped children who have suffered accidents of birth, illness or mishaps in later life with resultant brain damage. Their problem, as Talie defined it: "(Their) ability to organize and interpret the world around (them) is reduced." Describing this little publicized handicap—which may strike the visual, oral or hearing senses—earned her accolades from readers, mostly from parents whose children were faced with the problem.

She also considers the "best thing I've ever written" a series on the Mount Prospect school system which was prepared for graduate school.

THE SERIES started in the paper but raised such a howl among an element of educators that it was discontinued, not because of pressure brought to bear, but because an attorney consulted advised the publishers that much of the material was gained in confidence since the teachers interviewed did not think they were speaking for publication.

"I think the series was discontinued before I ever made my point," Talie laments. But she adds that she is appreciative of the Paddock policy of "letting you correct your own mistakes."

The Milwaukee native's stories reflect a professionalism in approach and content. Her paragraphs are studies in brevity: tight, crisp, snappy. They are also resourceful, e.g., discovering a guinea pig which served not only as a lab experiment but companion to Palatine junior high pupils. Talie wrote the piece from the standpoint of the guinea pig, "Annabelle," in the first person.

RELUCTANT at first to use the reflex cameras other Paddock editors do on assignment, Talie now says she's reached the stage where she's "no longer afraid of a camera." This mental block she hurdled was traced to her father, Curtis, general manager of a Racine manufacturing firm, whose hobby is photography.

Talie's nickname stems from a family fetish. Alida, 21, a senior at Northwestern university (psychology major) is known in the Meyer family circle as "Bug." Then there's Carol "Carrie," 17 (formerly known as "Punkie"), and Laurie "Moonbeam," 14. Natalie is named for her mother.

A graduate of Milwaukee Downer seminary, a private girls' school, Talie lived with a French family during the summer of 1953 as an exchange student. The summer was memorable in that it was spent at the family's summer villa at Biarritz on the Atlantic coast "a stone's throw from Spain."

"You could see the Pyrenees in the distance," she recalled.

Able to converse and at one time write French ("I'm out of practice") Talie also exhibits skills which are drawn from 10 years of piano lessons; she was also a soloist in her Congregationalist church choir. Her high school glee club and chorus sang with the Chicago Symphony orchestra in 1955 in Chicago Orchestra Hall, with Bruno Walter conducting.

Talie takes pains to make her coverage of village board and school board meetings explanatory, seeing the journalist's duty to "give meaning to the affairs of a town and give it a sense of unity, showing the interrelationship."

IN THIS REGARD she has been schooled in such techniques in a practical sense, having attended sessions of everything from county housing bodies to gatherings which expressed the esoteric language of tax assessments while in school.

This ability to write with authority on a complexity of subjects she credits to her formal preparation for the profession. "I use my master's degree every day," she says.

Her family, she adds, is "very proud of my job. To them, it is the culmination of all the years of education."

TAKING STORY over telephone, Natalie "Talie" Meyer, 23, only woman editor on Paddock Publications' staff, cradles receiver to type information. She holds a master's degree in journalism from Northwestern University.

CAROLE ANN KRUEGER discusses her enlistment into the Women's Army corps with U. S. Army Recruiting sergeant Philip Naylor. Carole, a Palatine high school graduate, left this week for a basic training course at Ft. McClellan, Ala. After that she will work in the army clerical field for three years.

Boom in Electronic Aids Will Not 'Bump' Teachers

(Second in a series)

You can't give an apple to a teaching machine. Nor can a classroom television set lead a student discussion.

The persistent query, "Will electronic teaching aids make teachers obsolete?" was answered with a strong negative during group sessions at the 92nd annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Instead of eliminating the teacher, electronic aids will make his role more important, said the experts, who included educators, psychologists, research sepcialists and radio and television executives. Classroom science lessons on television bring forth from the students questions only a trained teacher can answer. A competent teacher uses educational TV programs as a device to encourage more student research and reading on the subjects shown. Without the teacher to fan and feed the kindled interest of the students, classroom television would be merely a "gimmick."

HOW SOON will the revolutionary new "teaching machines" enter the nation's classrooms in large numbers?

Will teaching machines make the school of the future a cold, impersonal learning factory, with unpleasant "1984" implications?

Teaching machines are now in production and within a few years, the experts agreed, will be in general use in classrooms. Some are in service today. Far from eliminating the need for the individual teacher, they enable him to add a new dimension to his teaching.

THE TEACHING machine enables the teacher to "call on" every student in the class 50 to 150 times in a 20 or 30 minute period. It scores automatically, so the student knows immediately whether his answer was right or wrong.

This immediate knowledge of success or failure is a sound psychological learning device, according to some of the psychologists who attended the group sessions. A correct response is followed by the heady feeling of success, which helps the student remember the answer he gave. A wrong answer is followed by an unpleasant sense of failure, which the mind rejects (along with the wrong answer). However, a teacher is needed to help the learner understand why the answering).

She's First To Enlist At Station

Carole Ann Krueger, a 1959 Palatine high school graduate is the first woman to enlist in the Woman's Army corps at a new enlistment station in Des Plaines to serve the Northwest suburbs.

A former employee of Dunton Court Dry Cleaners, Arlington Heights, Carol 19, of 425 S. Maple st., Palatine, has chosen to study the clerical field in the Army. She has left for a basic training stint at Ft. McClellan, Ala. From there she will go to school at another base. Her enlistment period is three years.

The recruiting station, opened in February, serves an area west to Barrington rd., north to Lake county, east through Wheeling, and south to Park Ridge. Area women between 18 and 34 may contact Sgt. Philip Naylor at the Post office building, Des Plaines, or at Vanderbilt 4-0821 for information on Women's army specialized programs.

Lohman Supporters Form Suburb Group

North suburban Cook county supporters of State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman for governor have launched a "comprehensive, hardhitting" campaign to combat the regular Democratic organization, it was announced by Sheldon Copeland, Lohman for Governor campaign manager for suburban Cook county.

Lohman for governor headquarters have been established in Niles township to direct activities in 11 north suburban townships, in the first "all out attempt made by a candidate to fight the machine in the suburbs," Copeland said.

AN ATTORNEY and veteran of suburban politics, Copeland said the north suburban headquarters, located at 5056 W. Touhy, Skokie, will direct operations in Niles, New Trier, Northfield, Maine, Elk Grove, Schaumberg, Hanover, Barrington, Evanston, Palatine, and Wheeling Townships.

Many prominent persons from these townships have agreed to act as members of local committees to work in Lohman's behalf, Copeland said, and their names will be announced at a later date.

The local committees also plan to publish weekly news letters to be sent to newspapers in the area, he said.

Mass north suburban meetings will be schedued soon at both Evanston and Niles township high schools, if residents of the area express interest, he said.

Coepland requested that all persons interested in assisting him in the campaign, contact him at the Lohman for Governor Central headquarters, 30 N. Dearborn (CE. 6-1181) or at north suburban headquarters (OR. 6-2050).

PLACING TREFOIL in her window to commemorate Girl Scout week March 6 through 13, is Mrs. Thomas Johnson Jr., 815 E. Olive, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Johnson is Girl Scout chairman of district 4 of Northwest Cook county.

Integration Comes to Suburbs

Deerfield Minister To Speak at Council

An outspoken pastor of a Deerfield church will speak in Arlington Heights Thursday, March 10 on "Integration Comes to the Suburbs."

Rev. Paul V. Berggren, pastor of Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, Deerfield, will address the Opportunity Council, Inc., at 8:30 p.m. in the community room of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan, 25 E. Campbell st.

The public is invited to attend, according to program chairman William L. Dulany.

Christians must be ready to accept and welcome Negro families when they move into Deerfield, Rev. Berggren believes. There is no question in his mind that Negroes will be coming, not only to Deerfield, but to the other suburbs that form an almost white ring around Chicago.

HE HAS SAID: In the framework of our democracy and the Christian culture there is only one position you can take."

That position—to accept racial integration normally and peacefully—has been one that Rev. Berggren has championed since the beginning of the storm over Progress Development corp.'s proposed housing development.

Plans for the integrated project hit a snag a few months ago when Deerfield voters approved a bond issue to condemn the developer's land and other sites for parks. The developer filed a damage suit against the Deerfield park board and sought a court injunction against the no-c injunction against the condemnation proceedings.

REV. BERGGREN

The resulting controversy has focused world-wide attention on Deerfield.

REV. BERGGREN will discuss the background of the Deerfield issue and the role of his church and himself in that debate. He has been among those exerting leadership for integration on a rational, Christian basis. His frank and controversial support has resulted in his becoming a newsworthy and often-quoted clergyman.

Some people advised him, when the Deerfield crisis broke out, "Pastor, don't get involved in this—just take care of your congregation."

But Rev. Berggren replies: "This is impossible for a Christian. We cannot look upon this as a local issue. What happens in Deerfield and how we solve it has tremendous world-wide significance. The church must be the conscience of the community and the nation and the world."

THE 42-YEAR-OLD minister came to the north suburb after serving pastorates in South Bend, Indiana and Stockton, Calif. He holds a B.A. degree f mBorhyneta B.A. degree from Bethany college and a B.D. degree from Augustana Theological seminary. He is a member of Deerfield-Northbrook Rotary club and the evangelism committee of the central conference of Augustana Lutheran church.

Rev. and Mrs. Berggren have two daughters.

"Integration in the suburbs is an important and timely issue," declared Dulaney. "Suburbanities interested and concerned with this problem and how it may affect our local communities are urged to attend the meeting and hear Rev. Berggren." (B8

Top Caliber Faculty For Catholic School

VERY REV. STAFFORD

(Third in a series)

Nearly 25 per cent of the teaching priests and brothers at St. Viator high school will have Ph. D. degrees. A majority of the others will have master degrees.

This exceptional number of advanced degrees among faculty members of a secondary school reflect the emphasis Viatorians place upon teaching skills and knowledge of subject matter.

The Catholic school for boys, scheduled to open in Arlington Heights in September, 1961, will be manned by The Clerics of St. Viator, a teaching order of priests and brothers founded in 1828.

THE VIATORIANS are pioneers in the use of modern equipment as instructional tools. Closed circuit television, electronically equipped language laboratories and developmental reading rooms are planned for the new high school.

Each classroom is being equipped so that it may function as a little theatre. A separate library will be provided for storage of films and equipment.

Administrator of the school will be the Very Reverend John W. Stafford, C. S. V., who also heads the Chicago province of Viatorians. Prior to assuming this position last June, Father Stafford served for a number of years as head of the psychology and psychiatry department at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

IN THE Chicago province, the Viatorians conduct several high schools and assist in the staffing of a number of colleges and universities. In the immediate Chicago area they teach at St. Gregory, St. Benedict, and St. Philip high schools.

Loyola, DePaul, Marquette, The Catholic University of America and Lewis College are among the institutions of higher learning where Viatorians teach.

The order was founded by Father Louis Querbes in Vourles, France. Today is a worldwide organization with schools in France, Spain, Canada, Japan, Formosa, and Africa. The Chicago province was founded in 1865.

The administrative offices for all of the Viatorian schools in the United States are located in Arlington Heights, adjacent to the site of the new high school. The Novitiate, called Our Lady of Arlington, is also at this location. It is here that young men joining the order receive their initial training.

In addition to the Viatorians, a number of lay teachers will be empoyed to fill certain positions, particularly those connected with the athletic program.

(Next week: extra-curricular activities)

VFW Style Show Set For March 16

Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary of Arlington Heights post 981, will present its annual fashion show and hat sale at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 16, in the VFW club house, Arlington Heights.

Fashions will be presented by Lorraine-Anne shop of Arlington Heights and Meadowdale Plaza. Narrator Mrs. Lorraine Sheahan will comment on the highlights of the styles worn this coming season.

Entertainment will be presented by several talented youngsters: Jack Nebel will open the program with an accordion solo of the ever-popular "Easter Parade"; Carol Swearingen will sing "Scarlet Ribbons"; and Peggy Rae Soderberg will give her dance interpretation to "Alice Blue Gown." Through the courtesy of Carter's Music shop of Mt. Prospect, entertainment throughout the show will feature the Conn organ.

FLOWERS and arrangements will be by Arlington Gardens of Arlington Heights. Refreshments will be served following the show.

Proceeds of the show will go toward the Cancer fund. Tickets, at $1, may be purchased from VFW members, at the door, or by calling Mrs. Stuart Sage, CLearbrook 3-8813. (A

Assessments Published In Papers

Paddock newspapers published in Wheeling and Palatine Townships will contain next week the personal property assessments of these two townships.

A list of Schaumburg assessments appears in this week's edition of the Hoffman Herald.

If the taxpayers did not list additional property, the figures, which are from the official schedule of the county assessor's office, cover only automobiles.

UNLESS the state legislature is called into special session, the tax bills will not be issued until around August.

The assessment figures being published are subject to an increase before taxes of approximately 40 per cent are assessed. The exact amount will be fixed by the state board of equalization.

Nike Units Aiding Local Communities

Time and again Nike units have aided their local communities in times of disaster and need, but seldom has the response to a call for help from the civilian neighbors of a unit been so quickly and effectively met than by the men of NIKE Site C-80, Arlington Heights.

Edward B. Stine of 111 S. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights, a World War II veteran, entered St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, in August 1959, to undergo a series of operations.

During the series of four operations, Stine required 40 pints of blood, but only 22 were donated by the local community to replace what had been used.

In desperation, Carl Luettschwager, Commander, VFW Post 981 in Arlington Heights, called Headquarters, 45th Artillery Brigade (AD), on Friday, Feb. 12, and requested the donation of the additional 18 pints of blood.

By noon Friday, four volunteer blood donors were at the hospital giving blood, and arrangements had been made to transport the remaining 14 volunteers to the hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 16.

In addition, Mrs. Frederick W. Ellery, wife of Brigadier General Ellery, Commanding General, 45th Artillery Brigade (AD); Mrs. Herbert L. Lossen, wife of Lt. Colonel Lossen, Commanding Officer, 6th Missile Battalion, 3d Artillery; Mrs. Victor J. Bechtel, Brigade S-2 Officer, and Mrs. Samuel T. Sullivan, wife of Captain Sullivan, Assistant Brigade S-4 Officer, are gathering clothing and money to provide for Mrs. Stine and the two children of the family.

THE MEN who contributed blood are: From Hq Btry, 45th Arty Brig (AD), Pfc Michael Cantwell, Pfc Thomas Baird, Sp4 Joyce Plaisted, and Sp4 Ernest Ehrke; from Battery A, 6th Msl Bn, 3d Arty, Sp4 Jerry Jenkins, Spr4 Robert Rynning, Pfc Glenn Wadsworth, Pfc David Dorian, Sp5 William Ries, Pfc Albert Hofeld, Pvt Allen Taylor, Pfc Juan Quintanilla, Sp4 Norman Loftin, Pfc Carl Wojohn, Pvt Gordon Smith, Pvt Steve Sharp, Pvt Charles Logan, and Pfc Leroy McKinney. Virginia Terrace News

It has been a long seige for Richard, 6, son of Jeanne and Marvin Hayes, 1425 N. Chicago. It all began last July, when he broke his arm. After many months, his arm not having healed properly, Richard had to enter Sherman hospital, Elgin, where he spent 11 days having the arm reset and a pin inserted to expedite proper healing. He returned home last Sunday.

A birthday party was held last Saturday afternoon for Barbara, daughter of Jeanne and Arthur Sadowski, 1119 N. Wilke, in celebration of her sixth birthday. She received assistance in blowing out the candles from her sisters, Joyce and Christine, brother, Paul, as well as Gail and David McAllister, Roxanne Petrucci and Mary Kay Roser. The children played games, each received a favor and the afternoon was concluded with the serving of birthday cake and ice cream.

Sandy and David Yates, 1522 Oakton, enjoyed a pleasant evening out last Friday, first having dinner at Jim Saine's Steak house in Chicago, followed by a viewing of "Ben-Hur" at the Michael Todd theatre.

Saturday afternoon their daughter, Lisa, was the celebrant at a party held in honor of her fourth birthday, with brother, David, and playmates Patricia and Colleen Coleman, Nancy Jo and Barbara Geer, Ellen Frisbie, Barbara Brown, and cousins, Becky, Kathy and Mary Yates, all on hand to wish her many happy returns of the day. They enjoyed a general playtime, played games, received favors and indulged in ample portions of birthday cake and ice cream. Also invited, but not present, was Lisa's friend, Terry Trummer.

ALTHOUGH chicken pox and its complications permeates the household of Mary Louise and Dieter Burkhardt, 1504 Clarendon, the fourth birthday celebration of their son, Chris, was finally held quietly this past weekend, when his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mae Mammoser, and aunt, Miss Dorothy Mammoser, both of Chicago, were able to come on a visit. A family dinner party, complete with birthday cake and ice cream, was held Saturday night, and singing happy birthday along with them were his sisters, Mary Jo and Suzanne, and brother, Peter.

Two celebrations were held in honor of the eighth birthday of Kyle, son of Barbara and Ralph Wiederhold, 1322 N. Chicago. A week ago Sunday the family, which includes brothers, Kim, Kevin, Robert and Dwight, enjoyed a dinner party at the home of Kyle's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Park Ridge.

Saturday afternoon, Walt Disney characters were prevalent in decorations throughout the Wiederhold home, as his brothers, Kevin, Robert and Dwight, along with Michael Micek, Johnny Garland, Tommy Green, Michael Griffith, Scott Nielsen and Tommy Ruprecht wished him many happy returns of the day. The boys played games, ate their share of the birthday cake and ice cream, with the afternoon's fun being concluded when each guest was presented with a bag of marbles, a sure sign that spring is on the way.

Margaret and Frank Chupich, 1316 Yale, entertained guests at a pre-dance cocktail party last Saturday night. Included were Jo and Larry Lampasona, Charlene and Leslie Bang, Dolores and John Eiler, Wilma and Al Seyler and Elaine and Roy Kamin. The dance was the Newcomer's club "Mardi Gras" held at Villa Venice. One highlight enjoyed by all was the fabulous parade.

A FAMILY DINNER party was held Sunday for Steve, son of Shirlee and Frank Pircher, 1330 N. Illinois, in celebration of his fourth birthday, at the home of his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Lay, Chicago.

February 29 an afternoon party was held for the leap year celebrant, and along with his brothers, Frank and Mike, Michael Bade, Johnny Fairfield, Danny Reed, Dianne Bang, Kenny and Kathy Koser and Danny Healy wished Steve a happy birthday. A merry time was had among the circus atmosphere, with games, prizes, favors, birthday cake and ice cream being the order of the day. On hand to help Shirlee were Steve's grandmothers, Mrs. Rose Lay and Mrs. Connie Chichester, both of Chicago.

A quiet family dinner party was held Tuesday evening at the home of Virginia and Dean Arnold, 1410 N. Race, in celebration of the 13th birthday of their son, Jimmy. Also present, of course, was his brother, John.

Michael, son of Barbara and Albert Bade, 1326 N. Illinois, will long remember his fourth birthday, the cause of a triple celebration. It began last Wednesday evening, when birthday cake and ice cream were served to his sister, Vicki, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bade, Des Plaines, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, and cousin, Lori, of Lake Zurich and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Bade, and cousins, Wendy and Lisa, Mundelein, along with family friend, Mrs. Helen Ruckstaetper.

Friday afternoon Michael's guests, among whom were his sister, Danny Reed, Johnny Fairfield and Steve Pircher, enjoyed birthday cup-cakes, ice cream, after which they played games.

ON HIS NATAL day, February 27, although his maternal grandparents were unable to be present, Barbara and Al entertained aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shalda, and cousins, Jenny and Julie, Rockford, and aunt, Mrs. Beverly Armentrout, Barrington, and a friend of the family. Once again, birthday cake and ice cream were in evidence.

Woody Woodpecker and his pals made their appearance in the form of decorations at the home of Magdalen and Martin Corley, 1326 N. Chicago, for the birthday party held in honor of their son, Kevin, last Friday afternoon. Watching him huff and puff at the five candles on his cake were his sister, Robin, Johnny Formhals, Ricky Kirstein, Danny Healy, Guy Eisenhuth, Jimmy Kohler, Kevin Wiederhold and Bobby Husted.

The monthly birthday club celebration was held Friday evening at the home of Barbara Montgomery, 1309 N. Illinois, for birthday celebrant, Helen Marineau. Although Mary Kale was unable to be present, Shirlee Pircher, Adelaide Fairfield, LaRue Reed, Charlene Bang, Jo Lampasona, Doris Koser, Barbara Bade and Evelyn Schmidt were on hand to toast Helen into another good year. The girls caught up on the latest neighborhood news, played several games and concluded the get-together by enjoying dessert and coffee.

Saturday night a dinner party was held for Mark, son of Laraine and Ronald Francis, 1227 N. Wilke, in honor of his seventh birthday. Highlight for him was the birthday cake and ice cream, and his brothers, Kenneth and Kevin, grandparents, Frank Alby and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Francis, Skokie, great grandmother, Mrs. Clare Whildin, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Meier, and cousins, Mary Joan and Karen, La Grange, couldn't help but agree.

Monday afternoon his brothers, along with Barbara and Paul Sadowski and Billy and Candy Cardinell, again wished him many happy returns of the day. Mark and his guests played games, opened their own gift favors and indulged in birthday cake and ice cream.

Joan Larson, 1245 N. Illinois, and her sons, Tommy and Doug, returned last Thursday after spending two weeks at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where she and the boys were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Pendleton. Joan commented on what a difference there was between entraining there, which took 33 hours, and jet-flying home, which took approximately two hours. Aside from having to leave husband and father, Richard, home to tend the fireside, Joan had to admit the vacation, which meant hours of being at the beach, acquiring a sun tan, and general sightseeing, was a real joy, particularly with the weather as such here at home.

Another Terrace couple to enjoy the "Mardi Gras" festivities of the Newcomer's club dinner dance at Villa Venice last Saturday night were Bess and Richard Reese, 1301 N. Illinois. The Reeses entertained at a cocktail party beforehand, and among their guests were Barbara and Eugene Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knight and Mrs. Henry Witz, the latter three guests of Barrington. All agreed it was a fun-filled evening, with one of the highlights being the crowning of the "Mardi Gras King and Queen." (A

Did 'ja take your winter vacation already — I'll bet you didn't take along a good camera or enough film. For those of you who are yet to take your vacation, now is the time to check on that old camera, and, if it is not functioning properly, get a new one.

Many times I know that you spoil a wonderful vacation by not having the proper camera equipment or the failure of the camera you took on your vacation. Think of the dollars you spend for that vacation; then not to have pictures of it is a crime. Man, what a thrill it gives you to relive those wonderful moments by just reviewing the pictures you took. At Harris Pharmacy we have some very fine cameras and all the proper film you will need. Give some thought to your vacation now, and be sure and check your camera. Naturally, when you leave for your vacation, you might as well have plenty of film.

Drop into Harris Pharmacy and look over our stock. You'll find what you need to capture those "golden moments" of your vacation. Don't let that old expression come true, "Man, what you see when you don't have a camera!"

Ulcers Can Be Predicted Says Noted Psychiatrist

A noted research psychiatrist said last week that ulcers can be predicted, by a combination of blood studies and psychiatric interviews.

Speaking at Forest hospital, Des Plaines, Dr. E. Arthur Mirsky told how development of ulcers depends on three key factors. Two of these factors, he said, can be found in ulcer-prone people long before the ulcers develop. The third factor, he added, depends on the person's outer circumstances.

DR. MIRSKY, who is professor and chairman of the department of clinical sciences at the University of Pittsburgh school of medicine, said that ulcer types have a high concentration of pepsinogen, one of the digestive juices, in their blood streams. Their psychiatric interviews reveal a specific personality type, one dependent on others for psychological support and satisfactions.

However, he added, the danger of developing the ulcer becomes great only when these people are exposed to circumstances that build up anxieties or make it difficult to gratify psychological needs.

Dr. Mirksy also described many other experimental approaches which are increasing our understanding of the mind and human behavior. These include animal studies, studies of subliminal perception, isolation studies and use of some of the newer drugs.

IN THE isolation studies, human volunteers developed delusions and hallucinations, they soon found themselves unable to think about specific problems and began to act much like patients with split personalities.

One animal study described by Dr. Mirsky produced strong evidence that unconscious motives actually exist. In this study a monkey was first taught a fear reaction, and then taught to "forget" it. A series of tests then indicated that the fear reaction had been extinguished. However, when allowed to watch a second monkey react to the fear stimulus, the animal again responded with the supposedly forgotten reaction, and showed symptoms of extreme anxiety.

Dr. Jules P. Masserman, professor of neurology and psychiatry at Northwestern medical school, was formal discussant of Dr. Mirsky's talk. (B8

Sweet Adelines Set Show Date

The Show committee of Mt. Prospect chapter of Sweet Adelines met last Thursday evening in the Palatine home of Mrs. Douglas Francisco, vice president, to make plans for the group's first annual barbershop harmony show. The committee decided upon June 4 as the date of the show, to be held in Arlington high school. Costumes were chosen for the chorus, and script and music were selected.

Entitled "Showcase 60," the show will feature as star guest quartet the "Yankee Misses," 1959-60 International Sweet Adelines champions from Detroit, Mich. Other performers will be the "Double Daters" mixed quartet from Chicago and "Versatones" men's quartet from Skokie.

Members of the Mt. Prospect chapter of Sweet Adelines come from the neighboring northwest communities and are directed by Miss Phyllis Haeger. They practice each Tuesday evening in South church of Mt. Prospect.

The Real and Only Sanctuary

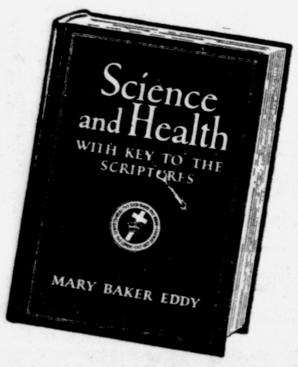
Today men everywhere are being forced to see that peace must be found within themselves, in a true understanding of God, before it can appear for the outside world.

This understanding is the "secret place" promised in the 91st Psalm, where "there shall no evil befall thee."



Today, through thoughtful study of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, a thankful, growing multitude have learned how to find this secret place of peace within, and how to abide there.

This book, the Christian Science textbook, after hundreds of editions, is now read daily more than perhaps any book ever published except the Bible. It has restored Christian healing to the modern world, showing humanity how to find help, health, and freedom.

Science and Health may be read, borrowed, or purchased at any Christian Science Reading Room, or send $3 and a copy will be mailed postpaid.

World Day of Prayer Speaker Will be Dr. Hughes B. Morris

Dr. Hughes B. Morris, minister of the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights, will be speaker at The World Day of Prayer services to be held in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights at 1:30 p.m. Friday, March 4. Mrs. Elmer Zilen, chairman of The World Day of Prayer committee of the host church, has announced that there will be nursery care available for the one-hour service, and that parking facilities will be provided at the church, 302 N. Dunton.

This is the 74th observance of The World Day of Prayer, which began in 1887. Churches participating in the service represent congregations in Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Wheeling, Cumberland, Prospect Heights, Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows.

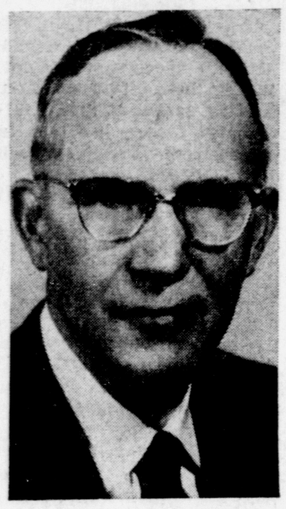
MRS. ALFRED G. Benedix, president of the Women's association of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, will introduce the program. Program leaders are Mrs. Clarence D. Craig, First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Albert E. Stahnke, South Church Community Baptist church, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. George Moudry, St. John's United Church of Christ, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Herman L. Berthold Jr., First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Earl D. Main, St. Mark United Church of Christ, Wheeling.



Dr. HUGHES B. MORRIS

Mrs. Charles Ardinger, Christian Church of Arlington Heights, will read the scripture. Pastoral assistant will be Rev. George W. Kincheloe of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, and the organist will be Mrs. Earle S. Auge, also of the host church.

Soloists for the service are Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Raymond Soderstrom of Northwest Covenant church of Mt. Prospect, and Mrs. Merl B. Peek of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights. Ushers will be Mrs. Thomas Storey, St. Mark United Church of Christ in Wheeling; Mrs. D. G. Jensen, Community Presbyterian Church of Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Olaf Stenbarg, Wheeling Presbyterian church; and Mrs. W. C. Borman Jr., Prospect Heights Community church. Mrs. W. Lorne Box of the host church is in charge of the program.

ON THE FIRST Friday in Lent, thousands of Christians around the world will be united in a service of prayer and thanksgiving in 60 languages and 1000 dialects. Services begin on the Tonga Islands, west of the international date line, where Queen Salote leads her subjects in prayer. Throughout the day observances are held in 145 countries on six continents, ending with the setting sun on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

Each year the service comes from a different country, this year's service being provided by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada. Purpose of the day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, to pray for all the peoples of the world and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. In the United States, the day is sponsored by the general department of United Church Women of the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

THE NUMBER of participating churches in this area has grown so rapidly in the past few years that it was decided at the committee meeting February 8 to divide the area into two units for future programming of The World Day of Prayer services, the Arlington Heights area to include churches in Elk Grove Village and Rolling Meadows, and the Mt. Prospect area to include churches in Wheeling, Prospect Heights and Cumberland. (B8

Realtors to Hear Attorney

Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors will hear Joseph D. Teitelbaum at the monthly dinner meeting Thursday, March 10, at 7 p.m. at the Sportsman Country club, 3535 Dundee rd., Northbrook.

Teitelbaum, noted real estate attorney, will talk on salesman relations and responsibility to clients and on a better understanding of contracts, conveyances and legal forms.

Teitelbaum, who has been practicing law in Chicago since 1930, is a member of the Real Property committee of the Illinois State Bar association and the Chicago Bar association. (B8

TV Telecast On Today for Handicapped

The Tri-County Educational Television council will present the sixth in a series of programs on the education of handicapped children on Channel 11 March 3 at 9:30 p.m.

Built on the philosophy that communication is the most important aspect in reaching the handicapped child, this telecast will demonstrate many instruments, both commercial and teacher-made.

EACH INSTRUMENT to be demonstrated is designed specifically to help the handicapped youngster to be able to communicate accurately and intelligently with others.

Assistant Cook County Superintendent of Schools Henry F. Hoppe will be host during the telecast.

Also cooperating in the presentation will be Janet Rusk, a Braille teacher; Barbara Nickoley, teacher of deaf and hard of hearing; and Marjorie Kempster, a speech therapist.

Prominent Farm Leader Is Dead

Henry Gerken of 5435 Giddings st., Chicago, secretary of the Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' association, died February 24, at the age of 85 years.

He was born on a vegetable farm in Niles, Ill. and spent all his life in the Jefferson Park vicinity.

In his earlier years, he had been a coal dealer and operated a concrete construction business. He later held a position in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of Cook County until his retirement several years ago.

The idea of forming an organization to protect farmers from unfair taxes grew among the growers of the area during the late 1800's. Gerken, seeing the need for such an organization, was instrumental in this movement and the Cook County Truck Gardeners' and Farmers' association became a reality in 1901.

GERKEN was elected secretary of this organization in January, 1902, and served in that capacity until 1913. In as much as he was not farming at that time, he suggested that an active grower be secretary.

George Steil of Maine township was then elected secretary and Gerken held the position of associate secretary from then until the death of Steil in 1939, when he again assumed the office of secretary and held the office until his death.

GERKEN TOOK an active part in organizing the Cook County Farmers' Mutual Insurance co. and served as a member of the first board of directors and member of the executive committee and remained in that capacity until his death.

Funeral services were held February 27 at the Masonic hall at 5418 Gale st., Chicago. Interment was at Union Ridge cemetery. He is survived by one son, George; two grandchildren and two brothers, Fred and Otto, both of Arlington Heights (BS

Money Display Is 'Drawing Crowds'

The vast money display at Citizens Bank in Park Ridge, which has been expanded and held over for another week, is "fascinating — the only one of its kind in the world," numismatic expert Leonard W. Stark said this week.

"Without a doubt, this is one of the most fascinating collections of money I have ever seen," Stark said during a tour of the "gallery" which has been set up in the bank at Northwest hwy. and Touhy.

Ninety-six new pieces were added to the collection this week before Stark's tour. Because the showing will terminate shortly, the bank will be open every evening next week from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. to accommodate as many visitors as possible.

NO BANKING business, however, will be conducted during these evening hours except on Friday, March 11.

Saturday morning, March 12, will be the last possible opportunity to see the display.

Stark, who is a member of the American Numismatic association, the Confederate Research Society, the Illinois Historical Society, and co-author of several standard handbooks on currencies, was especially struck by a Greek stater, the first silver coin ever made, from the seventh century, B.C.

Also fascinating, he said, is the first coin ever issued by a royal government, the Siglos of Lydia struck in the sixth century, B. C.

OTHER interesting American coins among the many on display include the Massachusetts Pine Tree Shilling of 1652, three real wooden nickels used in Washington state in 1932, and the first United States coin ever issued, the fugio cent which bears the curious inscription, "Mind Your Business."

In addition to minted money — including the famous shekel of Tyre, known as the "Judas Coin," and the "Widow's Nite" of Judea — the bank's showing includes a curious collection of articles used instead of money in primitive areas: wampum of American Indians, African ring money, and the Liberian "iron penny," a long thin piece of iron used by the Gizi tribe as fair exchange for a wife.

Most of the items in the collection were loaned by National Bank of Chicago and the Chase Manhatten Bank in New York. (B8

Spiritual Light Is Important One

LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Throughout history, light has been an essential part of man's existence. As long as the sun burns and gives both light and heat, we live; if it should stop, all earthly life would perish.

We go to bed at night turning out the light without thinking. We arise in the morning, and automatically switch it on again. We know the sun comes up each day in the east, makes its appointed journey across the sky, and sinks into the west, to plunge the world in darkness except for the pale light of the moon. We accept this great blessing of light as a matter of course, without giving thanks, often without a thought of its Creator.

SO IMPORTANT is light, that men have sought all of their known history to produce and to improve it. Artificial light makes it possible for millions of machines and workers to produce the wealth of manufactured products which the world consumes today. It has made it possible for men to gain greater knowledge within a shorter span of their life and thus increase immeasurably the wealth of knowledge which the world needs. It has made it possible for surgeons to perform emergencies at night, and to see their work more clearly as they operate during the day to save precious lives.

The fires of the cave man, the torch, the lamp burning animal fat, the candle, the kerosene lantern, gas lights, aceytelyne, electricity, produced by billions of hours of experiment by millions of men over thousands of years, all attest to the importance of light.

LIGHT HAS come to have other meanings as well. It has come to mean understanding, as when we say "Now I see the light;" It means to clarify, as when we say, "That throws some light on the subject." Wherever it is used, it gives to man joy, convenience, understanding and life; yet all too few of us think much about it. We flip a switch, and there it is. The sun rises, and we have light.

There is another light, a spiritual one. Jesus says: "The light of the body is the eye: therefore, if thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light; but if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness."

(Matt 6:22)

Forget It!

Many of the things we are struggling to do would be much obliged to us if we took our minds off them.

—Henry S. Haskins.

'You Can Count On Her'

Youth and Religion

This Sunday, Girl Scouts are opening Girl Scout week by attending religious services in the church or synagogue of their choice. Girl Scout week, March 6-12 this year, always begins with religious observances because every Girl Scout has made a promise. It reads: "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country."

International

To commemorate the 100th birthday of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouts in the U. S. and Girl Scout International Year, Mrs. Ray Blakeman has organized a special committee consisting of one girl scout from each troop to meet periodically throughout the year. Mrs. Blakeman is Prospect Heights Juliette Low representative and leader of troop 258. She will study and discuss with her committee the activities of international scouting. The representatives, in turn, will relate the information to their individual troops.

THE FIRST meeting was held last Friday. Raising funds for the Juliette Low Birthday fund was discussed. It was also agreed that each troop contribute $1 to CARE for which a complete school kit can be purchased to enable one child to attend the mission school in Petna, India.

The council leader's bulletin cover contest, which is open to all Girl Scouts, was discussed. The top three entries will be chosen by each district's committee and forwarded to council's headquarters for the final judging.

Fashion Show

The American Girl magazine invites Intermediates and Senior Girl Scout troops to a special good grooming and fashion show at Wiebolt's, Harlem and Irving, Friday, March 11, from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. Highlighting the grooming portion of the show will be a visual demonstration on "shaping up" faces and figures for spring, conducted by an American Girl editor. Featured fashions will include sweaters, separates and Easter dresses. There will be prizes and surprises too.

'TLC' Is Medicine For Sick People

Doctors are among the first to say that the best medicine for sick people, both in and out of the hospital, is TLC or "tender, loving care."

Hospital administrators are getting more and more interested in TLC as a means to quick recovery.

This "special something" which assures the success of miracle drugs and surgery has been defined as the ability to care about the patient as a person, not simply as a room number or a shell which contains diseased organs. A great deal of thought is given to surrounding the patient in the hospital with people who are really interested in what the patient thinks, how he really feels, and what is best for him.

NORMALLY, a large, busy hospital is not the place where you would expect special attention, but almost everyone in health work agrees that this attention has a great deal to do with the recovery of the patient.

Lutheran General hospital, which recently opened its doors in Park Ridge, has instituted an unusual program to meet this need. The hospital has a department of pastoral care which keeps clergymen on duty around the clock to provide spiritual counseling and just plain neighborliness to those who are in the hospital and those just coming in.

This department not only helps the sick but it counsels with nurses, doctors, technicians and all hospital personnel as to what is best for the peace of mind of the patient. Even the distraught expectant father gets a smile and a word of greeting as he paces back and forth in the waiting room.

THE DEPARTMENT assumes it is very important that patients have contact with their own pastor or spiritual adviser. In a matter of minutes after a patient is admitted for surgery or illness, the pastor, priest or rabbi indicated on the patient's admittance card is notified by telephone. The attending pastor thereafter keeps a record of the condition of the sick person and makes it available to visiting clergymen.

Doctors, nurses, orderlies and other personnel find it easy to take their cue from the pastor on duty—that peace of mind is an essential step to a healthier body. (B8

Park District Proposes Program for Golden Age

By JOEL CARTER

Golden Agers—senior citizens over 60—are a group with a big recreation need. They have more leisure time than anyone, including children, and need worthwhile activity during the idle hours. Most Golden Agers are accustomed to a busy, useful life and when retirement or ill health comes along they find that time hangs heavy.

Many public recreation departments have an extensive program for Golden Agers and the Arlington Heights park district is willing to sponsor activities if there is a demand here. We wonder about the local demand because Arlington Heights is mostly a young community and we don't have the normal percentage of elderly residents.

Each reader who would like to join a Golden Age program similar to the two described in the following paragraphs is invited to let us know. Phone the park district office at CL 3-0620 or clip the coupon below and mail it to us. If you have a relative or friend who is over 60 and who might appreciate an invitation to a Golden Age Club please send us his (or her) name.

IN DES PLAINES the park district sponsors a Golden Age Club with over 100 members. It meets every month. They have an entertaining program followed by a social hour with coffee and cake. Each member has a name badge which helps everyone get acquainted. Just meeting and talking to others with similar interests is a big part of the activity.

The home bureau provides transportation to the evening meetings for those who need a ride and the park district sends out a newsletter invitation before each meeting. The group has occasional card parties and an annual potluck supper.

In Aurora the city playground and recreation department sponsors the Friendly Center Club with over 900 members. They have weekly meetings in the afternoon with a speaker, a free educational movie, or other entertainment and refreshments. Once a month the club meeting is a potluck supper. In addition to the regular meetings, the Friendly Center Club has shuffleboard every afternoon, bus trips, craft periods, singing sessions, a lending library, dance classes, and a weekly card party. Once a month they have a birthday party for every member born during the month.

THE AURORA club also has service projects for the community. A recent one was stuffing envelopes for the United Fund drive.

The overall purpose of a Golden Age club is to give senior citizens something useful to do, help them meet others with similar interests, and sponsor recreation that appeals to mature tastes. We can have one in Arlington Heights if enough people want it. Let us know!

To: Arlington Heights Park District
500 E. Miner Street

I would enjoy a Golden Age program or I think the person listed would appreciate an invitation to join a Golden Age program.

Stratton, Adamowski Speak at GOP Rally

Governor William G. Stratton and State's Attorney Benjamin J. Adamowski will head the list of candidates at the Republican Rally to be held in Arlington Heights, March 18, Edward C. Hofert, president of the Regular Republican organization of Elk Grove township announced Friday.

The rally will be held at the VFW hall, 811 N. Yale (at Northwest highway), Arlington Heights at 8 p.m.

OTHERS scheduled to be at the rally, Hofert announced, are State Representatives John W. Carroll, Park Ridge, and Arthur E. Simmons, Skokie, and State Senator Arthur J. Bidwell, River Forest.

The rally is being sponsored jointly by the Republican organizations of Wheeling and Elk Grove townships. All residents of both townships are invited.

Other business handled at the meeting included:

—Completion of plans to help get voters registered on March 1, 2 and 3 in the Mt. Prospect village hall and the home of the Elk Grove village clerk.

—Scheduling of a meeting of Secretary Robert Doucette, and William Fenton, chairman of the organization committee to study further plans for the organization. A report is to be given at the next meeting.

—Betty Hammerl, chairman of the social committee discussed tentative plans for a social event for the organization. Suggested were a dinner dance and a family picnic. The committee will study the subject and make a report at the next meeting.

—Organizational work at the precinct level was discussed and material was distributed to precinct captains for use in the registration drive and the primary campaign.

President Hofert announced that the next meeting of the organization will be held Wednesday, March 30, 8 p.m. at Gunnell's restaurant at Rand, Foundry and Elmhurst roads. (B8 tee on Alcoholism.

GOAL OF the campaign this year is $100,000 according to Moredock, assistant manager, labor relations, International Harvester co.

"For the continuation and expansion of our program, we need adequate funds," the chairman stated. "With proper financial support and cooperation of all the forces in the community, we can mount an integrated attack on alcoholism during 1960."

Art Center Meeting Is Set Tonight

Arlington Art center has scheduled its regular monthly business meeting for tonight, March 3, at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Park auditorium.

William Wimmer, chairman, will conduct the meeting, which includes the ratification of the group's constitution.

Ten Cub Scouts Slated To Receive Rank Awards

Ten Cub Scouts of Pack 167, Ridge school, will receive rank awards and two boys will be inducted as Bobcats at pack meeting, Ridge school, tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m.

Awards of Lion badges are to be received by the five boys who will be promoted to the Webelo Den. They are: Paul Clore, Ted Egli, Bill Elsner, Bob Pierce, and Richard Whitfield. Wolf badges will be awarded to Dave Patlovitch, Jeff Spindler, Jim Starkey, Ken Terry and Don Vogel. Those who will be inducted as Bobcats are John Holloway and George Predick.

"ML HOME STATE" will be the theme of the pack meeting, the subject around which den meetings have been built during the last month. In addition to exhibits of handwork prepared by the Cubs about their state, movies will be shown. Den two will post the colors.

This pack meeting will be the first since the installation of new committee members at the Blue and Gold Banquet in February. Committee members for 1960 are: Cubmaster, Ted Patlovitch; Assistant cubmaster, Robert Cummings; Chairman, Herbert Cornelius; Secretary-treasurer, George Thieman; Advancement, Richard Ekstrand; Parent contact representative, Peter Spindler; activities representative, James Starkey; Neighborhood commissioner, C. Wade Gustason.

Den father for the Webelos is Lloyd Smeltzer. Den mothers will be: Den 2, Mrs. Chares T. Egli; Den 4, Mrs. Robert Clore; Den 8, Mrs. George Thieman, and Den 15, Mrs. Peter Spindler.

Participation of Pack 167 in the Scoutarama to be held at O'Hare Field, April 22 and 23, has been announced by the committee. The Scoutarama is held each year to acquaint the public with the aims and activities of Scouting and include all Scouting activities and members of the Northwest Suburban Council area. In addition to preparing and manning an exhibit, Cub Scouts will conduct a door-to-door sale of tickets for the Scoutarama. (A

Two Schools Slate Musical Programs

Two schools cslate 2-30 Italic

Two Arlington Heights schools, Miner Junior high and the South Junior high, have scheduled musical programs for today, March 3.

Miner will present its program of vocal and instrumental music at 2 p.m. South's band concert is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Carol Frieburg, Linda Baker, Donald Miller, Stephen Le Van, and Dennis Grow will be soloists in the Miner program.

Also included in the program will be numbers by the band, orchestra, Mineraires, and Minerettes.

MRS. EARLE Peterson directs the vocal ensembles and Melvin Kasen directs the band and orchestra.

The South Junior high band, which consists of 90 members, will play 17 selections.

Included in the numbers are a French horn solo by Rita Sauve, B flat clarinet solos by Karen Alkire and Roberta Schuldt, a bass clarinet solo by Rae Landmeier, flute solo by Gred Grote, and a saxophone solo by Diane Doten.

Harold Brunt directs the South Junior high band.

Set Refugee Week In Arlington Hts.

Largely through the efforts of the Rev. Truman Stehr, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church in Arlington Heights, steps are being taken to set aside the period April 18-24 for the observance of World Refugee Week in Arlington Heights.

A proclamation signed by President Eisenhower May 19 1959, set aside the period from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, as World Refugee Year.

A meeting has been set for March 10 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Bruce Graham, 611 Mayfair rd., for individuals interested in participating in the project.

At a previous meeting, February 25, Rev. Stehr met with 11 persons representing religious and civic groups from the Arlington Heights area to form plans for the project.

THE DATES for the observance of World Refugee Week in Arlington Heights have been cleared with the village.

Permission has been granted by Mayor Edward G. Carlisle for holding a tag day as part of the observance.

Those attending the meeting included Mrs. Martha Bach, Mrs. Herman Berthold, Mrs. Dean Bonnell, Mr. Norman Cook, Mrs. Alfred Gamble, Mrs. Bruce Graham, Mr. Ray Hickmann, Rev. and Mrs. George Kincheloe, Mrs. Bernhard Laubinger, and Rev. Robert McDonald.

Inquiries about this project can be addressed to Rev. Truman Stehr, 401 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights. (A

Eastwood Events

Most of Eastwood entertaining over the weekend featured tournament bridge. At least four groups congregated either for their February play or to make up for past months. On Friday evening the Dick Koczakiewiczes entertained in their home at 218 N. Lincoln lane. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Cockrell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mrs. W. Hartmann with Esther Ellertson substituting for Mr. Hartmann, were their guests.

The Kenneth Andersons, 734 N. Beverley ave., were also hosts Friday evening to Mr. and Mrs. John Gavin Jr, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luedeking who subbed for the Gladers, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Raasch who took McBride's place.

Saturday night at the home of Marguerite and Bob Scott, 217 N. Dryden, guests were the Cockrells, Ellertsons and McKnights who substituted for the Gladers.

At the home of Frances and George Moore Saturday night all regular players were in attendance with no substitutions necessary. Dorothy and Herman Raasch, Virginia and Dick Vlach and Doris and Bud Scully were their guests.

AS OF THE end of January the Scotts are still leading with a score of 15,100. The next seven couples are all fairly close with the following standings: Evans - 13,130, Gladers - 12,940, Jack Andersons - 12,800, McBrides - 11,160, Scullys - 10,820, Raasches - 10,500 and Ellertsons - 10,510.

February is really a month of birthdays for the residents of N. Douglas ave. To celebrate them all, a birthday cake and coffee party was given on Sunday evening, February 21 at the home of Rae and Bill Inman, 513 N. Douglas for neighbors of the 400 and 500 block of Douglas. Receiving birthday congratulations were Bill Inman, Joe Babs, Les Moodie, Phil and Bob Hoese and Dick Bronwell.

Mrs. Paul Petersen's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Tanzer of Chicago, entertained her card club in Mrs. Petersen's home, 710 E. St. James st., last Wednesday afternoon. Guests for luncheon and an afternoon of cards were Mrs. George Brinke, Mrs. Helge Johnson, Mrs. Anne Lerch, Mrs. John Haslam and Mrs. William Kasper. This was one of Mrs. Kasper's first outings since her fall at Christmas time.

A LEAP year tradition with the Jack Andersons is for Eileen to take her husband out on February 29. Their festivities this year on Monday night were dinner, and seeing the "Music Man." They were accompanied by another couple from Bensenville.

A gay Mardi Gras dance was given at Notre Dame high school last Saturday night. Attending from the Eastwood neighborhood were Mary Elizabeth Cockrell and Marie Scott. (A

Ridge Park—Sherwood

FROM SHERWOOD

Get well wishes are extended to Marie Specht, 1118 W. Watling, who is in Ravenswood hospital, Chicago, recuperating from an operation.

The Jack Burgesses, 1218 W. Clarendon, are happy to have Buzz spend part of his 30-day leave with them before going to Korea.

There was a big family birthday party at the T. C. Carlsons', 1314 N. Harvard, Sunday celebrating two birthdays in one. Allan was 12 January 13 and his brother, Richard, was 14 March 1, so they combined their parties into one and invited an aunt, uncle and cousins from Glen Ellyn and an aunt and uncle from Niles. The boys' grandmother from Cincinnati is still visiting them and helped make the party a success.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Mrs. J. E. Wilmotte, 729 N. Fernandez, is back from California, where she attended the wedding of her son, Robert, to Freya Hulbush, in San Francisco. Freya, a native of Vancouver, B. C., and Robert met when they were students at San Mateo college, San Mateo, Cal., and after their honeymoon in Carmel-by-the-Sea, Robert plans to continue his studies there. Mrs. Wilmotte did a goodly share of sightseeing with the Hulbushes after the wedding, going through China town, having dinner at A. Sabella's restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf and finishing off with a view of the city from atop the Mark Hopkins hotel, a must for all visitors to San Francisco. Before flying home, Mrs. Wilmotte spent a few days with a cousin and her husband in Morega, a suburb of Oakland. While she was there they took her sightseeing and included dinner at Jackie Jensen's restaurant right in the bay. She found it quite a novelty to watch the boats sail by so close while they ate dinner. Another day they drove to San Mateo and took a tour of the campus there, so now that she is home, she can tell the rest of the family about Robert's school, his wedding and her wonderful trip to California.

Mary Christensen, daughter of Anne and Jim Christensen, 725 N. Patton, was 5 February 24, but had a family party February 21 to celebrate the event. Aunts, uncles cousins and grandparents came out to wish her well on her day and have some of her birthday cake and ice cream.

Mrs. May Angus, who makes her home with her son and his family, the William Anguses, 915 N. Yale, left for a 6-week visit with her sisters in Perth Amboy, N. J.

When George Bieber, 801 N. Princeton, came home from a month's business trip in Colorado, it was hard to tell who was happier — he or his family. His family has decided they don't like to have him gone that long at one time.

Saturday Gary Scalzitti celebrated his fifth birthday with a party to which he invited the following chidren: Billy Tarchala, George Callahan, Jimmy Hedger, Laura Stebbins, Donnie Colgrove, Rickey Sundquist, Margie Kelly and Gary's brother, Larry, and sister, Mary. This was a luncheon party, with Bozo the clown, as the theme to the delight of all the children. After lunch the children played a few birthday games before going home with a gift apiece. Tommy and Guy Scalzitti, 836 N. Fernandez, are Gary's parents.

TOMMY SCALZITTI celebrated her birthday last Wednesday and as is the custom in her block when the ladies' birthdays roll around, she had the following in for coffee and cake: Doris Kelly, Dorothy Ungaro, Audrey Beckman, Lynn Sundquist, Alice Colgrove, Dottie Chaplin, Myra Brandt, Marie Schmidt, Frances Stebbins and Jeannette Helfers.

Dottie Chaplin, 815 N. Fernandez, reports that her son, Bobby, is doing well after undergoing surgery in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, last week. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

There was a family celebration last week at the R. N. Cummings, 1115 W. Elm, honoring young Tommy on his first birthday. Several relatives came out for dinner Sunday and there was also a small family party for him February 24, his birthday.

Ruth and Dick Platt, 806 N. Kennicott, had so much fun skiing at Wilmot, Wis. a week ago Wednesday, that they went back last Sunday and took Jeff and his cousin. Jeff has his own skis now and is learning how to ski from his dad.

Sunday Helen Polites, 944 N. Salem, was matron of honor at the weding of her sister, Barbara Economou, to Bill Kritikos at the Greek Church of the Assumption in Chicago. Her daughter, Andrea, was flower girl at the wedding. After the wedding, a reception was held for 200 people at the Chateau Royale and this was a reception extraordinary — prime rib dinner, bridal cake, grand march open bar and a complete orchestra for those who wanted to dance till the wee small hours. Helen was as busy as the bride before the wedding, making a beautiful bridal gown for her sister, plus the four bridesmaids' gowns, her own gown, all the headpieces, Andrea's dress and the ringbearer's pillow. According to Elsie Sprensen, who was there with her husband, Dick, and daughter, Karen, Helen did a professional job and was partly responsible for the breathtakingly beautiful wedding. Barbara and her new husband are honeymooning in Florida and will fly to Jamaica, Puerto Rico and some of the other islands before setting up housekeeping in Chicago.

St. Peter's hat bazaar last week was quite a success, according to Elsie Sorensen, who worked there all day. The basement was colorfully decorated to set off the wide display of hats on sale.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Elsie, Dick and their son, Dickie, were at the blue and gold banquet at St. Peter church. Dickie, a boy scout, is Den chief for one of the dens. Elsie said the entertainment was quite unusual—bird slides were shown with accompanying bird whistles done by a lady with more than her share of talent along that line.

Thursday evening, when the Men's Club from St. Peter church held their Sweetheart banquet at the Union hotel in Wheeling, Dick took Elsie. After dinner, they saw colore movies of the Rose Bowl parade.

A week ago Sunday the Donald Kiehls, 732 N. Kaspar, were delighted to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brink for dinner. The Brinks lived next to the Kiehls before they moved to Royal Oaks, Mich., last September and while they enjoy their new home, they still miss many of their Arlington Heights friends. This was a quick business trip for them and they regret they couldn't see all their friends, but hope to on the next trip.

Peter Kozakari, son of the Jon Kozakaris, 916 N. Chicago, is getting over the croup.

Jerry Mockenhaupt, 818 N. Harvard, is back from a short business trip to Henderson, Ky.

Nobody had more fun at his party last Saturday than Donnie Barnak, who was celebrating his fourth birthday. Monica Torretto was there, as well as Debbie and Petey Grote, Greg and Gen Seaman, Danny, Carol and Kerry Mohr, Barbara and Leslie Raitt, Jimmy, Joe and Ginny Hedger and Tommy and Gary Holub. This wasn't just a children's party, either; their mothers came for coffee and cake while the children played games and ate ice cream and cake. Mr. Barnak took pictures of the party, getting some good shots of Donnie blowing out the four candles on his cake. When the children went home, there were surprise packages for each of them, as well as hats and balloons that had been part of the party decorations. Friday Donnie had the thrill of hearing his name on the birthday roll on Lunchtime Little Theater, so he feels as though his fourth birthday was just about the best one yet. Donnie is the son of the Walter Barnaks, 916 N. Fernandez.

JOAN AND JIM Spiel, 730 N. Harvard, went into Chicago with their girls Sunday to the birthday party of Larry Spiel, who was 3 that day. They also got to see Larry's new brother — a chosen baby from the Lake Bluff Children's home. Larry and his new brother, Brian Louis, are the children of Jim's brother, Paul, and his wife.

Last Tuesday night Eloise and Frank Psota, 931 N. Patton, joined the Northwest Dental study group for dinner at the Rolling Green country cub. Entertainment for the evening was the Daily News cartoonist, Dorothy Bond, who illustrated her talk dressed in a gay 90's costume. She passed out her cartoons to each of the tables before the evening was over and proved to be a big hit with the group.

The Coterie dance Saturday night at the VFW hall proved to be quite a success with its Hawaiian theme. The Bill Bledsoes, Ed Elstees, Gene Frikers, Howard Trendels, Splitts, and George Lurtz can vouch for that. A cocktail party beforehand started the group out in a spirit of fun and it prevailed the whole evening.

When the R. H. Sparlings, 936 N. Harvard, play bridge they occasionally go to Madison, Wis., to the home of one of the couples in their group, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Traisman. Ten of their friends made the trek north last weekend and as usual they had a wonderful time. The fellows did some ice fishing, the ladies did some ice skating and they all played some bridge.

Jane Harden, 909 N. Salem, brightened up dull February by taking her daughter, Sue, to Des Moines, where they visited Jane's sister and her family before going over to Iowa Falls to see Clyde's folks.

Joanne and Joe Heinz, 906 N. Patton, may be in Arlington Heights, but their hearts are back at the Wagon Wheel, where they just spent a long weekend with two other couples, the Charles Cassidys from here and the Charles Walshes of Wheeling. They swam, ice skated, bowled, danced, played cards and ate to their hearts content. Joanne said they were quite taken with the Pigale and its Dixieland band. Hearing Dixieland music on the radio is a far cry from listening to a live performance and they all seemed to like the latter much better.

The welcome mat is out to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Haseman, 824 N. Kaspar, who have just moved here from Mt. Prospect. They have two boys, Neil, 5, and Michael, 4.

Friends and neighbors of the Giles Smuckers, 1429 W. Brown, were sorry to see them move last week to Ohio.

Bring Out the Meatballs, As 1,175 Enjoy Swedish Smorgasbord

FOOD PREPARATIONS for the annual smorgasbord given by the ladies at the Palatine Methodist church begin many days in advance. Meatball making is the first step. Really digging in here are Mrs. Joseph Hartmann, Mrs. Charles Zanzie, kitchen chairman, and Miss Helen Menger.

WHILE MEATBALLS are the main object in the kitchen, table decorations and costuming for the smorgasbord are concentrated on close by. Traditional Scandinavian birds and candles decorated tables, and dancing figures were used on place mats. Admiring their handiwork here are (from left) decoration chairman, Mrs. Milton Cramer, and Mrs. Dick Cutler.

EVEN THE MEN get into the act at the Palatine smorgasbord. Here, the night of the dinner, Saturday, Feb. 20, three are kept busy on the carving detail. They are (from left) Harold Carlson, Berndt Westerberg, and Torgny Westerberg.

OUTSIDE IN THE snowy cold, this picture from inside the Palatine high school cafeteria looked warm and inviting. Tables were full and the floor packed as Palatine residents and their friends turned out in full force for the annual Swedish dinner. Waitresses and cooks were kept busy feeding the 1,175 who attended.

Palatine High Is Scene Of Festive Family Affair

Meatballs galore and fancy foreign food, highlighted the sixth annual smorgasbord given by First Methodist ladies recently in Palatine. Planning for the affair, that has grown from 390 to a wallopping 1,175 this year, started months ago.

The finished product is a gastronomic delight plus a warm, friendly atmosphere that sees old and young from Palatine and surrounding communities gathered in the high school cafeteria for a Scandinavian evening. From a blustery, winter night outside, February 20, the interior scene looked bustling and inviting. Gaily colored waitresses kept coffee cups filled and tables happy, as wave upon wave of people feasted.

The Swedish theme was carried out by a number of women working on committees for the Women's Society of Christian Service of Palatine's First Methodist church. The kitchen chairman, Mrs. Charles Zanie, is shown in a picture here getting breadcrumbs ready for the meatballs. Nearby, decorations chairman, Mrs. Milton Cramer, organized colorful placemats, and gathered candles to light each table. Costume fittings were made under the careful eye of Mrs. Raymond Cooper, costume chairman.

Ticket committee chairman Mrs. Walter Matthias, was assisted by Mrs. Howard Meadors. They were unable to fill all requests. Overall chairmen, pulling all strings together, so the dinner could be as successful as it was, were Mrs. Torgny Westerberg, Mrs. Harold O. Carlson, Mrs. Gerald Conklin, and Mrs. Roy French. Even the wee ones were taken care of in a nearby nursery. Arrangements for that were made by Mrs. Harlow Smith.

Actually, two identical servings were held for the dinner. One lasted from 5 to 6:30, the next from 6:30 to 8 p.m. And when they were over, workers could take a spare minute to breathe. Then before they know it, it will be time to start thinking about next year.

WHILE PARENTS and the older-younger set enjoyed the warm candlelight and gay atmosphere of the Swedish dining room at the Palatine high school, the very young ones were taken care of in the nursery by Diane Goheen and Mrs. Charlotte Netzeband. Looking more interested in the camera than her bottle is Pat Roberts. The two little ladies next to her are Nancy Rankhorn and Elaine Eppley.

TRYING TO DECIDE what of the astounding assortment of delicacies to eat is a problem being mulled over here by friends of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Palatine First Methodist church. Some of the goodies shown here are jellied salad, sliced turkey, tossed salads, cheeses, cold meats, devilled-eggs, and fruit. What'll it be, gentlemen?

Arlington Couple Married In Presbyterian Church

Geranium red silk organza dresses were worn by attendants who preceded Miss Sandra Lindahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lindahl, 207 N. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights, down the aisle of First Presbyterian Church Arlington Heights, January 30, when she became the bride of Robert Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. George Sampson, 1013 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights.

Rev. Paul Stumpf officiated at the candlelight, double ring service which took place at 7 p.m. Organist was Mrs. Earl Auge and soloist was Mrs. Charles Parvin. Her selections were "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

White gladioli and red carnations in baskets and the candelabra decorated the church.

THE BRIDE'S gown was of white bouquet taffeta trimmed in chantilly lace at the yoke and down the front and back of the bouffant skirt, which ended in a chapel train. Her double illusion veil was caught by a juliet cap trimmed with pearls and embroidered motifs of chantilly. A cascade of white roses made up her bridal bouquet.

Mr. Lindahl gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. A. W. Lindahl Jr. of Mt. Prospect was her sister-in-law's matron of honor and Mrs. Paul Sampson of Rolling Meadows, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Judith Tubbs of Arlington Heights, were bridesmaids. All wore the red silk organza gowns over red taffeta and also wore hats and shoes of matching red. Their flowers were red and white carnations.

Jack Koske of Arlington Heights was the bridegroom's best man and Paul and George Sampson, brothers of the bridegroom from Rolling Meadows and Arlington Heights, respectively, were ushers.

A RECEPTION for 150 guests was held in Mt. Prospect country club where Mrs. Lindahl received in a beige and pink lace dress over beige taffeta. Her accessories wer in pink and her corsage was of pink camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sampson, chose a powder blue nylon chiffon over blue taffeta with blue accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

The newlyweds, both graduates of Arlington high school, are now residing at 414 Chatham pl., Arlington Heights. The bride was also graduated from Moser business college and is a stenographer at Universal Oil Products Co., Des Plaines. The bridegroom attended Northern Illinois university and Rockford college and is now studying at Illinois Institute of Technology, where he is majoring in electrical engineering.

Unusual Casseroles Make Interesting Buffet Meals

ASSISTING THEIR MOTHER, Mrs. A. M. Cramer of Prospect Heights, in the preparation of an appealing Shrimp Cheese Souffle are twin sons, Jim and Tom, and daughter, Martha. The recipe for this tempting Lenten dish, plus two other excellent recipes, are being featured in the column Successful Homemaking.

If you like interesting and unusual casseroles and if you like to entertain buffet-style, you'll be doubly pleased with the recipes we are featuring today.

They have been shared with us by Mrs. A. M. Cramer of Prospect Heights. This good cook has a host of excellent recipes and these three, two casseroles and a molded salad, are among her favorites.

One casserole is a delectable wild rice dish which contains cubed pork and veal, mushrooms, onion and mushroom soup. White rice is used in combination with the flavorful wild rice, and the casserole is seasoned with soy sauce.

THIS CASSEROLE is simple to prepare, yet different and delightful to taste. There is no last minute fuss, and it can remain in the oven long after it is done until dinner is served.

Mrs. Cramer's other unique casserole is one which seafood lovers will especially appreciate.

It is Shrimp Cheese Souffle which is light, nourishing and very tasty. Sharp cheese and seasonings give this souffle flavor and zest.

This is an excellent lenten dish and Mrs. Cramer says that it is equally good with canned crab meat. She even substituted tuna fish for the shrimp, which is quite appealing if not as fancy.

WHEN SERVING either the Wild Rice or Shrimp Casserole, Mrs. Cramer suggests a tossed salad with a blue cheese dressing and hot rolls as accompaniments. Her favorite desserts are banana cake or lemon pie.

When a molded salad is required for certain menus, Joyce Cramer has a choice recipe. It is from Francois Pope's cook book and is called a Strawberry-Rhubarb Mold.

Attractive in appearance and quite different to taste, this colorful salad contains both strawberries and rhubarb. Because frozen products are used, this salad may be prepared all year 'round.

IN ADDITION to her interest in cooking, this busy homemaker and mother of three is active in several organizations.

She is secretary of the Prospect Heights PTA, and is a member of St. John Episcopal church Women's Evening guild, the Book Review club and the Continental Dance club. Her husband is a member of the Prospect Heights school board and is a vestryman of St. John church.

The Cramers live at 212 E. School lane in Prospect Heights. Their children are Tom and Jim, 11-year-old twins, and Martha, 6.

Wild Rice Casserole

1 pound veal, cubed
1 pound pork, cubed
1 pound fresh mushrooms
1 small onion, minced fine
4 tablespoons butter
1 can mushroom soup
3 soup cans water
¾ cup wild rice
¾ cup white rice
4 tablespoons soy sauce

Wash mushrooms in salted water and slice. Saute meat, mushrooms and onion in the butter until browned. Mix in remaining ingredients and turn into greased casserole.

Cover and bake in a 350 degree oven for one hour and 45 minutes. If casserole seems too dry during cooking, add more water.

Shrimp Cheese Souffle

8 slices slightly dry bread trimmed and cubed (5 cups)
2 cups cooked shrimp, shelled and de-veined
1 3-ounce can mushrooms, drained
½ pound sharp cheese
3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash pepper
Dash of paprika
2 cups milk

Place half of the bread cubes in a greased casserole. Add shrimp and mushrooms and half of the cheese, cubed. Top with remaining bread and cheese.

Beat together the eggs and seasonings. Add milk and pour over all.

Bake in a 325 degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes. Serves 5 to 6.

Canned crabmeat (one or two cans) or tuna fish may be substituted for the shrimp, if desired.

Strawberry-Rhubarb Mold

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 packages lemon or strawberry flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
½ cup granulated sugar (optional)
2 16-ounce packages frozen rhubarb
3 16-ounce packages frozen strawberries

Soften unflavored gelatin in the cold water. Pour the boiling water over the flavored gelatin. Add the thickened unflavored gelatin and sugar. Stir until dissolved. Let thicken slightly.

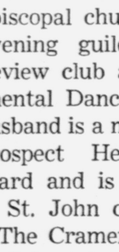
Defrost the rhubarb and strawberries. Cook the rhubarb for 10 minutes. Let cool. Add to the gelatin with the defrosted strawberries. A little red food coloring may be added for a deeper color.

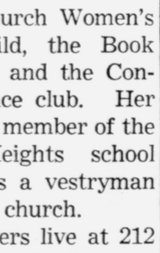
Pour into a 9-cup mold and refrigerate until firm, at least 8 hours or longer.

A box of raspberries may be substituted for one of the boxes of strawberries, if desired.

This recipe may be cut in half and made in a 4-5 cup mold.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT





by Edward Rentz

Occasionally we are asked to serve or help plan refreshments for many such as club parties, receptions or large parties at home.

The most tantalizing problem is usually how much food or drink is needed to serve large quantities. Here is a table of service for quantities:

Coffee — 30 Tablespoons per pound. 2 lbs. ground coffee serves 50-60 people. 3½ gallons water. 1½ qts. of cream. 1½ lbs. of sugar.

Tea — 1 lb. serves 50 persons. 3¼ gallons water.

(More on quantity servings next week)

Offer Freezing Tips for Meats

You've got nutrients aplenty in a cut of fresh meat, so take care when you freeze it.

Mrs. Dorothy Ebner, member of the foods research staff at the University of Illinois, points out that research studies have shown that incorrect freezing procedures can destroy nutrients in meats.

To curb or prevent these losses, the University of Illinois foods research staff recommends three practices:

Handle meat quickly. The longer you delay, the more nutrients you will lose and the greater the chances that microorganisms will cause undesirable changes in the meat.

USE MOISTURE - vapor-proof packaging materials. Research shows that proper packaging reduces loss of nutrients in some meats.

Freeze meat quickly. The lower the temperature, the quicker the meat will freeze. The 0 degrees F. temperature of home freezers is satisfactory for freezing small amounts of meat.

If, however, you freeze a large amount (a quarter or side or more of an animal) at one time, it's best to have it frozen at a commercial freezing plant. Then you can store it in your home freezer. This practice makes it unnecessary to increase the freezer temperature, which slows the freezing process.

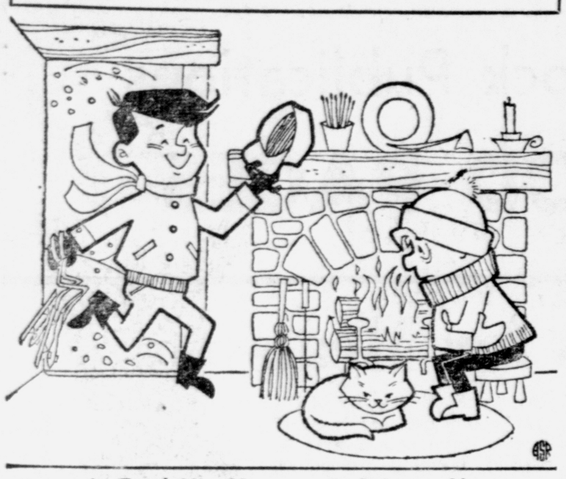
Food Sense—Not Nonsense



A Fuel-Up Versus A Warm-Up

A word for you who freeze up, hole in, and huddle by the fire when the thermometer dips or when balmy breezes turn chill. You may not be eating enough food; you may not be eating the right kind of food. Why not fuel-up instead of warm-up? Enough and the right kind of food are a must for man to withstand the impact of chilling winds or freezing temperatures . . . to work well in the cold. Studies at the University of Illinois show that man needs food with a high carbohydrate count if he is to be counted on to work efficiently in winter weather.

For the man who is out in the cold to excel in everyday tasks—those that involve an alert mind, nerve-muscle efficiency and coordination—researchers rated the high-carbohydrate, adequate protein diet tops. It far surpassed the high protein, low-carbohydrate diet in helping him combat the effects of the cold.

There is a reason for this. Carbohydrates furnish energy more rapidly than the other calorie sources: proteins and fats. Man's need for energy soars in direct proportion to the speed of the wind or a low-down thermometer reading. The hobbling effect of clothing also increases energy needs.

Even Eskimos can take heart. Unable to obtain foods high in carbohydrate most of the year, they get along on what is available. With improved transportation to the Arctic, Eskimos may not just survive, but thrive.

Best advice to Eskimos and others chilled by weather out of the North: Be sure to eat plenty of foods high in carbohydrate—fruit, most vegetables, cereal, milk, and bread.

There are almost as many kinds of gumbo as there are devotees of it.

You'll find okra in all versions, of course, since this vegetable is the basis of gumbo, a real southern soup favorite. Seasoning is vital, as any gumbo gourmet will tell you, and Tabasco is most frequently called upon to add the necessary spark.

THE RED peppers which go into the making of Tabasco are grown in Louisiana; little wonder the product is so vital in a soup of Creole background! Shrimp is big business in the Gulf area of Louisiana and they cry for Tabasco, whether served with a simple cocktail sauce, or in a gumbo such as the one pictured, with okra, rice and all the trimmings. Shrimp, available canned, frozen or fresh, is really an economical glamour food and like most seafood needs proper seasoning. You'll find Tabasco excellent to rely upon since it can be used both in cooking and at the table. A liquid, it blends easily with all other ingredients.

SHRIMP GUMBO

4 tablespoons butter
1 onion, sliced
1 cup diced celery with leaves
1 green pepper, diced
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 can (20 ounces) tomatoes
1 cup water
2 bouillon cubes
1 cup sliced okra or baby pods of okra
2 cups cooked or canned shrimp
1/3 cup, rice

Melt butter in large saucepan. Add onion, celery and green pepper; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add bay leaf, salt and Tobasco with tomatoes, water and bouillon cubes. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes. Add okra, shrimp and rice and cook 30 minutes longer.

YIELD: 4 servings
NOTE: Rice may be cooked separately and served with the gumbo.

Low-Grade Beef Isn't Economical

A homemaker who marches up to the meat counter, buys a lower grade of beef and then congratulates herself for saving a few pennies does not actually save money.

For a few pennies saved on a lower grade of beef will soon be lost by excessive shrink during cooking.

Irvin R. Rinehart director of the meat division, Godfrey Food Service, Inc., Milwaukee, explained that lower grades of meat, such as Standard, Commercial and Good, contain more moisture and therefore shrink more during cooking.

ON THE OTHER hand, fat replaces the moisture as beef animals develop under full-feed, reaching the grade of Choice or Prime. This fat tenderizes the muscle fibers and gives the meat its flavor.

Rinehart emphasized that flavor in beef comes from the fat. Lean beef with no fat intermingling with the muscle (marbling) lacks the flavor of better feed, higher quality beef.

He pointed out, however, that actual consumer tests have shown that homemakers prefer lean, lower quality meat when asked to select from several samples. This seems natural, since instinct tells the consumer to save money by selecting for less fat.

But some Prime cattle become too fat, Rinehart continued. These cattle put fat outside the muscle, increasing the waste percentage when they are processed for retail sales. To overcome the losses from this waste, the retailer must charge the consumer a higher price.

However, these fat cattle produce the best tasting beef.

Quite Contrary by Mary

An 'Old Grouch' Speaks

I am an old grouch. I must be. My older girls keep telling me so. At least once a day one of them or both say knowingly to each other, "Get the old grouch." This always fetches them the old one-two. I don't mind being called grouchy, it's the old that gets me.

The things that make me cross at them are all so trivial. They think. What's to get mad about when I have told them 45 times to make their beds on a Saturday morning and they still aren't made by 5 p. m. Why should Mother blow her top just because every time they do the dishes they put the pans in a different cupboard and she spends 15 minutes hunting for the double boiler.

When they spend a whole day whining around the house about how misused they are because I won't buy them new dresses, or skirts, or sweaters, or slacks, or Bermuda shorts, or coats, how shirty it is of me to turn them down so loudly. Especially loudly if I have just tried to ram something into a closet that has absolutely not one more square inch of space in it.

What a heel I am when I rebel at always being the one on a Saturday night who has to "pick-up" 8 to 10 giggling females who have attended the cinema and now, at 11 p. m., must be driven to their respective homes. These homes are always at least 10 miles apart. My own did feel just once that I was a little put upon when a friend of theirs informed me that she lived on the ragged edge of the next county.

Why shouldn't they be allowed to wear my new nylons when they have an important date? I want them to be well groomed, don't I. Well, sure I do. But why should I have to wear runny nylons on MY important dates and then pretend they just happened when everyone knows that those runs have been there for months.

My thought for the day is, I wish them a nice marriage blessed with 6 children apiece. All of them girls.

Jrs. to Hear Chas. Klehm

Program Chairman Mrs. Thomas Jones has announced that the program for the March 9 meeting of the Mt. Prospect Junior Woman's club will be presented by Charles Klehm of the Charles Klehm and Son Nurseries and Peony farm, Arlington Heights. In addition to his talk on trees and flowering shrubs, Mr. Klehm will also show slides to the group.

This meeting will be held at the Mt. Prospect village hall and is scheduled to begin at 8:30. Members and guests are urged to arrive promptly as the business meeting will include carryover subjects from the February meeting, attendance at which was drastically limited by snow.

Officer Election For PEO Chapter

Election of officers and naming of delegates to the state convention will be held at the Thursday, March 3, meeting of PEO chapter IM, when members meet at 12:45 p.m. for dessert luncheon in the home of Mrs. T. L. Cox, 117 S. I-Oka, Mt Prospect.

Co-hostess will be Mrs. R. E. Lambert and all interested, unaffiliated PEO's in the area are urged to call Mrs. R. A. Swanson at LE 7-1375 for information regarding the meeting. (S advance registration may be obtained by contacting the public health department in the Glenview village hall.

Chi Omega

"Color Comes Calling" on the Chicago northwest suburban alumnae of Chi Omega when the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. presents a program on interior decoration at the meeting scheduled for 8:15 Tuesday evening, March 15, at the home of the program chairman, Mrs. Ralph Beesley, 5642 N. Newark, Norwood Park.

Co-hostesses for the March meeting will be Miss Betty Kukuk, 2112 Swan lane, Rolling Meadows, and Mrs. Kenneth W. Stevens, 1716 W. Olive, Arlington Heights. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Edward Karl, CL 3-1162.

Program co-chairman, Mrs. Donald Dougan, 621 Gibbons, Arlington Heights, has announced that plans are well under way for the annual Husband's Night party to be held March 26.

WHEN THE JUNIOR alumnae of Chi Omega holds its third round of its bridge tournament Friday, March 11, the Robert Suckows, 297 Edgewood, Wheeling, will be hosts to three suburban couples. The group will hold its monthly meeting March 8 in the home of Mrs. William Schinagle, Evanston, and will hear a financial report on its Cupid Capers benefit dance and reviews on three of Elinor Goulding Smith's books.

Pi Beta Phi

Arlington Heights Pi Beta Phi alumnae association will begin its ninth year with election of officers March 9. The group's growth during this period has been as rapid as that of Arlington Heights. Combining both sorority interests with social services, Pi Phi's have grown from 14 charter members in 1951 to the present 57 active members.

Pi Phi's also will choose the outstanding sophomore sorority member from the five chapters in Illinois. They are located at Northwestern, University of Illinois, Monmouth, Bradley, Knox and Millikin. The winner will receive a sterling silver Pi Phi bracelet to commemorate the event.

THE MEETING will be held in the home of Mrs. William Hannum, 1020 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Roscoe Batts and Mrs. W. A. Barnett

The Pi Phi bridge group will meet at 12:30 March 23 in the home of Mrs. William Whiteley, 102 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Saturday, March 26, will be the date for Illinois A O Pi's to hold their annual State day. This year the day will be spent at the Wagon Wheel Lodge in Rockton. Registration will be at 10 a.m. All Illinois college and alumnae chapters will be represented. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Sam Cullison, CL 5-5410.

Due to inclement weather, the northwest suburban alumnae chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi had to postpone its February meeting. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 9, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James Anton, 956 E. Grant dr., Des Plaines.

Alpha Chi Omega

The March meeting of the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Club of Alpha Chi Omega sorority will meet Monday, March 7, at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George W. Lebsock, Arlington Heights. Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. P. Roger Girard.

A discussion of current activities and future plans will be led by Mrs. Ralph S. Davis Jr., president. During the business meeting, Mrs. William G. Grashorn, chairman of the nominating committee, will present a slate of officers for the coming year.

After completion of the evening's business, refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow.

Classes for Expectant Couples Start March 8

An 8-week series of classes for expectant couples will start Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the public library in Glenview. The course is for couples who are expecting their first baby, for those adopting a child and for prospective grandparents who wish to brush up on child care.

Subjects covered are anatomy and physiology, nutrition, layette and essential supplies, infant bath demonstration preparation for delivery and postpartum care, infant care and formula demonstration and child care. Lecturers are Dr. John M. Bailey, obstetrician, Mrs. Lillian Fitz-Simmons, nutritionist, Mrs. Florence B. Dyer, nurse, and Dr. Judith Lee Wood pediatrician. Hospital tours will be arranged.

This course is endorsed by the north suburban branch of the Chicago Medical society and Suburban Cook County Maternal Welfare committee. It is sponsored by the Visiting Nurse Association of Glenview and the Glenview Woman's club.

ON YOUR CYCLE CLOSING DAY

SIXTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY was celebrated Sunday, Feb. 28, by Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Smith, who moved from Rossville to Arlington Heights in 1927. The anniversary was observed with an open house and buffet supper in the Palatine home of their daughter and son-in-law, the Gordon Greens. Friends came from southern Illinois, Indiana and the Chicago area to help the couple celebrate. Mr. Smith, 81, and Mrs. Smith, 79, have one grandson, William Green, Arlington Heights, and two great-grandchildren, Valerie and Jeffrey Green. After coming to Arlington Heights, Mr. Smith was employed by A&P Tea Co., the National Tea Co. and the Grigsby Radio Corp. until his retirement three years ago.

POSING AS A PICTURE are, left to right, Mrs. Basil Murrell, Mrs. Frank Kozlicki and Mrs. Erle Bender of the Junior Woman's club of Palatine, who are helping to make plans for the club's "Spring Fashion Foppery," set for Saturday, March 19, at 2 p.m. in Cutting hall of Palatine high school. Spring fashions from Maurice L. Rothschilds will be modeled by the Junior Women and their children as a ways and means project for the club's philanthropic fund. Tickets are available from members or at the door or by phoning Mrs. Kozlicki at FLanders 8-2780.

PRESENTING GAVEL of Nike Officers Wives' club to Mrs. Floyd E. Owens, right, wife of Major Owens, S-3 officer of the sixth missile battalion, third artillery, is Mrs. E. R. Richardson, wife of Major Richardson, former executive officer of the Arlington Heights base. Mrs. Owens, who was elected vice president of the club, accepted the gavel for the new club president, Mrs. Herbert L. Lossen, wife of Lt. Col. Lossen, commanding officer. Mrs. Richardson was also honored at the club meeting with a farewell tea.

NOW LIVING in Algonquin are Mr. and Mrs. Kermit K. Bressner, former Arlington Heights residents, who were married several months ago in St. James church, Arlington Heights. Six attendants, including a flower girl and ring bearer, attended the bride, the former Patricia Baron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam F. Baron. The bridegroom's parents are the Kermit J. Bressners of Mesa, Ariz., former Arlington Heights residents.

Rural Home Building Up

Further delay in passage of a new county zoning ordinance failed to hold down new building activity during January in unincorporated areas to any appreciable degree.

The county building and zoning bureau issued 164 permits for construction valued at $2,588,610. In view of the uncertainty over what zoning regulations will be adopted, this compares favorably with 196 permits at a valuation of $3,069,350 issued in January, 1959, and 195 permits at a valuation of $2,876,700 issued in January, 1958.

This January, Stickney led all townships with 27 permits valued at $294,460. Wheeling township was second with 26 permits and Northfield and Maine townships each had 20.

By area townships, permits issued last month and valuations are:

Township	Permits	Valuations
Barrington	1	$ 500
Elk Grove	5	68,400
Hanover	1	1,900
Maine	20	339,250
Norwood Park	1	29,800
Palatine	6	77,100
Schaumburg	0	.....
Wheeling	26	387,300

Here's the classification breakdown by townships:

Barrington: one septic system.

Elk Grove: one home addition or alteration, two accessory buildings, one business and one business addition.

Hanover: one accessory building.

Maine: eight homes, 3 home additions or alterations, one apartment building, three accessory buildings, one business, two business additions or alterations and two miscellaneous.

Norwood Park: one home.

Palatine: one home, one home addition or alteration, one accessory building, one business, one business addition or alteration and one well.

Wheeling: 20 homes, three home additions or alterations, one accessory building, one well and one miscellaneous.

Lecturer To Speak March 4

Liberation from disease, sin and all discord through understanding and application of the unlimited power of God will be the topic of a lecture to be delivered in Barrington, Friday evening, March 4, by Arch Bailey of San Francisco.

Bailey is currently on an extensive tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in Hough Street school auditorium, 310 S. Hough st., at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Solution for Mankind's Enganglements." The public is invited to attend without charge.

ARCH BAILEY

A native of Kansas, Bailey has devoted his time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1940. Prior to that he had a distinguished career in the field of music. He was director of the music department of Iowa State College at Ames, and served on the faculty of Horner Institute of Fine Arts in Kansas City, Mo., and the Chicago Musical College. He served for two years as Christian Science Worker at the Preston School for delinquent boys in northern California.

Gray Haired Leap Year 'Babes'

Part 3 Thursday, March 3, 1960 Page 8

Birthdays that haven't been properly recognized since 1956 were celebrated throughout the country Monday as the elite group of leap year "babies" made up for lost time. Some February 29 celebrants with five o'clock shadow and graying temples smugly admitted to being 9, 10 or 11 years old while their birthday-every-year contemporaries wondered why anybody would want to make up for lost time where age is concerned. For the very young, of course, having a leap year birthday is a gross injustice. Although February 29 is also a date generally accepted by everyone but bachelors as open season on misogynists there were no reports locally of any man-trapping parties this week. This does not mean there were none, however.

Among the local "youngsters" with a birthday Monday was 11-year old Claude Chapin, 728 S. Chestnut, who celebrated at a family party Sunday with his 12-year old daughter, Carol. Carol's birthday was actually Valentine's day and it had been mildly observed then but the real fun came Sunday when she and her dad each had their own birthday cake, Dad's with 11 candles and hers wiht 12. Family members from Rockford were here for the weekend to share in the celebration.

MR. AND Mrs. Jack Guilfoil, 801 S. Chestnut, hosted a pair of leap year children at a dinner party in their home Saturday evening. Guests of honor at a unique father-and-daughter celebration were Edward Hughes and daughter, Mary Lou of Beverly Hills. It was the 10th leap year birthday for Mr. Hughes and Mary Lou's first.

A group of Arlington Heights ladies who meet regularly for a sociable afternoon helped their hostess celebrate her leap year birthday last Wednesday at a luncheon party. Former Arlington Heighter Mrs. Axel Stonefield, now of Mt. Prospect, received early congratulations for her once-every-fourth year birthday from Mrs. Walter Haberichter, Mrs. Donald Gieseke, Mrs. Julius Vogel, Mrs. Elmer Busse, Mrs. Della Lemke, Mrs. Richard Boeger and Mrs. Alvin Behrens.

Edward Eckstrom, 1106 E. Mayfair, marked his eighth birthday February 29, although he is really 32 years old. At a buffet supper Saturday he received congratulations from 24 guests. Mrs. Eckstrom presented her husband with a guitar, with which he and two musical guests provided music and songs during the evening.

There are two other February 29 birthdays in the Eckstrom family, that of his aunt and his grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Grabow, 1201 N Mitchell, hosted at a dinner party for eight Saturday night in celebration of the birthday, the annual kind, of one of their guests, Mrs. John Murphy of Wilmette. Adding their congratulations were the Harry Swansons of Northbrook and Robert Stones of Wilmette.

DANIEL HAHN, 919 N. Ridge, hosted five neighborhood and school friends after school last Tuesday at a party in celebration of his sixth birthday.

Visitors last week at the R. M. Arena home, 726 S. Mitchell, were Mrs. Arena's parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Frick, en route from their home in Ohio to Seattle. They left here Sunday and from Seattle will begin a trip to Japan where they plan a 2-month stay.

Although Kent Kurtz arrived home from the University of Illinois quite late Friday night he was still in time to wish his mother a happy birthday and that was his main objective. The family celebration at 805 N. Mitchell next day included an evening dinner-out party for Mrs. Kurtz, squired by the men in her life, Mr. Kurtz, Kent and Kerry.

CHARLENE HALAMA observed her 18th birthday February 26 and although the immediate family at 825 S. Highland didn't plan a special celebration, 15 Chicago family members had other ideas. Before the day was over Sunday, Charlene was wellcongratulated by aunts, uncles and cousins, and the success of impromptu parties was once again confirmed.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Galdoni, 742 S. Chestnut, hosted eight local couples at a predance cocktail party Saturday evening, then enjoyed with their guests the Coterie club dance. The dance had an Hawaiian theme that completely belied the snowdrifts and non-tropical temperatures outside. It made the evening pass too quickly, too, so the Galdonis were also post-dance hosts at a refreshments-and-more-fun session in their home.

The Norman Bauske home, 102 E. Orchard, doubled as a boys' dormitory over the weekend when two of the three Bauske boys hosted buddies for a 2-day visit. The third son didn't ask anyone, mostly because he's only five months old. Brooks entertained a former neighborhood friend, Charles Paxton Jr., now of Evanston, and Brent's guest was Lee Lobenhofer of Rolling Meadows.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bauske entertained four local, Northbrook and Skokie couples with an evening of cards while quiet reigned in the dormitory full of little boys who had been ice-skating and sledding all day. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton and Mr. and Mrs. Lobenhofer were Sunday evening dinner guests at the Bauske home before they packed up their respective, aw-do-we-hafta-go homes.

KRISTIN CLARK, 608 S. Walnut, was eight year old a week ago Saturday and schoolmates helped make up a party of eight who enjoyed a party luncheon and the local matinee as Kristin's guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connery, 303 S. Gibbons, returned early last week from a long weekend at Lake Lawn lodge, Delavan Lake, Wis.

Neighbors and local friends of the Henry Taylor family, 1201 N. Dunton, extend sympathy to Mr. Taylor whose mother died suddenly last Tuesday evening in her home in Normal, Ill.

A Sunday guest at the Walter Brown home, 1126 N. Dunton, was Douglas Fahy of Cedar Rapids, a former business associate of Mr. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dill, 526 S. Evergreen, returned early last week after five days in Jackson, Miss. where they attended the Shriners convention, Mr. Dill in his capacity as secretary-treasurer of the national Shrine Chanters. Although the Dills received a full measure of the famed southern hospitality every day, Mrs. Dill reports the ultimate came with a stay in Natchez arranged by their Shriner hosts. They were overnight guests of one of the many southern families who have restored picturesque colonial mansions in Natchez to the opulence of pre-Civil war times.

The following day Mr. and Mrs. Dill were taken on a tour of many other fine old homes in the area, among them the birthplace of confederacy president, Jefferson Davis.

PATTY BORCHARD was 5 last Tuesday and was congratulated by four fellow-pre-schoolers at a 2 o'clock party in the Borchard home, 723 N. Dunton. Patty's guests were Margaret Knight, Sharon and Teresa McGrath and Susie Conti.

Edwin Niemeyer, 1560 N. State, was admitted Sunday to Northwest Community hospital for observation and is expected home by this weekend.

Mrs. John Heintz, 518 S. Vail, is in Passavant hospital, Chicago, where she underwent major surgery yesterday.

ONE OF THE most popular events of the weekend was the annual Stonegate dinner dance Saturday in Itasca country club.

Among those who entertained before the dance were the Edward Klamms, 1200 Woodford, at a cocktail party for Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Coliani, Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. C W. Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton, 321 S. Windsor dr, also gave a cocktail party, preceding the Stonegate dinner dance. Earlier in the day, the Bartons' daughter, Marylee, entertained at a luncheon to celebrate her 11th birthd ay. Among her guests were Mary Martha Hay, Mary Ann Cashin, Sheila Alder, Carol Cockrell and Kathy Zellnor.

Friends and neighbors welcomed former Stonegate residents, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Brown, who were here for the Stonegate dinner dance. The Browns have spent the past two years living first in Spring Valley, N. Y., and then in Des Moines, and are now househunting in the Stonegate area.

DOUGLAS WARD of Berkely Heights, N. J., was a recent houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Koenig, 1312 Woodford. Mr. Ward, a former neighbor of the Koenigs, when both families lived in New Jersey, was here to attend the AMA convention in Chicago.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 1203 Woodford, during the past week, were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Anderson of Sarasota, Fla. The Andersons had been called here on the death of his father, L. G. Anderson in Cambridge, Wis. The late Mr. Anderson will be remembered by many friends made while he lived in Sherwood with his son and family.

While the Andersons were visiting here, they made several buying trips to Chicago in preparation of a dress shop they will soon open in Sarasota.

Mrs. Theodore Koenig, 343 Bristol lane, and her daughter, Mary Jo, spent a week in Springfield recently, visiting her eldest daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lee Ryan.

AMONG THE many farewell parties for the Robert Hilarides were an open house Saturday given for them by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bergstrom, 507 E. Grove and a small dinner party Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Down, 230 Bristol, with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zonsius as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McFadin of Green Bay, Wis., spent the past weekend in Arlington Heights visiting their son and daughter-in-law, the Robert McFadins, 515 Fairview, before leaving for a 6-week vacation in California.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Black, 436 S Belmont, were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Beers of Traverse City, Mich., and their sons, Bruce and Mark. During the Beers' stay, Mr. and Mrs. Black entertained several other Michigan Betas living in the area.

Thirty members of the "Kouples Klub" of the Methodist church of Arlington Heights, met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edelblute, 209 S. Pine, for dinner and an evening of square dancing. While members of the club shared the cost of the supper, Mrs. Edelblute prepared the entire meal herself, from the shrimp cocktails and roast beef to the cherry pies for dessert.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Johnson, 504 S. Pine, and their four daughters visited for two weeks with her mother, Mrs. E. Millizen, in Indian Rock Beach, Fla. Then leaving the children with their grandmother, they spent four days on one of the out islands of the Bahamas.

A "hole in one" made by George Bolas, 630 S. Beverly lane, while golfing at the Hidden Valley golf club near Boynton Beach, Fla., and the 8 foot 3¾ inch sail fish, largest on record so far, and brought in by his brother-in-law, John Govanus of Park Ridge, while they were deep sea fishing, were highlights of a memorable winter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolas spent two weeks in Boynton Beach as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Govanus who formerly lived in Arlington Heights before taking permanent residency in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, 511 S. Pine, returned last week from Tiburon, Cal., where they spent three weeks visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robin W. Hobart, and their daughters, Carey Ann and Megan. Many parties, given in their honor, and meeting their daughter's friends, made their visit most enjoyable.

Upon returning home, they joined their son, Dr. Roger Kennedy, for a day in town, and attended a performance of "J. B.," and dining out afterwards, bringing Roger up to date on news of his sister. Dr. Kennedy is a resident in internal medicine at the Illinois Research and Education hospital, Chicago.

MR. AND MRS. R. W Daeschner, 310 E. Mayfair, entertained at a dinner party Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klein of Highland Park, and their son and daughter, Susan and Donald, and John Fox and his sister, Miss Mary Alice Fox of Evanston.

Mrs. James Howe, 843 Burton, joined Mrs. V. Parke and Mrs. Irene Kemper of Arlington Heights for a 2-week vacation at Pompano Beach, Fla., where they visited with Mrs. Kemper's mother, Mrs. Amanda Cazel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pratt, 705 Mayfair, returned Sunday from a 3-week vacation in Mexico. They flew down and then traveled extensively throughout the country by auto, with stopovers in Veracruz, Mexico City, Taxco and a 10-day stay in Acapulco.

MRS. FRED Kestner, 800 S. Beverly, entertained Sunday at a buffet supper and baby shower for her niece, Mrs. James Bender of Palatine. Decorations were carried out in pink and blue and the table centerpiece was a cradle with a baby doll in it.

Bud Helmericks, noted Alaskan author, returned to Arlington Heights from a lecture tour for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, 357 Belmont, before returning to his home in northern Alaska. Before he left, the Deans induced him to give one lecture on Alaska, which he gave Sunday at the Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Murphy Sr, 1020 Mayfair rd., are spending three or four weeks in Florida, stopping at Miami Beach, Boca Raton and West Palm Beach. (A

Round 'n About Westgate

New to Westgate, but not to Arlington Heights, are Dorothy and Richard O'Rilley, who moved into 511 N. Yale a week ago Friday with their children, Bobby, 3, and Lorna-Jean, 11 months. Dick works with his father, Earl O'Rilley, in Chicago, where they are egg brokers. They belong to the Presbyterian church.

Dick spends his spare time working with woodcraft, having made several tables and cabinets for their home. He intends to take up photography in the future. Dorothy is interested in drawing and art.

Last Friday Mildred and Donald Misic moved into 1206 W. Grove from Chicago. Donald is employed by Central Scientific of Chicago.

Jerry, son of Dolores and Larry Smith, 1611 Johanna terr., celebrated his 10th birthday last Saturday. After lunch, F. J. Heinz, Paul Coleman, Bob Taylor, Gregg Moody, Alan Van Bladel and Kenny Gabrielson went to the Arlington Bowling lanes for an afternoon of bowling.

Last Saturday evening Audrey and Dick Heidenson, 1421 St. James, entertained four couples from Chicago and one couple from Niles. The men were schoolmates of Dick's.

Karen, daughter of Esther and Carl Fortner, 112 N. Reuter, was 3 March 1 and Lisa and Johnny Venning and Patty Van Bladel were invited to her home for lunch. (A

Nine Churchmen Attend Council

Hasbrook Report

HCA Observes First Birthday

A little over a year ago, ten residents of our Hasbrook subdivision banded together to protect and advance their interests as new homeowners. The name they chose for the group was the Hasbrook Civic Association (HCA).

Today, HCA has grown to 75 families, and has been a primary force in building the attractiveness of the subdivision as a place to live. By so doing, the association has also contributed to the good reputation of Arlington Heights.

It isn't common for a builder to welcome the formation of a homeowners' group. When these groups are formed, it is usually for the purpose of protesting actions by the builder. Not so the Hasbrook Civic Association.

From the beginning, HCA has devoted itself to adding to property values, rather than engaging in squabbles that would make everyone a loser. We at Hasbrook have attempted to minimize the possibility of such squabbles by working with the association wherever we can.

The association has been most valuable in creating a community life for our residents. It has sponsored picnics, parties, and tournaments. Currently members are seeking to establish scouting activities, bowling and golf leagues, and a recreation club, among other things.

RILEY

This work has helped integrate new Hasbrook residents into the life of the subdivision. A friendly neighborhood spirit has been created much faster than would be the case if no association existed.

We honestly feel that HCA has added an intangible measure of value to every new Hasbrook home sold. We also hope to continue to merit its good will and cooperation.

Now starting its second year, the Hasbrook Civic Association is aiming to enlist every new family in its ranks. From our point of view, the $4 per family yearly dues are a worthwhile investment. We wish HCA the best of luck in its membership drive.

THE CHICAGO Daily News was very generous in its coverage of our battle to reduce the costs of home-building. Many people who read the story in the February 26 issue were surprised that so many high costs are the result of restrictions by "vested interests."

We hope that more people will feel as we do and bring to light practices and regulations which they believe to be unfair.

IN DISCUSSING Arlington Heights' problems with one of our village trustees, we learned that the village officials are perplexed and sometimes stalled by the indifference of many people to these problems.

"When a person buys a home, he should realize his responsibilities go much further than keeping his house painted and his lawn trimmed," this man told us. Then he offered three points to help homeowners who want to have a voice in the community but don't know how to go about it.

1. Study the issues thoroughly before you sound off. "Too many people have to be 'diseducated' before we can take proper action," this official said. If citizens took the time to learn all the facts in the first place, much misunderstanding could be avoided and precious time could be saved.

2. Speak up for a proposal, not only when you're against something. This official told us that when the village board considers a controversial topic, the meeting room is packed with opponents. Hardly an advocate bothers to show up.

"Don't make the mistake of thinking that just because you're in favor of something, you don't have to fight for it," he said.

3. Participate in your local improvement association, if you have one. These associations usually take the time to study an issue, and can generally consolidate opinion better than an individual can.

4. Don't be afraid or ashamed to run for office. Arlington Heights, like practically all other suburbs of Chicago, is affected by the stigma of "big city politics." This keeps many able people from seeking suburban government posts.

The fact is that suburban government is generally honest, clean, ethical, and free from the "city hall" taint of Chicago. While the caucus system of Arlington Heights has the effect of the office seeking the man, this should not prevent you, as an individual, from seeking an office.

The village trustee ended by saying: "If you have a contribution to make and speak out in an intelligent, informed way, you will be noted and invited to participate in your village affairs. But you have to make the first move."

IF YOU KNOW of anyone who's looking for a quality home at a reasonable price, we think we have what they're looking for. Our refurbished models offer many features that were previously limited to high-priced homes. These features include built-in vanities, oversize family rooms, separate dining rooms, wood paneled walls, and fireplaces.

Even if you're not in the market for a home, we hope you'll stop in to visit our models on Palatine Road.

Cordially,
Albert E. Riley

"IT TAKES VISION AND COURAGE TO CREATE"

The large pharmaceutical firms who supply the medicines we dispense in your prescriptions spend up to 10% of their income on research. No sooner do they perfect a new drug to treat a particular ailment, then they immediately start to find a still better one to replace it.

It takes courage to invest such vast sums in research. If no important discovery develops, profits can vanish. Medicines that originally cost millions of research dollars to creat finally, when perfected, cost only a few dollars per treatment.

Several birthday parties for the younger set last week filled their social calendar. Among the celebrants was 3-year-old Mary Beth Woehlck of 1112 N. Pine ct., who observed the occasion with a luncheon party February 24. Guests included Kathy and Craig Warman, Bobby Tangen, Nancy and Jody Wotruba, Susie, Peter, Henry and Sheryl Damiano, Mark and Patti Foreman, Sandy and Ruth Jahnke and Christy Swoboda. Favors, games and records amused the youngsters while the mothers enjoyed coffee.

Miss Karen Weirich, 715 E. Clarendon ave., celebrated her 15th birthday February 24. Joining her for birthday cake and ice cream Wednesday afternoon were her brothers, sisters and next-door neighbors, George, Marie, Bobby, Ellen and Mary Pisors. A second observance on Saturday included an aunt, Mrs. Lillian Jezioro, cousins, Theresa and Nancy, and uncle Ted Zbylut of Chicago, who was also observing a birthday.

Three-year-old Mary Pisors of 711 E. Clarendon ave. birthday partied February 26. Attending her party were Billy and Renee Lippens, the Weirich children, Karen, Paul, Tom, Philip, Kenny and Johnny, and her brothers and sisters.

DENNIS FLANNERY, 1200 N. Hickory, celebrated his eighth birthday Saturday afternoon. Guests Steven Radcliffe, Paul Bartlett, Donna and Ronnie Zaborowski, Ken Krewer and Martin Willow, besides his brothers, John, Brian, Terry and Timmy, enjoyed the birthday cake and ice cream after a children's matinee at Arlington theatre.

Susan Damiano of 1120 N. Pine ct. celebrated her fourth birthday on Sunday with a dinner party that included her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Chicago. Monday a luncheon party was attended by a number of her young friends and their mothers. Seated around the birthday table were Kathy and Craig Warman, Nancy and Jody Wotruba, Mary Beth Woehlek, Marilyn Rateike, Mark and Patti Foreman, Debbie and Sandy Jannke, brothers, Peter and Henry, and sister, Sherie.

Eight-year-old Ellen Kargol of 618 E. Clarendon ave., whose February 29 birthday made this only her second birthday celebration calendarwise. A dinner at Dick's Corral on Saturday evening was given by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kupel of Chicago, to observe the occasion. Monday an afterschool party was attended by Spring Sedlak, Patricia Danna, Patsy Tackes, Janet Saflarski, Marilyn Willow and her sister, Jeane.

MR. AND MRS. Ed Zelsmann, 710 E. Clarendon ave., were joined by the Robert Nichols, Cedric Crains and the Ted Fonfaras for dinner at Wellers in Morton Grove last Saturday evening. Mrs. Zelsmann was observing a birthday and the Fonfaras celebrating a wedding anniversary.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Coward, 1142 N. Dryden, for five days last week were Mrs. Coward's mother, Mrs. Anna Johnstone of Ellsworth, Mich. who motored down with two other daughters, Mrs. Alice Sinclair and Mrs. Walter Kemp of nearby East Jordan.

Mrs. Jane Bee and her children, Debbie and Robby of 1137 N. Douglas ave., turbo-jetted home last Wednesday after a 3-week visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Klofkorn of Largo, Fla.

Also returning from warmer climes last weekend were the William Kellys of 1142 N. Hickory ave. Their 2-week motor trip along the Gulf of Mexico included stops at Panama City, Fla., Biloxi, Miss. and New Orleans, where they enjoyed touring the French Quarter. (A

Legal Notice

Public Notice is hereby given that the Cemetery Trustees of the Town of Wheeling have been presented with a petition signed by the required number of legal voters of the Township. Said petition asks that an annual tax be levied for the control and maintenance of and the purchase of land and construction of necessary buildings for the cemeteries of said Township.

In accordance with the statutes made and provided, I do hereby give notice that at the next annual Town Meeting of Wheeling Township on April 5th, 1960, that at such meeting every elector may vote "For the levy of a tax to control, maintain and purchase land and construction of necessary buildings for cemeteries," or "Against the levy of a tax to chase land and construction of necessary buildings for cemeteries."

Advertisement for Bids

VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS
MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Sealed bids for the construction of a Municipal Building will be received at the Office of the Village Clerk, 107 West Davis Street, Arlington Heights, Illinois until 8 P.M., March 21, 1960. The bids will be publicly opened and read aloud at 8 P.M. on that date in the Board of Trustees chambers.

The contract documents including plans and specifications, are on file and available for inspection and for bidding purposes at the office of the Village Clerk, and at the Office of the Architect, Joe Bennett, 3 North Broadway, Des Plaines, Illinois. The above may be obtained upon the deposit of $25.00 per set, which will be returned in full upon the return of the plans in good condition within ten days after opening of bids.

A bid bond, a certified check, cashiers check, or bank draft drawn on a solvent bank payable without condition to the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, in an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the bid, shall be submitted with each proposal as a guarantee that if the proposal is accepted, a contract will be entered into and the performance of the contract properly secured.

No bid shall be withdrawn after the opening of proposals without the consent of the Village for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time of closing bids.

Bids will be accepted as a combined bid on the entire job or separately on the following: General, Plumbing, Heating and Air Conditioning, and Electrical.

The Village of Arlington Heights reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, to waive any informalities or irregularities in bidding, or in the bids received, and to accept any proposal which is deemed most favorable to the Village.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond in the sum of the full amount of the Contract.

The proposals are solicited to include the furnishing of all labor, materials, equipment, tools, supplies, etc., required for the construction of said Municipal Building.

Plans and specifications were prepared by Joe Bennett, Architect, 3 North Broadway, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Library Suggests Books on Youth

Parents bewildered by adolescent behaviour can get help and advice from the many excellent books on youth at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library, according to Mrs. Charles Stadelman, Librarian.

If parents know what type of behaviour to expect from their teen-age sons and daughters, needless anxieties can be replaced by constructive measures, according to the books.

A recently published book on this subject is Eric Johnson's "How to Live Through Junior High School." The guide, written by a junior high school principal, gives practical advice to parents about dealing with such teen-age problems as cliques, boy-girl relationships, homework, family disagreement, and sex.

THE MOST comprehensive and authoritative manual is "Youth: The Years from 10 to 16," which was published several years ago. Written by the famed Dr. Arnold Gesell and his collaborators, Dr. Frances L. Ilg and Louise Bates Ames, the book offers reassurance and concrete assistance to harassed parents in guiding and understanding their growing teen-agers.

Another excellent handbook is Dorothy Baruch's "How to Live with Your Teen-ager" which gives parents a better understanding of the adolescent and his problems.

A number of recently-published books, including Pat Boone's "Twixt 12 and 20," Abigail Van Buren's "Dear Teen-ager," and William Menninger's "Blueprint for teen-age Living," are directed at the teen-ager rather than the parent.

OTHER BOOKS which offer helpful advice on teen-age problems are "Understanding Teen - Agers," by Paul Landis; "Sex and Adolescent," by Maxine Davis; "Family Guide to Teen-age Health," by Edward Wilkes; "Teens, — How to Meet Your Problems," by John E. Crawford; "How to Be a Successful Teen-ager," by Wm. C. Menninger; and many others.

An Ordinance

PROVIDING FOR THE PRORATION OF COST OF CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY SEWER IN RIDGE AVENUE BETWEEN GROVE STREET AND PARK STREET IN THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

WHEREAS THOMAS A. CATINO, who at the time was the owner of and interested in the lots and premises located on Ridge Avenue between Grove Street and Park Street, in the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, has heretofore caused to be constructed, by private contract, and has paid the cost thereof, a sanitary sewer in said Ridge Avenue, which said improvement with its appurtenances so constructed, can serve property on the east side and the west side of Ridge Avenue between Grove Street and Park Street, and described as follows:

Lots 21 to 30, inclusive, in Arlington Manor Subdivision, a Subdivision of part of the Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of Section 31, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian and part of Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of Section 30, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian; also Lots 4, 5 and 6 in Caroline Fiene's Subdivision, being a subdivision of part of Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of Section 31, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian; also Lots, 8, 9 and 10 in Hoyt's Subdivision, being a subdivision of part of Northeast Quarter (NE¼) of Section 31, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian, and,

WHEREAS said improvement so constructed is and will be of benefit to said adjoining and adjacent lots and property hereinbefore described; and

WHEREAS the said THOMAS A. CATINO was given permission to construct said improvement by private contract, with the understanding that the Village of Arlington Heights be not charged with any part of the cost thereof, and with the further understanding that an ordinance be passed by the Village of Arlington Heights, after the completion of said improvement, requiring that the owners of any property adjacent thereto desiring to make use thereof pay the proportionate share of the cost of said improvement, to be used in reimbursement of the said THOMAS A. CATINO, or his heirs or assigns, for the proportionate cost of the construction thereof; and,

WHEREAS the cost for the sanitary sewer and the engineering in connection therewith was $2,563.49 and paid for by the said THOMAS A. CATINO and that the total number of lineal feet so improved was 1,176.52 feet, and that the amount equitably chargeable to the property is $2.19 per lineal foot for such property.

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village find said costs and charges to be reasonable and in their judgment less than the cost of such improvement if constructed by special assessment; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS:

SECTION ONE: That the cost of said improvement, which does not include any house connection or service pipes, is hereby determined and fixed at the rate of $2.19 per lineal foot of property adjacent thereto on the east side and the west side of Ridge Avenue between Grove Street and Park Street, said amount being the cost of the construction of said improvement and engineering and other costs paid for the construction thereof by the said THOMAS A. CATINO.

An Ordinance

PROVIDING FOR THE PRORATION OF COST OF CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY SEWER AND WATER MAINS IN RIDGE AVENUE BETWEEN GROVE STREET AND PARK STREET IN THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

WHEREAS THOMAS A. CATINO, who at the time was the owner of and interested in the lots and premises located on Ridge Avenue between Grove Street and Park Street, in the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, has heretofore caused to be constructed, by private contract, and has paid the cost thereof, water mains and sewer covering subdivision and portions thereto, which said improvement with their appurtenances so constructed, can serve property in said subdivision and adjacent property, which said lots though not owned by MILLS AND SONS, INC., are being benefitted, and which said lots as to the water mains and sanitary sewers placed thereon are described as follows:

Lots 150, 153, 135, 154, 161, 98, 76, 58, 57, 55, 54, 37, 36, 31, 25, 24, 21, 20, 19, 13 and 100 of H. Roy Berry Company's Arlington Acres, a subdivision of part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter and the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 33, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying North of Northwest Highway, in Cook County, Illinois, and

Lots 19 through 36, both inclusive, in Stoltzner's Greenview Estates, First Addition, being a subdivision of part of the West one-half of the Northeast Quarter of Section 33, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian in Cook County, Illinois, and

WHEREAS said improvement so constructed is and will be of benefit to the above legally described properties; and

WHEREAS the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., was given permission to construct said improvement by private contract, with the understanding that the Village of Arlington Heights be not charged with any part of the cost thereof, and with the further understanding that an ordinance be passed by the Village of Arlington Heights, after the completion of said improvement, requiring that the owners of any property adjacent thereto desiring to make use thereof pay the proportionate share of the cost of said improvements, to be used in reimbursement of the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., or its heirs or assigns, for the proportionate cost of the construction thereof, and,

WHEREAS the cost for the water mains and the engineering in connection therewith as it affects the above described lots was in the total sum of $48,632.42 and paid for by the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., and that the total number of lots so improved was 163, and that the amount equitably chargeable to the property is $298.36 per lot for such property; and

WHEREAS MILLS AND SONS, INC., who at the time were the owner of and interested in certain lots in a subdivision hereinafter more specifically and legally described, in the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, had heretofore caused to be constructed, by private contract, and paid the cost thereof, water mains covering subdivision and portions thereto, which said improvement with their appurtenances so constructed, can serve property in said subdivision and adjacent property, which said lots though not owned by MILLS AND SONS, INC., are being benefitted, and which said lots as to the water mains placed thereon are described as follows:

Lots 150, 153, 135, 154, 161, 98, 76, 58, 57, 55, 54, 37, 36, 31, 25, 24, 21, 20, 19, 13, 100, 102, 105, 106, and 109 of H. Roy Berry Company's Arlington Acres, a subdivision of part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter and the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 33, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying North of Northwest Highway, in Cook County, Illinois, and

Lots 19 through 36, both inclusive, in Stoltzner's Greenview Estates, First Addition, being a subdivision of part of the West one-half of the Northeast Quarter of Section 33, Township 42 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian in Cook County, Illinois, and

WHEREAS said improvement so constructed is and will be of benefit to the above legally described properties; and

WHEREAS the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., was given permission to construct said improvement by private contract, with the understanding that the Village of Arlington Heights be not charged with any part of the cost thereof, and with the further understanding that an ordinance be passed by the Village of Arlington Heights, after the completion of said improvement, requiring that the owners of any property adjacent thereto desiring to make use thereof pay the proportionate share of the cost of said improvements, to be used in reimbursement of the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., or its heirs or assigns, for the proportionate cost of the construction thereof, and,

WHEREAS the cost for the sanitary sewers and the engineering in connection therewith as it affects the above described lots was in the total sum of $30,490.70 and paid for by the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., and that the total number of lots so improved was 155, and that the amount equitably chargeable to the property is $196.71 per lot for such property; and

WHEREAS the President and Board of Trustees of the Village find said costs and charges to be reasonable and in their judgment less than the cost of such improvement if constructed by special assessment; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS:

SECTION ONE: That the cost of said improvement as to the water mains, which do not include any house connection or service pipes, is hereby determined and fixed at the rate of $298.36 per lot of property in said subdivision and adjacent property, said amount being the cost of the construction of said improvement and engineering and other costs paid for the construction thereof by the said MILLS AND SONS, INC.

SECTION TWO: That no person, firm or corporation, being the owner of or party interested, nor any contractor, agent or other representative of such owner or party interested, of the above and the following described premises, to-wit:

Lots 150, 153, 135, 154, 161, 98, 76, 58, 57, 55, 54, 37, 36, 31, 25, 24, 21, 20, 19, 13, 100, 102, 105, 108 and 109 of H. Roy Berry Company's Arlington Acres, a subdivision of part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter and the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 33, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying North of Northwest Highway, in Cook County, Illinois, and shall connect to or obtain service from said improvement without first obtaining a permit from the Village of Arlington Heights to make such connection. No such permit shall be issued unless the applicant will first pay to the Village of Arlington Heights for the use of the said MILLS AND SONS, INC., or its heirs or assigns, the sum equal to $298.36 per lot of such applicant's property to be served by such improvement. Such charge and the amount so paid, shall entitle such property owner to connect to any or all of said improvement, and shall be in addition to the usual charges and fees payable to the Village for making sewer connections. Such payment shall not relieve such property owner or owners from the payment of the established sewer rentals chargeable by said Village for sewer service rendered and furnished.

SECTION THREE: All moneys collected by the Village from such adjacent property owners for such connection charges, provided for in the preceding section of this ordinance, except the usual connection fees and charges made by the Village in other instances, shall, within thirty (30) days after receipt thereof by the Village, be paid to the said THOMAS A. CATINO, or his heirs or assigns, less, however, an amount of two per cent (2%) to be retained by the Village for the cost of collection, legal and publication costs with a minimum fee of $100.00 paid from the first sums collected.

SECTION FOUR: Any person, firm or corporation being the owner or owners of or parties interested in any of said property being capable of being served by said improvement, and any contractor, agent or representative of any such person, firm or corporation making connections with the improvement hereinbefore described, without first making application to the Village for a permit, and without first paying the fees and charges herein provided for, shall be subject to a fine of not less than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00), and upon conviction thereof, the Village shall enter upon said street and remove all such connections so made within the street lines of said street.

SECTION FIVE: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

MR. BENDER has recently taken a course on the various phases of flower arrangements and will answer any question. The public is invited to enjoy this demonstration with the club members. (A

TV Dance Team Set For Concert Mar. 13

MATA AND HARI dance team run through routine in preparation for performance in Arlington high school girls gym, Sunday, March 13, at 8:15 p.m. Arlington Heights Community concert is sponsoring the act.

Mata and Hari, long time concert favorites and now a dance team on television, will perform in the Arlington high school girls gym March 13 at 8:15 p.m.

The Arlington Heights Community concert is sponsoring this performance.

Recognized as outstanding satirists and mimes, Mata and Hari have appeared on Broadway shows, at numerous supper clubs, and have made frequent guest appearances on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

Their repertoire consists of at least 40 different dances and characterizations, all of which are their own creations.

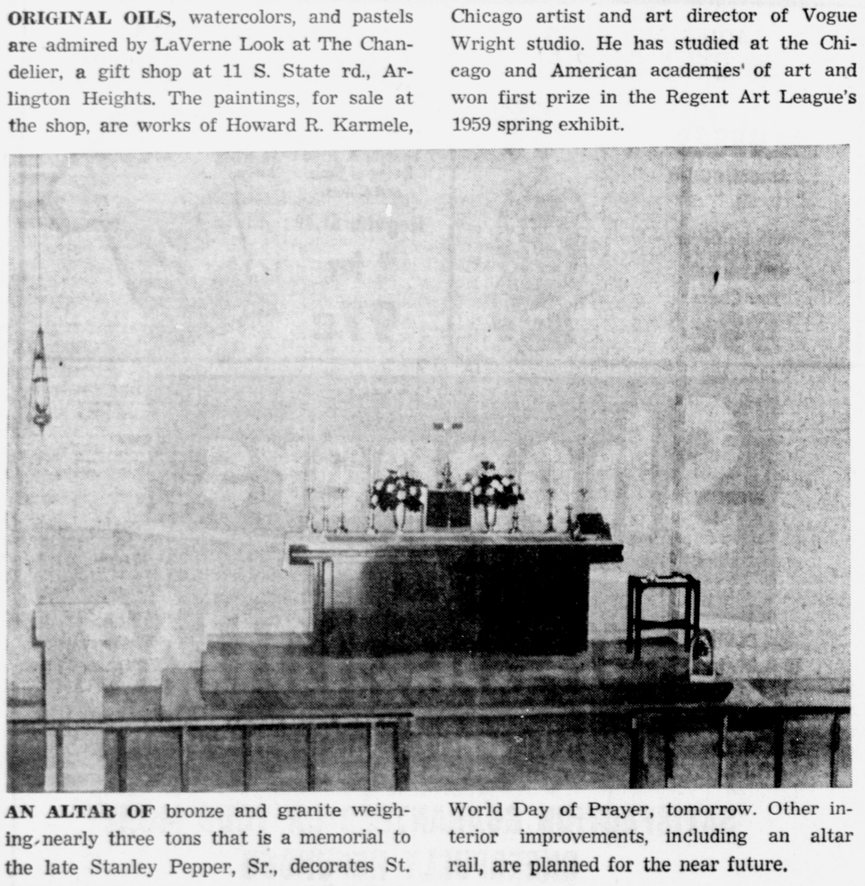
RUTH MATA AND Eugene Hari originally came from Zurich, Switzerland, but never met until they were established professional dancers in the same Swiss ballet company.

They didn't become husband and wife until after they had come to this country with the ballet troupe for the first time in 1939.

When the company disbanded in 1940, all of its members with the exception of Mata and Hari returned to Europe.

The Swiss-born dancers turned to the concert stage in 1947 and now devote about six months a year to their nation tours.

On their current tour they will visit more than 75 American and Canadian cities. (A



ORIGINAL OILS, watercolors, and pastels are admired by LaVerne Look at The Chandelier, a gift shop at 11 S. State rd., Arlington Heights. The paintings, for sale at the shop, are works of Howard R. Karmele, Chicago artist and art director of Vogue Wright studio. He has studied at the Chicago and American academies' of art and won first prize in the Regent Art League's 1959 spring exhibit.

AN ALTAR OF bronze and granite weighing nearly three tons that is a memorial to the late Stanley Pepper, Sr., decorates St. Philip's Episcopal church, scene of Palatine's World Day of Prayer, tomorrow. Other interior improvements, including an altar rail, are planned for the near future.

Ike Cites Dad, 37, 'Top Handicapped'

Dwight D. Guilfoil 633 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, has been selected to receive the President's trophy as the handicapped American of the year for 1959.

The announcement was made by Major General Melvin J. Mass, chairman of president Eisenhower's committee on employment of the physically handicapped.

Guilfoil, a 37 year-old father of seven children and president of the Paraplegic Manufacturing company, has been confined to a wheelchair since 1943 as a result of being stricken with spinal meningitis and polio while in the Air Force as an aerial photographer.

He will receive the trophy from President Eisenhower at the annual meeting May 5 in the department auditorium in Washington, D.C.

THE TROPHY is given annually by the President's committee to the person, who, in the previous calendar year, surmounted a serious handicap and went on to serve other handicapped persons.

With several other physically impaired men and women Guilfoil founded the Paraplegic Manufacturing company in Franklin Park in 1950.

After serving as treasurer and general manager of the firm, he was elected president and chairman of the board of directors in 1955.

The firm currently employs more than 100 severely handicapped persons.

Dwight D. Guilfoil

IN HIS work on behalf of handicapped persons, Guilfoil has appeared before numerous legislative committees to offer testimony regarding the important problems presented by the needs of handicapped men and women.

He was selected as "Chicago Father" of 1953 and "Mr. Illinois" of 1953. In 1957 Guilfoil was named one of the outstanding young Chicagoans by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The same year he was selected as one of the outstanding young men of the United States by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. (A

Judge Dismisses Builder Lawsuit

A builder's lawsuit, filed in 1957, against Arlington Heights for the right to build homes with septic tanks on 22 lots has been dismissed by Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

The court was informed last week that the builder, Herber R. Jacobsen, has sold the lots, and thus the issues in the case now are moot.

JACOBSEN, who developed the Sherwood area in Arlington Heights, had sought a writ of mandamus compelling village officials to issue building permits for lots containing less than 20,000 square feet. One was on Salem boulevard, 100 feet north of Watling street.

This was a hardship case, Jacobsen contended. The suit asserted a septic tank for the lot was necessary because the only alternative was too expensive. The closest tie-in then to the village sewer system was two blocks away. Running a sewer extension to it from the lot would cost $65,000, said Jacobsen, president of J. R. Jacobsen, Inc., 1714 E. Northwest hwy, Arlington Heights. (A

PTA Talent Shows Are Successful Benefits

After the third successful PTA talent show, the school board, which up until now had given the general chairman a free hand, made a request for "an old time minstrel."

Mrs. Mary Gabor was general chairman in 1958 and was assisted in directing the show by Mrs. Hazel Peterson, a music teacher in our school system.

WITH THE ENTIRE cast in black face, the make-up department was nearly as important as the actual cast.

For the minstrel, the make-up people, as well as the stage crew, were all volunteers from our PTA and contributed much to the success of the show.

Naturally, there were endmen, a Mr. Interlocuter and Dixiebelles.

Anyone who saw this show still rememebrs the southern schoolroom scene, which boasted of having Bob Campbell, Bob Spinks and Phil Worland in the cast. These are principals of three Arlington Heights schools and the audience loved them.

IT SEEMS once you are in black face no one recognizes you anyway—so many otherwise shy and retiring fellows blossomed forth with clever and sometimes very impromptu dialogue.

The music from the minstrel show was so appealing and the PTA Mother and Fathers' chorus were to be remembered for their fine contribution in 1958, also.

"Ain't We Got Fun" was the title of the 1959 production. It was written, directed and produced by Marian and Pete Keefer. The theme was "The Roarin' 20's and the story-line of boy meets girl, and of the people in their neighborhood, and was well received.

The music was all authentically typical of the era and so catchy and toe tapping.

The big change this year was having a wonderful group of local men provide the musical background.

BUSY REHEARSING its 1960 talent show is Arlington Heights PTA. Shown at Sunday's rehearsal is Ann Johnson, who will be remembered as Miss Plinkett in last year's production as well as the 1958 show.

UP UNTIL this show, an orchestra had been hired and they only rehearsed with the cast once before the final production. This proved to be almost impossible for the performers and the orchestra.

So, to have Mel Landmeir, Jim Mason, Ray Mell, Bob Koch, Al Isaacs and Don Goedke attend rehearsals and provide the music for the entire show was indeed a wonderful addition.

The entire stage crew and make-up people were PTA volunteers and the whole production was made up of local talent.

The "cop on the beat," the big time racketeer, the college crowd and the speakeasy regulars learned to live and think and breathe the 1920's and anyone who couldn't and do the Charleston or the Shimmy by the end of this show just didn't exist.

DICK DOWN and Bob Spinks provided the subtle comedy touch to the show, as a couple of enterprising bums who join the Charleston City queens in their speakeasy dance number. This brought the curtain down on the 1959 PTA show.

It seems the audience becomes more appreciative each year and the coments on this show were all glowing and praising.

The 1960 show, entitled "The Marriage of Mary Brown," is well on its way to becoming another great success for the parents and teachers of Arlington Heights. (A NURSE PREPARES to take a pint of blood from Sp4 Joyce Plaisted of Arlington Heights' Nike missile base. He was one of 18 men from the site who answered an emergency call by Mrs. Edward B. Stine, 111 S. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights to donate blood for her husband who had to undergo four operations recently. Mr. Stine required 40 pints of blood, but only 22 were donated by the community [illegible] what was needed. The balance was given by the servicemen. (AF

Methodist Church Begins Family Lenten Series Sunday

First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will begin its annual family lenten series Sunday, March 6. The program each Sunday evening will follow the pattern of a 5:30 snack supper, followed by classes for all ages, nursery, children, youth and adults, at 6:15 p.m.

Adult classes will be as follows: a class for parents of teenagers, "The Family Meeting Crises," with Dr. Grant Shockley, professor of Christian Education at Garrett Biblical institute, as leader; Gospel of John, taught by Rev. Dale E. Owens, minister of evangelism at the church; "Christian Worship, Symbols, and Doctrine," taught by Dr. Hughes B. Morris, senior minister. This class is open to members and prospective members with credit being given to those persons who wish to join the church.

AT 7:10 P.M. all youth and adult classes will move to the sanctuary for worship with the guest speaker. March 6, Dr. Carleton Rogers, pastor of First Methodist church in Elgin will bring the message. He has served the First Methodist church, Durand-Burritt, Ill., Grace Methodist church, Lake Bluff, and has been at Elgin since 1950. He was a civilian chaplain at Veterans' hospital, Downey, in 1944 and 1945.

He was an instructor in psychology at Lake Forest college, from 1946 to 1950. He has been chairman of world service and finance commission of the Rock River Annual conference and president of Elgin Community Chest board.

DURING THE summer of 1954 he travelled with 16 other Methodist ministers chosen throughout the nation by the board of evangelism, on a mission to South America, visiting in 11 countries. During the summer of 1956, together with Mrs. Rogers, he travelled in 21 foreign countries to study the missionary work of the church and to learn about world conditions at first hand, concentrating on the Middle and Far East in addition to travels throughout Europe and the Holy Land.

During the summer of 1957, Dr. Rogers was selected as one of nine ministers to go on a preaching mission to the Philippines. His companion and preaching partner on this mission was Dr. J. Manning Potts, editor of the Upper Room. During the summer of 1959, together with Mrs. Rogers, he toured Europe and the Middle East, travelling in 15 countries. Among these were Russia, East and West Berlin, Istanbul, Israeli and Jerusalem.

Dr. Rogers has degrees from Hamline university, St. Paul and Northwestern university and Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston. (AM

Gas Firm Reports Record Expansion

A record-breaking 43,298 new customers and revenues of more than $100 million for the first time in Northern Illinois Gas company's history highlighted the utility's annual report released this week.

Marvin Chandler, president, told stockholders that total revenues in 1959 were 15 per cent more than 1958 Earnings were $1.80 per common share, an increase of 39 cents over 1958. Quarterly dividends on common stock increased from 22 cents to 25 cents effective last May 1.

The 28 per cent increase in earnings was attributed chiefly to the 118 million cubic feet additional pipeline supply obtained during the year, which permitted over 78,000 more residences to heat with gas. NI-Gas' pipeline supply now is 518 million cubic feet daily, a 50 per cent increase within about a year.

ADDITION of new customers by NI-Gas continued at about twice the national rate. The utility was serving nearly 673,000 customers in 285 northern Illinois communities at the year's end.

As 1959 closed, 56 per cent, 356,270, of all NI-Gas residential customers heated their homes with natural gas. These customers accounted for 57 per cent of total revenues. Commercial and industrial sales also rose in 1959, 16 and 28 per cent, respectively, contributing to the record year.

Chandler pointed out that the additional daily pipeline supplies received in 1959, and the 144 million cubic feet more per day expected later this year as well as the brightening underground storage picture has made it possible for NI-Gas to clear up its resdential space heat waiting list.

These factors also permitted NI-Gas to authorize space heat on a limited basis to commercial and industrial buildings.

WITH GAS available now for heating all residential and new commercial and industrial buildings, NI-Gas hopes to end heating restrictions this year.

NI-Gas construction expenditures for 1959 totaled nearly $41 million, almost double that spent in 1958.

The report indicated NI-Gas will need an estimated $120 million of new capital to meet the five-year construction program. The company sold $15 million of 5.50 per cent preferred stock in January as the first step in raising this money and said it probably will need about $25 million additional capital before the end of the year.

No definite plans on this financing have been determined.

CONTINUING progress was reported for NI-Gas Supply, Inc., the utility's wholly-owned subsidiary. During 1959, the exploration subsidiary had participated with eight experienced operators in drilling 61 wells. Of these, 26 were gas producers, 11 oil producers, and 6 both gas and oil.

Indications are that ultimate revenue from the sale of products from all wells will exceed total expenditures to date. At the year's end, 38 producing wells in which the company had participated were tied into pipeline systems of its suppliers.

Cerebral Palsy Drive Under Way in Suburbs

The annual drive of United Cerebral Palsy got under way this week in Chicago and Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane county suburbs. The drive will be conducted through March 20 by local chairmen and their volunteer workers.

Named chairman of the Rolling Meadows area, was Mrs. Daniel Wallner, 3727 Wren lane, while Mrs. Emil Roeske, 407 N. Campbell, will head the Arlington Heights area. Mt. Prospect chairman is Mrs. Eric Gabler, 708 Dresser, and Palatine chairman is Mrs. George Vogeler, 253 Kirchoff rd. Mrs. Arthur Nimmer Jr., 400 S. Meadowbrook lane, is chairman of the Wheeling area.

MRS. HARRY BENNETT, 10921 Oketo, is chairman of the Wood Dale area and Bensenville chairmen are Mrs. Robert Ploetz Jr., 279 S. Central, Mrs. John Hansen, 458 S. Barron, Mrs. John Wedell, 171 S. Barron, Mrs. William Thompson, 1210 Brookwood, and Mrs. Edward Wardzala, 1210 Argyle.

Some of the activities of the local volunteers include distribution of canisters in business districts, meetings with local clubs, displaying of posters, distribution of informational leaflets and organization of the "53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy" to be held Sunday, March 20.

Dr. Vernon Tracht, staff psychologist with United Cerebral Palsy, was featured speaker at the kick-off luncheon March 1 at Kungsholm restaurant. In his talk he explained that UCP tries to provide vocational and social opportunities for the cerebral palsied adult to help him lead a normal, satisfying life.

Prospect Students In Winter Concert

The Prospect high school music department will present its annual Winter Concert Saturday, March 5, at 8 p.m. in the Prospect high school gymnasium. The concert will feature the 57 piece symphonic band and the newly formed dance band. There will be two vocal ensembles, The Mellotones and the High Notes.

The symphonic band under the direction of Edward W. Volz will present selections from both classical and present day composers. The band will pay An Occasional Suite by George Fredrick Handel, Alleluia by Mozart, and excerpts from the opera Die Meistersinger. The music from Walt Disney's movie "Sleeping Beauty" will be performed as well as the music from the current TV series "The United States Steel Hour."

THE NEWEST group in the music department is the 16 piece dance band. They will play I Remember April and Woodchopper's Ball.

The Mellotones is a vocal ensemble consisting of nine girls under the direction of Miss June Leick. They will sing Silently Into The Night. Twelve boys and girls comprise the vocal group known as the High Notes. They will sing Good Night, Good Night Beloved. (ACM

Leaders' Training

All present and prospective Camp Fire guardians, sponsors and interested parents in the Hoffman Estates, Palatine, Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights districts are invited to attend the spring training course offered by the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls. Classes will meet at Pioneer Park fieldhouse, Arlington Heights, over a 4-day period, commencing March 9 from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. and continuing again at 1 p.m. through 3 p.m. March 10 and 15 sessions will be scheduled for the same time with the final session of March 16 meeting during the morning hours only.

Camp Fire orientation, history and organization will be on the agenda for sessions 1 and 2 Wednesday. Thursday's programming will cover ranks, honors and memory books during the morning session with symbolism and program being discussed at the afternoon session. Later sessions will deal with program planning, outdoor training and group ceremonials.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Gale Oberlin, CL 5-5434, Arlington Heights district training committee chairman.

Museum Day

Climb aboard the museum special for Camp Fire Saturday at the Chicago Natural History Museum, Roosevelt rd. and Lake Shore dr.

The program starts at 10:30 a.m. and the theme will be based on the Golden Jubilee Girl project. Camp Fire Girls will give the opening ceremony, and act as hostesses for the day.

"CONSERVATION is our Business" is the theme for the program in the Museum's theatre. All Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon club members are invited to participate in this program which will open with a Camp Fire Girl ceremony, including "America the Beautiful," the conservation pledge, and the Camp Fire Girl conservation song.

Two motion pictures will be shown, "Adventuring in Conservation" and "World in a Marsh." After the scheduled program, groups will tour the museum exhibits related to conservation. Lunch rooms are provided for those who wish to bring their own lunches.

'Windjamer'

"Windjammer," the first Cinemiracle production, which is magnificent and educational for young people, is currently being presented exclusively in the midwest area at the McVickers theatre in Chicago, and the special service department has scheduled a series of special morning performances for Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Clubbers. March 12 and 26 performances are already filled to capacity, but openings remain for April 2 and 9 performances.

A special admission price of 90 cents per seat will prevail at these performances for all youth group members, leaders and parents. Reservations should be made through the group's leader. Special performances of "Windjammer," in gorgeous Eastman color, begin at 10 a.m. and finish at 12:15 p.m.

Palatine

Tanda Camp Fire Girls of Quentins Corner school held a valentine party February 12 in the home of their guardian, Mrs. Herbert Noftz. The evening party included games and dancing and was attended by fellow classmates of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Also on the guest list was Mrs. Robert, their teacher. Prepared and served by the girls were refreshments of cookies and hot chocolate.

Mount Prospect

Iyokihi Camp Fire Girls, fifth grade group from Busse school, recently enjoyed an afternoon of bowling at the River Rand Bowl in Des Plaines. Mrs. Gerhard Seyring and Mrs. Marce Starck accompanied the girls and all were in favor of repeating the activity in the near future.

Late in January, the Iyokihi Camp Fire group made scissor holders out of oilcloth. The holders were in the shape of old fashioned boots and were sold to earn money for the group.

Narcissus bulbs, purchased with group funds, were planted during a January meeting and cared for by the members until February 15 when a trip was made to the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Arlington Heights and presented to the residents of the home.

Arlington Heights

Little Fawns Blue Birds, fourth grade group from Ridge school, have adopted the Thorsen Nursing home in Arlington Heights. They made window decorations for them at Christmas time and sent valentines to the residents on Cupid's day. They are also remembered on their birthdays with cards. Just before Christmas, the girls visited the home to chat with the ladies and to sing the German Christmas carols which they had learned.

COLLECTING "Toys for Tots" and clothes for a needy Mexican family was another project that kept the Little Fawns busy just before the holidays.

During the recent Camp Fire Girls' Wampum Roundup, the group had an exhibit in Peterson's Furniture store, displaying many of the handicrafts they have made in the past two and one half years. Among these were the honey comb candles they made for their mothers this past Christmas and dad's Christmas gift of a handkerchief which each girl embroidered with her father's initial.

Birthday Dinner

Blue Bird mother-daughter birthday dinner to be held Tuesday, March 8, at 6:30 p.m. in Arlington high school cafeteria will be the first of and council fires to celebrate the beginning of Camp Fire's Golden Jubilee year, marked by the March 17 Founders day observance.

Reservations have been received for 475 Blue Birds and their mothers, who represent 22 groups from the Arlington Heights district.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

By BOB FRISK

THERE'S A SECTION in the West Suburban conference by-laws devoted to awards, including an explanation of the coveted President's Cup.

This traveling trophy is awarded annually to the school with the best composite record in varsity and frosh-soph divisions of football, basketball, cross country, wrestling, golf, tennis, baseball, and track.

The composite ranking of the schools is determined by adding together the numbers of the place standings of each school in each sport. The school with the lowest total is the winner of the cup.

BARRY GLASHAGEL

For all practical purposes, the by-laws from 1948 through 1959 could have simply stated that the trophy is awarded annually to Lyons township high school.

Although LaGrange has been threatened for the top spot—including an impressive effort by Arlington during the 1958-59 school year—the Lions have come out in the leading position for twelve straight years!

But the picture isn't as optimistic for LaGrange in 1959-60. In fact, unless the Lions record some impressive finishes in the spring sports, the WSC might have another cup winner.

Several question-marks revolve around the outlook at LaGrange.

Will the Lions experience a profitable track campaign without Barry Glashagel, crack hurdler and a member of Paddock Publications' all-state cinder team last spring; Gene Baker and Jim Nelson, two other Paddock all-staters; and Charley Johnson?

Will the varsity baseball Lions equal last season's impressive 10-3-1 league mark, and will the varsity tennis Lions improve on a fourth place finish? Will the varsity golfers rebound from a fourth place berth?

Here's the way the President's Cup standings look right now with a breakdown illustrating how the varsity and frosh-soph squads have helped or hurt each school:

	Total	Varsity	Frosh-Soph
Hinsdale	25½	10	15½
York	29	18	11
LaGrange	29½	19½	10
Maine East	29½	9	20½
Glenbard	34	19	15
Downers	43	25	18
Arlington	43½	18½	25
Riverside	53	25	28

Although Maine East ranks on top in regard to low finishes in varsity sports, the Blue Demons have been pulled down by the frosh-soph entries. LaGrange's strong frosh-soph teams have kept the school in the first division of the President's Cup race.

Arlington isn't threatening the leaders this year although its varsity outfits rank fourth among the conference schools.

It'll be interesting to follow the results as the spring sports seasons move into full swing.

GEORGE BORK PLACED his name in the Arlington high record books last Friday evening when he established a new school scoring record for West Suburban basketball.

The 6-1 cager, an all-league selection for two straight seasons, finished the WSC campaign with 276 markers, eight more than Tom Jacobsen registered in 1956-57.

Bob Inman, another Arlington standout this season, collected 14 points in the WSC finals and moved into fourth place in the all-time scoring parade.

Here are the Cards' top five scorers for a single West Suburban season:

	B	FT	Pts.	Avg.
George Bork (1959-60)	115	46	276	19.7
Tom Jacobsen (1956-57)	99	70	268	19.1
Jay Vawter (1951-52)	104	37	245	17.5
Bob Inman (1959-60)	78	48	204	14.6
Bob Lockwood (1956-57)	74	53	201	14.4

Prospect to Host Palatine Trackmen

Prospect's Knights will help Palatine kick off its indoor track campaign Friday afternoon when they host a duel meet in the PHS fieldhouse.

Both varsity and frosh-soph meets will be held with the events slated to get underway at 4:15 p.m.

Coach Bob Scott's Knights have two meets of experience, backing up a loss to Maine West with a decisive victory over Glenbrook, but Dick Welty's Pirates have yet to be tested in actual competition.

OVER 60 BOYS reported to Welty Monday when he issued his first call, including shot putter Don Smith and Bernie Seitz, returning varsity squad members who went to the state last spring.

Smith has been working out and is expected to be a mainstay on the Palatine varsity this year.

Missing from the Palatine lineup will be Ken Gordon, second in the high hurdles and first in the lows in the state last spring, and Dick Welty, second in the 440.

Pacing Prospect in its initial meets have been sprinter and broad jumper Keith Voigt, distance man Jim Glidden, pole vaulter George Allen, miler Rog Luedtke, and quarter-miler Bill Bard.

Hole-in-One

A hole-in-one was recorded by George Bolas, 630 S. Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights, at Hidden Valley golf club near Boynton Beach, Fla.

Rovers Capture Park District Volleyball

The Rovers squeaked by the Ridge Parkers 14-16, 15-12, 15-12 to end the season undefeated and take home the trophy in the Arlington Heights Volleyball League.

Other action in the park district loop last week saw the Pioneer Park Pirates overcome Ed Elste's Ridge Park team 15-11, and 15-8. Arlington Greens defeated the Strats 12-15, 15-6, and 17-15.

FINAL STANDINGS

Rovers	10	0
Arlington Greens	7	3
Strats	6	4
Elste's Ridge Park	4	6

Coaches Honor Ten Performers

by BOB FRISK

Eight seniors, including Arlington's George Bork and Bob Inman, and two juniors were named to the 1959-60 West Suburban all-conference basketball team released Wednesday by the league coaches.

Four schools placed two boys each on the honor squad with only Maine township and Riverside - Brookfield failing to land berths.

Three boys are repeaters from the 1958-59 selections — Arlington's Bork, Hinsdale's Marty Riessen, and Glenbard West's Denny Hansen.

OTHER all-stars include Downers Grove's Bill Miller, Glenbard's Dick Chandler, Hinsdale's Hal Brandt, LaGrange's Dick Ruggles, and York's Jim Bolin and Jim Long. Chandler and Brandt are the only juniors.

No designation was made in regard to first and second teams and no honorable mentions were named by the eight conference coaches.

Forwards and guards rule the honor squad as centers had a lean year in the WSC. Although Glenbard's Hansen is one of three 6-6 performers in the loop, he played at a forward. York's Jim Bolin was a 6-5 forward-center before turning ineligible February 19.

BORK, WHO alternated between forward and guard, was the conference scoring champ, and Riessen, a 6-1 guard for the loop titlists, was runnerup.

Bill Miller, a forward at Downers Grove, was third in league scoring, and three forwards and two guards gained the next five slots in the point derby.

Bork and Inman gave Arlington its most potent offensive duo in league play since Tom Jacobsen and Bob Lockwood combined for 469 points in the 1956-57 campagn. The current scoring standouts collected 480 markers in conference action with Bork's 276 a new school record.

BORK HAD the season high in the WSC with 35 against Glenbard West with Inman rimming 19 against both York and Downers Grove for his top efforts. Bork registered 456 conference points in two seasons as a regular.

Miller was in the battle for the lop scoring title from the first game when he sent home 26 counters against Riverside. The 6-2 senior had a high of 31 against Arlington and averaged 19.3 in conference play.

Riessen was one of the top all-round competitors to ever play in the West Suburban, and he finished with 271 points, netting a high of 30 aganst Arlington's Cards.

GLENBARD'S Hansen was a consistent scorer for Bob Metcalf with two 22-point efforts against York and Riverside-Brookfield. A fine college prospect, Hansen possesses an effective outsde shot for a 6-6 cager.

The other Hilltopper on the all-star team, Guard Dick Chandler, collected 151 points in the WSC and was a steady back-court operator. Chandler, one of two players on the honor aggregation who fails to reach 6-0 in height, had a high of 20 aganst York.

For a player who didn't start until mid-season and who only had 32 points after six games, York's Bolin put on an impressve rush in the concluding contests on the schedule. He pumped in 113 markers in the next seven tilts before turning 19 and becoming ineligible.

LONG, A 6-3 senior at York was a clutch player for the Dukes in WSC encounters, hitting his season high of 20 in key games against Glenbard West and Hinsdale. Jim had 179 points for the 14-game card.

The only two juniors on the all-conference "ten," LaGrange's Ruggles and Hinsdale's Brandt, finished fifth and sixth respectively in the scoring race.

Ruggles collected 211 counters from his guard slot and had a 21-point effort against Glenbard West. One of the fastest players in the league, Ruggles stands 5-10.

Brandt hit 210 in WSC encounters with a high of 27 against LaGrange. A steady performer for the league champions, he was second in the loop in free throws with 58, five behind Downers' Truman Phillips.

WSC All-Stars

George Bork (Arlington)	6-1
Bob Inman (Arlington)	6-4
Bill Miller (Downers)	6-2

Ortiz, Shartle Gain Local Mat Honors in State Meet

Prospect's Joe Ortiz and Arlington's George Shartle brought home the local mat honors last weekend in the 12th annual state wrestling tournament in Urbana, Ill.

Ortiz, a junior at the Foundry road school, gained a runnerup slot in the 103-pound division, and Shartle, a senior at AHS, captured a fourth place award in the 120-pound class.

East Leyden's powerful Eagles copped its first state title in history, piling up 58 points in the two-day event. Pekin finished second with 38 markers and Waukegan was third with 36.

DEFENDING champion Thornton of Harvey finished a distant fourth with 27 points.

The other local entry in the state mat tourney, Prospect's 95-pounder Dick Krause, bowed out in the opening round with a 3-0 loss to Dennis Devers of Rock Falls.

Ortiz won three bouts in the two-day test, initiating his road to the finals with an impressive 5-0 victory over Rick Dupuy of Quincy. He backed up this victory with a tight, 5-4 quarter-final decision over Louis Richter of Evanston, winner of the tough Waukegan sectional.

ROCK ISLAND'S Tom Miller fell to the Prospect junior, 2-1, in the semi-finals to set the stage for the championship match.

Two familiar mat opponents this season met for that 103-pound title with Ortiz battling East Leyden's Sal Fuscone.

Fuscone's 7-5 triumph was his fourth of the season over Ortiz, but each time the Prospect grappler appeared to get stronger against the unbeaten Leyden champ. Fuscone had edged Ortiz, 5-4 in the finale of the DeKalb sectional.

ARLINGTON'S Shartle, who made a habit of beating top-ranked boys in reaching the state at 120, pulled one of the biggest surprises of the meet in the first round when he handed Bloomington's Mike Manahan his first defeat of the season, 3-1.

Manahan came into the bout with a 26-0 slate and was the only boy to beat the eventual champion.

Norm Parker of Highland Park dumped the Arlington senior, 2-0, in the quarterfinals, but Shartle advanced to the wrestle-backs when Parker won his semi-final back.

Palatine Capt. Chuck Conley, wrestling at 112, fell to state champion Larry Park of Pekin on a referee's decision in the quarter finals. Park had 15 seconds more riding time. Conley then lost to Bob Zaccone of Morton, 2-1, on riding time in the wrestle-back.

Karl Knowles, at 133, and George McCreery, at 138, both lost their first round matches and never had a chance to wrestle back. Knowles bowed to Jack Fincham of Urbana, 4-3, and McCreery lost to Bernie Ward of Evanston in a pin at the 5:50 mark.

20 Schools Set for Frosh Invitational

Twenty schools are slated to compete in the third annual frosh invitational gymnastics meet Saturday morning at Willowbrook high school in Villa Park.

The events will get underway at 10 a.m. at the school located on Ardmore just north of Roosevelt road (Alternate 30).

Arlington is the defending champion with York winning the crown in the initial year of competition.

Among the schools slated to compete in the invitational are Arlington, Prospect, Willowbrook, Maine East, Maine West, York, Proviso East, Proviso West, East Leyden, West Leyden, Rich, Thornton, Glenbard West, Hinsdale, and Waukegan.

3rd Test Between Two WSC Outfits

Two familiar opponents will take to the floor tonight (Thursday) in the second semi-final clash of the Palatine regional basketball tournament.

Arlington high and Maine township, opponents in a pair of West Suburban battles, will square off at 7:30 p.m. to determine the second finalist in the 1960 cage tourney.

The winner of tonight's encounter will move into the championship tilt tomorrow evening (Friday) at 8 o'clock against the victor in last night's Prospect, Maine West headliner.

Coach Frank Bohac's Cardinals and Bernie Brady's Blue Demons have matched talents twice this season with both quintets recording triumphs on their own floor.

EAST MAINE took the initial battle, 59-51, but Arlington bounced back effectively with a convincing 62-48 triumph in action on the AHS hardwood.

The two clubs used different methods in reaching the regional semi-finals. Brady's Maine quintet, last year's champion, was pressed all the way by an aroused Palatine team before finally pulling out a 60-56 victory.

At Palatine

Arlington (10-11)		Maine (13-10)
6-4 Inman	F	Habetler 6-2
6-1 Bork	F	Gebbie 6-4
6-2 Johnston	C	Smith 6-4

Arlington shot a blistering .652 from the floor, connecting on an amazing 30 of 46 attempts, and raced past Glenbrook's Spartans, 80-68.

MAINE'S offensive leader in West Suburban play, guard Bud Hamilton, was the Demons' only consistent scoring threat in Tuesday evening's opening round victory. A 5-11 senior, Hamilton sent home 19 points.

The Cards, 10-11 over the season with an improved brand of basketball in the past few games, fired up 25 less shots than Glenbrook Tuesday but hit on six more in moving to their second victory over the Howie Helfrich-coached Spartans.

Rick Johnston and Carl Massa had perfect nights from the field with Johnston, a 6-2 senior, hitting eight straight shots.

GEORGE BORK, the leading scorer in the West Suburban conference, tied for game honors with 21 markers, equalling the output of an All-Interim association cager, Greg Sletteland of Glenbrook.

The winner of the Palatine regional tournament will advance to the Arlington sectional to meet the Libertyville regional champ Wednesday evening, March at 8 p.m. Titlists from the Waukegan and Crystal Lake regionals will clash next Thursday at 8 p.m. with the championship tilt Friday evening.

Arlington's sectional winner will advance to the Super-Sectional at Northwestern's McGaw fieldhouse — one step away from a coveted trip to the Illinois prep finals in Champaign!

Sectional Cage Tourney at AHS

Arlington high school will again host a sectional basketball tournament with the trio of games set for March 9 through March 11.

The first game Wednesday evening, March 9, will match the Libertyville regional winner with the Palatine regional champs at Waukegan and Crystal Lake will clash Thursday evening with the championship contest Friday.

All games will begin at 8 p.m.

Boys Urged To Register Saturday!

Final registration for Arlington Heights Little League will be this Saturday at Recreation Park fieldhouse, located at Douglas and Miner streets, from 9 a.m to 12 noon.

The fee will be $5 for the first boy in each family and $2 thereafter. There will be an additional $10 fee for the fathers of the boys in the league who do not participate in the program.

REGISTRATION is open to any boy age 8 to 15 inclusive. All boys must reside within the village limits of Arlington Heights unless previously registered in the program.

Boys registering for the first time must bring birth certificate or authentic proof of birth date, and all boys must be accompanied by their father.

This year there will be an increase from 15 to 17 boys in the American and National leagues. Tryouts for the leagues will be held April 2 and 9 at Recreation Park.

All boys aged 10, 11 and 12 who are not already assigned to the leagues are urged to try out. Boys 13, 14, and 15 are all urged to be sure and register this Saturday.

High school athletes may register without affecting their school eligiblity provided that they do not play or practice with the league until the school program is completed.

97-Day Meeting At Race Tracks

A new, enriched overnight purse program, completely re-designed, will highlight the 97-day Arlington Park - Washington Park - Balmoral coordinated meeting in 1960.

Approximatly $3,250,000 in overnight purses and another $1,290,000 in 30 stakes events will be awarded horsemen during the annual spring - summer season, which runs 42 days at Washington Park (May 16-July 2) and 55 days at Arlington Park (July 4-Sept. 5).

In a joint announcement issued by Benjamin F. Lindheimer, Arlington - Washington executive director, and Balmoral President Hubert E. Howard, it also was revealed that 62 feature races - 30 stakes and 32 overnight headliners - already have been carded.

"THIS NEW racing program," the statement said, "will form the nucleus of a stakes - and - purses schedule designed to provide lucrative, well-spaced opportunities for every age group, in allowance, classified, handicap and claiming divisions throughout the entire 97 days.

"It will assure the middle class and higher class claiming horses - as well as every other class and age group of allowance horse - purses commensurate with their value."

The 1960 program puts even stronger emphasis on the 20-year-old Arlington - Washington policy of "Bigger purses for better horses."

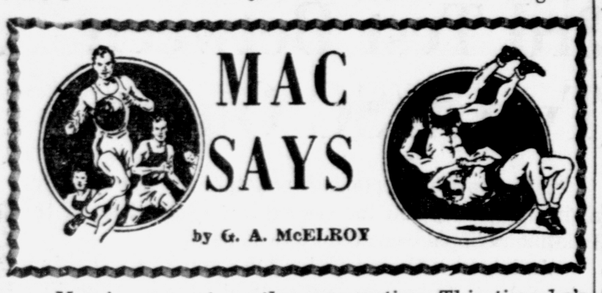
MAIN SUPPORT for the nationally - famous stakes program will be 16 early - scheduled overnight features at $10,000 and $12,000. They will supply sustained non-stakes competition for every age.

They will be augmented by other lucrative overnight events with strong representation in the $12,000 to $5,000 purse bracket. Similar awards also will be offered for middle-class and higher class claiming horses.

Knights, Cards Advance Into Semi-Finals



Mac is away at another convention. This time he's at a secondary schools principal's convention in Portland, Ore. Once again Bob Buchanan, Paddock Publications associate sports editor, is substituting for the "old pro" who will be back in his usual corner next week.

Sound of Wolves Being Heard

THE SOUND OF WOLVES is beginning to be heard around Palatine following Palatine's second poor basketball season. Since personable Dick Kolze took the reins as Pirate cage coach Palatine has won only four games. Last year Pal-Hi was 1-21. This year the mark is 3-17. To some, this means a change in leadership. Yet, the circumstances surrounding Kolze's entrance into the head coach's job has made a losing season inevitable. To begin, Palatine has never been a basketball town. The Pirates have failed to beat neighboring Barrington in the past 10 years. The last winning season was four years ago. Basketball is not pushed in Palatine, especially in the grade schools where "stars are born."

When Kolze, a local product who was all-conference in his prep days, accepted the school's top cage post, he walked into a "pit." Last year's senior class was outstaanding in its lack of good athletes. This year's senior class has few athletes. Look at this year's team. Kolze's been constantly starting at least two juniors. Two sopohomores are now regular fixtures, and recently a freshman has been added to the squad. No coach, no matter what his experience, reaches into the freshmen and sophomore levels unless he desperately needs the talent.

North Suburban A Big Step Up

CONSEQUENTLY, PALATINE'S youthful Pirates have been youthful. This year they found out more than ever. The Pirates got a big jolt when they moved from the Tri-County to the North Suburban conference. Six of their seven league opponents are top-notch teams. The over-all talent of the league is so improved that Palatine's opposition improved 50 per cent over a year ago. To be blunt—winning became tougher.

From reading this column, Mac, superintendent of the high school, has said Kolze has four years in which to prove his worth. This is ample time to determine abilities. By then today's varsity sophomores will be seniors and experienced players. Remember, a sophomore was the Pirates' top scorer in the North Suburban conference this year. Kolze also will have the height, also necessary to have a winner. Two more years of time, we think, will make a big difference in Palatine's basketball prowess.

Kolze Has 2 Good Attributes

FROM HAVING COVERED the Pirates for three years, Kolze has two outstanding attributes. First, he is an adult and a gentleman and treats his charges the same way. Second, to build a good basketball foundation in the community, he instituted a 12-week cage program for local youths. No one likes to lose, and yet Kolze has never "blown up" at his players for their failures or those of his own. He treats his squad in an adult manner and expects the same from them. Losing reason is losing the faculties to think. That's difficult for a coach who has won just four games in two seasons. If he wasn't concerned about the local cage picture, Kolze would not spend 12 Saturdays during his busiest period of the year taking time to give instruction to 60 or so youngsters, especially since he has four boys of his own.

Last week Libertyville Coach Ken Greene told this reporter he thought Kolze was doing a good job in the face of a bad season. He noted that the squad looked better fundamentally and had shown decided improvement since he saw them last. "I know how tough it is to have a losing season," Greene added.

Words sometimes help comfort a coach when he realizes that he makes between only one and two dollars an hour coaching, which some faculty members claim is more trying than teaching classes. At this rate, coaches come cheap, especially when the wolves begin to howl.

Twenty Years Ago

PALATINE LOST TO LAKE FOREST 26-24 in the state district tournament final but winner and loser both go to the regional at Waukegan. Palatine beat Warren 34-12 in the first round and Wauconda 22-19 in the semi-finals. Wauconda was the only team previously to down the Pirates. Ray Hahnfeldt, 5-7" junior forward, was Palatine's tourney star. Palatine's season record now stands 15 wins in 17 games with both losses by two points.

Arlington closed the season watching Boyk of Niles score 27 and whip the Cards 50-34. Arlington's lightweights won seven of their last nine games to finish 7-5 in the Northeast as Ray Hayes developed a green squad into a winner. Crystal Lake had a 14-0 varsity and 12-2 lightweight mark for a double championship in the Northeast loop.

Prospect Humbles Maryville

The Knight in shining armour didn't live up to his fairy tale role as he rudely tripped up Maryville's cinderella basketball team Monday nght, 87-49.

The knight, Prospect's top-seeded Knights, overpowered an under-manned Maryville five to advance to the semi-finals of the Palatine regional basketball tournament.

THOUGH outclassed, Maryville never quit, holding Prospect to a 42-28 halftime lead. The Des Plaines school put on so much hustle that Knight Coach Dick Kinneman had to use his regulars until the final period began.

The third quarter put the game on ice for Prospect as the Knights scored 12 consecutive points at the outset thanks to Bill Zadel and Fred Lussow.

Meanwhile, Maryville missed 13 straight field goal attempts before freshman John Abraham rammed home a basket six and a half minutes into third period. By then, Prospect was safely home.

LUSSOW, A dead-eye speedy guard, proved the difference between the teams in the first half as Kinneman constantly shuttled players in and out. Lussow sank six of seven first half field goal attempts and all six free throws.

Maryville had trouble rebounding against the taller Knights, their players having to wait for the ball to come down to their grasp.

The tide turned against Maryville further when it lost Guard Ralph Granado and 5-7 Forward Stan Downs on fouls as the officials whistled 51 personals.

PROSPECT had four men in the double figures. Lussow, on some amazing shooting paced the Knights with 23 points. He had seven for 10 from the field and nine for 10 from the free throw line.

Forward George Pomey, working with ease around the hoop, netted 17 points, followed by 14 by Dick Palmer and 10 by Zadel. Zadel's big, hulking frame was a key factor in the Prospect splurge.

Ron Cone led Maryville with 21 points, but it took a lot of shooting to achieve that figure. Abraham provided the crowd with several thrills as three times he hit 30-footers with uncanny accuracy. He finished with 16 points. Crone and Abraham were the only Maryville players to score more than four points.

Tuesday's Opener

Demons Edge Palatine Five

Palatine's bid to score a major upset in the opening round of Illinois regional cage tournament play was repulsed by Maine township Tuesday night, 60-56.

The crucial play came with 16 seconds remaining, Maine ahead 58-56, and Palatine with the ball.

Pirate Forward Harvey Foster was called for charging along the abse line.

THE PERSONAL sent Foster to the bench with his fifth personal after counting 18 Pirate points.

Blue Demon Forward Bob Habeter stepped to the line and sank both free throws and clinched a hard-earned victory which was expected to have been easy.

Maine, second ranked in the tournament, found itself behind Palatine, seventh ranked, 29-25, at halftime.

ONLY IN THE third period were Bernie Brady's Blue Demons able to outscore the Pirates of Dick Kolze. But the 19-10 margin was enough for the Demons to eke out a win, enabling them to meet Arlington in tonight's semi-final game.

Maine took the lead for good at 35-34 on Don Gebbie's drive-in followed by Bud Hamilton's sleeper. Though down by as much as seven points, Palatine never let up.

The Pirates were helped in the opening moments of the final period when Demons Ed Petrick and Gebbie fouled out. Despite several costly floor errors, Palatine managed to come within five points, 54-49.

WITH 3:30 left, Maine went into a stall to bring Palatine out of its zone defense. Palatine did, but it unexpectedly annoyed Maine with a press.

Foster sank a pair of free throws to cut the Demon lead to 54-51. Two-timing the ball handler, Palatine let Habeter slip loose for a layup with less than two minutes to go.

Pirate Guard Jon Fabri, playing clutch ball, hit a 20-footer as he was fouled. He added a free throw with 1:35 to go to cut the Maine lead to 56-54. Five seconds later John Seehausen was charged with his fifth personal and Hamilton connected on both charity tosses.

PALATINE took advantage of Maine missing several drive-ins while working one-on-one situations to register two Fabri free throws and reduce Maine's lead to two points, setting the stage for the crucial play.

As the game began, both squads missed good shots while shooting against a zone defense. Though Maine controlled the boards, its poor floor play, especially on bad passes, offset the advantage. Fabri's two free throws one second before the end of the period gave the Pirates a 9-8 lead at the buzzer.

In the second quarter behind Foster, Center Denny Christensen and Seehausen, Palatine opened up a six point lead, 25-19, until Foster was called for charging and Maine reduced the lead to four points at halftime.

SEEHAUSEN and Foster both picked up their fourth personals as the second half opened. Maine pressed its advantage to take the lead. Sophomore Forward Steve Smith played an important part, getting three crucial baskets to keep Maine in front.

Christensen, inconspicuous most of the night, hardly missed from the field, making seven of eight field goal attempts. He added six free throws to net 20 points for the night. Foster was right behind with 18 and Fabri had 10.

Hamilton who had a good seven for 12 from the floor scored 19 points for Maine. Four other Demons had between five and nine points.

Maine West Rocks Niles Five, 69-47

George Verber, a shooting genius, turned Maine West's close game against Niles into a runaway Monday night in the Palatine regional, winning 69-47.

The 6-2 senior guard hit four of six third period shots to rocket West's Warriors into a 44-29 lead as the entire Niles team was able to make just one of eight during the same time.

AT HALFTIME Maine West held only a seven point advantage, 34-27, and would have been behind had Niles' Trojans been able to hit from inside the Warriors' zone defense.

The Trojans were miserable on their short shots. Stu Saken and Jim Dahlman couldn't hit from even two feet out. It is safe to say Niles missed well over a dozen "cripple" shots.

When Niles, able to work the ball well inside the Maine zone, missed four easy ones in the third period, Gaston Freeman's Maine team turned on the steam to practically BOTH CLUBS were troubled by fouls. Each squad had three boys who had three or more fouls at halftime. As a result, Niles Coach Jack Fabri and Maine's Freeman substituted to keep the pressure off their key men.

Verber was the game's top point man with 22. Able to shoot with the opposition on top of him, Verber sank 10 of 17 field goal tries and both free throws.

Niles' John Warda was the lone Trojan able to dent the Warrior defense successfully as he netted 21 points.

THE THIRD man able to reach double figures was Maine's Keith Connelly. Though nursing the foul situation, Connelly made 16 points half of them on free throws.

As the game began, Warda kept Niles in the contest on six free throws. In fact, Niles first eight points were via free throws. At the quarter Maine led, 15-10.

Verber then took up the Warrior slack with three second period field goals and Connelly was equally effective with a field goal and four charity tosses. Warda's three baskets and free throw helped offset this somewhat to hold Maine's lead to 34-27 at halftime.

Verber then exploded for five third period baskets and that was the game as Maine West continued to pull away.

Prospect Quintet Handles Wildcats With Ease, 63-47

by TOM McSHANE

Prospect high school's basketball Knights wound up their first season of competition Saturday night with a convincing 63-47 victory over the Libertyville Wildcats.

The win gave Prospect its 20th victory of the season against a lone, one-point defeat at the hands of East Leyden, and set a standard for future Knight teams that will be difficult to equal.

The game also provided Coach Dick Kinneman's squad some tough competition before the Palatine regional tournament which opened Monday.

The Wildcats were seeded number two in their own regional and the easy Prospect victory clearly established the Knights as the team to beat at Palatine.

THE FIRST FOUR minutes of the game saw Prospect's Fred Lussow providing the spark that got the Knights off to a race horse start. The little guard pumped in four long jump shots right off the bat to give his team a 10-3 lead with 4:27 left in the period.

Libertyville closed the gap to 15-9 at the end of the quarter, holding Prospect scoreless for the final two minutes.

Both teams scored 14 points in the second quarter as the Knights left the floor with a 29-23 halftime lead.

In the third period Prospect opened its lead to 12 points as Bill Zadel, playing with a sore arm, canned five baskets and a free throw in a 17-point spurt that saw the Knights in front 46-34 at the buzzer.

THE FOURTH period was a repeat of the third with the Knights controlling both backboards and rushing the Wildcat shooters. Prospect added 17 more to its total and held the hosts to 13.

Zadel led all scorers in the game with 16. Warren Nicholas had 13 for Libertyville. Lussow had 12, and Fred Empkie and Dick Palmer 10 for Prospect.

Probably the outstanding performance of the game was the defensive job that Zadel, Palmer, and George Pomey dd on the Wildcats' Jamie Hill.

The 6-4, 225-pound junior center, who came into Saturday's game with a 42-point Friday night performance against Palatine and a conference scoring championship fresh in mind, must have felt like he was dealing with a pack of wolves as the three Prospect big men took turns tying him up and blocking his shots while they held him to seven points.

Arlington Smashes Spartans

Fantastic shooting earned Arlington a semi-final berth in the Palatine regional basketball tournament as the Cards lumbered by Glenbrook 80-68, Tuesday night.

Frank Bohac's Cards sank 30 of 46 shots for a phenomenal .652 mark from the field. This was a few percentage points better than their free throwing.

It was a good thing Arlington, headed by the accuracy of Rick Johnston and Carl Massa, hit so well. Otherwise, Glenbrook might have made a game of it.

THE SPARTANS led 18-17 at the quarter but Arlington was in front to stay, 38-32, at halftime. Even so, Glenbrook dominated both the offensive boards.

This resulted in Coach Howie Helfrich's boys getting 71 field goal attempts, 25 more than Arlington. However, the Spartans were able to hit 24 baskets for a fair .338 percentage.

The Cards hit over 50 per cent of their shots in every quarter. It was 6 for 9 in the first quarter, 8 for 14 in the second, 9 for 12 in the third and 7 for 11 in the last. Glenbrook just couldn't cope with it.

JOHNSTON was phenomenal. He made all eight field goal attempts. Three of his baskets were from 20 feet out and the others were cripples as a result of his getting good position. His 18 points was a season's high for the Cardinal pivot man.

Massa did real well himself. He took just five shots but made every one count. He also netted all three free throws for 13 points, his second high this year.

Yet, Arlington scoring honors went to George Bork whose "touch" provided him with eight field goals. His five free throws gave him 21 points.

THIS WAS equalled by Glenbrook's Greg Sletteland who kept firing away to hit nine baskets.

Where Glenbrook hurt was in the out-shooting of their guards. They missed their first 14 field goal attempts in the first three periods. Don Roach's four final quarter buckets was only outburst by the back-court boys.

Where the guards, and for that matter Glenbrook as a team, did shine was on the free throw line. While getting no baskets, Roach and John Elmburg had 14 free throws for the first three quarters. Glenbrook hit an outstanding .714 from the line, making 20 of 28.

DESPITE Johnston's three first period goals and five points by Bork, balanced scoring gave Glenbrook an 18-17 lead. Then the Cards scored seven consecutive points to take the lead for good. Bork led the way in the second quarter also.

Behind four third period baskets by Johnston, Arlington opened up a 15 point lead which it kept throughout the game except in the final moments. Early in the final period Roach and Cardinal Gene Dahlquist waged a personal battle, each making four field goals as the teams traded baskets.

Arlington Sophs Top Downers

Arlington's frosh-soph cagers terminated a successful campaign last Friday evening with a 46-38 victory over Downers Grove.

Coach Ken Schaller's Cardinals, boasting four victories and one near-miss in their last five encounters of the 1959-60 campaign, finished in fifth place in the West Suburban conference, one game behind Hinsdale's Imps.

Although outscored from the field at Downers, the young Cards experienced a profitable evening from the charity line and collected 22 free throws. Center Rusty Blix registered nine of 15 while guard Don Kolstad hit on seven straight in the final period.

SPARKED by Ross Retterer's 14 points, nine in the third stanza, the Cardinals pulled ahead 21-15 at halftime, then held on as Downers made a last minute rush.

Blix chipped in with 13 for Arlington and Frosh Gary Brodnan added eight.

Arlington Stops Downers, 59-54 In Loop Finale

Trailing only briefly in the first period, Arlington's varsity Cardinals rolled to their sixth conference victory last Friday evening with a 59-54 victory over host Downers Grove.

The Cards fell behind at the outset of the contest but regained the lead with three minutes remaining in the opening quarter and never trailed after that, piling up a 12-point advantage at one time in the League finale.

Three boys scored in double figures for Frank Bohac's aggregation with George Bork setting the pace with 22 points, gaining the conference scoring crown in the process and establishing a new Arlington scoring mark for league play.

NEEDING 13 points to break Tom Jacobsen's WSC standard of 268, Bork sent home his fourteenth marker toward the end of the first half.

Arlington jumped off to a 17-14 first period lead, then increased that margin with some fancy shooting by Bob Inman. Held scoreless for the first eight minutes, Inman erupted with 12 in the second quarter as the Cards piled up 22 points.

Neither team experienced too much offensive success in the final 16 minutes although Downers did whittle away at the margin thanks to Bill Miller and Truman Phillips.

MILLER, third leading scorer in the conference, and Phillips combined for 19 of the Trojans' 24 points in the final half.

Downers moved within three, 55-52, with 2:06 remaining in the game, but Arlington bounced back with clutch free throws by Gene Dahlquist and Carl Massa.

Miller's 23 points paced the evening's scorers with Bork runnerup with 20. Phillips added 16 for the losers.

Bork 1st In Loop Scoring

George Bork is the West Suburban conference scoring champion!

Arlington's 6-1 senior, a two-time all-league cage selection, pumped home 20 points against Downers Grove last weekend to successfully withstand the final challenges of the Trojans' Bill Miller and Hinsdale's Marty Riessen.

Both Miller and Riessen collected 23 markers in their concluding contests but fell short in the attempts to pass Bork.

Riessen finished second in league scoring with 271 points, five points behind Bork and one in front of Miller. Glenbard West's Denny Hansen registered 227 points in 14 league games for fourth place, and LaGrange's Dick Ruggles collected 211.

BORK IS Arlington's second conference scoring champion. Tom Jacobsen claimed the other title while playing for the 1956-57 Cardinals.

Bob Inman picked off seventh place in the final league totals with Rick Johnston twentieth. The other AHS starters, Gene Dahlquist and Carl Massa, countered 74 and 62 respectively in WSC play.

Wayside 5 Handles St. Joseph

Our Lady of the Wayside successfully passed its first hurdle in the Loyola Academy grade school basketball tourney by defeating St. Joseph of Wilmette 34-18 Saturday morning.

In the Northwest Catholic grade school basketball conference the Wayside junior varisty defeated St. Francis de Sales of Lake Zurich 44-6 and the Wayside varsity defeated St. Francis' varsity 35-11.

Joe Mueller was high point man against St. Joseph while Jim Murray led the varsity and Charlie Heinrich led the junior varsity against St. Francis.

ON SUNDAY Wayside journeyed to Wauconda where the varsity defeated Transfiguration 39-35 to win the championship of the Northwest Suburban Catholic conference, in which they were undefeated.

The junior varsity was also victorious against Transfiguration, winning 24-16. Once again Joe Mueller led the varsity in the scoring column while Bob Connors led the junior varsity in their victory.

Twilight Golf League in 20th Season of Play

Organization for the 20th season of play by the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League is under way. The officers met in executive session last week and president Ray Krewson announced they are going to make this anniversary season one to be remembered.

The league will continue to play at Dick Hauff's Mt. Prospect Country Club and will again meet in two sections on Monday and Tuesday nights. The season will begin on April 25 and will continue through the summer to Labor Day.

Registration cards are now in the mail to all members and alternates. Anyone wishing to make application to join the league may contact membership chairmen Warren VanderVoort at CL 3-5391 or Don Henry at CL 3-1024.

Spartan First

Michigan State's first no-hit, no-run baseball pitcher was Ed Pinnance, who allowed Alma College only one base runner in 1903 and won, 5-0.

Prospect Sophs Bow

Prospect's frosh-soph basketball team lost its final game of the season to Libertyville Saturday night 45-39.

The loss gave the little Knights, who won the Interim association title earlier with an 8-2 record, an overall 14-7 mark for the season.

The little Knights out-shot the Wildcats from the floor in the final game of the season, but lost by a wide margin at the free throw line.

LIBERTYVILLE cashed in on 17 free throws to go with 14 baskets for its point total, while Prospect was settling for only three charities to go with 18 buckets. Prospect was called for 16 fouls, Libertyville six.

The two teams played evenly throughout the first half with the Wildcats holding a 19-16 edge at the intermission.

Prospect came back to tie the score twice in the third quarter, but quick spurts moved Libertyville ahead each time.

Going down to the wire the Wildcats managed to hold a five-point lead despite a fine closing performance by Tommy Thomas who scored 22 of his team's points.

Prospect Frosh Top Maine West

Prospect's freshman basketball squad terminated its 1959-60 campaign with an impressive 40-36 victory over Maine West last Saturday morning.

Bob Gerrard sparked Larry Wyllie's plebes with 19 points, 13 in the final half.

Prospect fell behind 10-2 in the first period but gradually closed in on the Warriors, finally pulling ahead in the third quarter.

CUSTOMERS OF Hagenbring's department store, 105 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, will hardly recognize the store following its remodeling. Plans for the facelifting call for a new front on the building of rough cut redwood and ceramic tile. Planter boxes will also beautify the exterior. New doors will make for easier entrance and exit from the store. Work on the store is expected to be completed in the spring, at which time there will be a grand opening.

WILLIAM ELECTRIC Supply company, 2010 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, will open the doors of its new home to customers for a preview of the latest in lighting fixtures on Saturday, March 5, from 7 to 10 p.m. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded.

Another step in the long-range development of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association was announced this week with the purchase of adjacent property on S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights.

SELLER IS George F. Volz, member of one of Arlington Heights' oldest families, who formerly resided in the two-story building at 14 S. Evergreen, on the south end of the property sold to the Federal Savings institution.

"Acquisition of the Volz land and building gives us sufficient room for foreseeable expansion," said Paul E. Collins, association president, in announcing the purchase this week.

WE ENVISION the time in the years ahead when the entire area will be needed for the association's offices and patron parking," he added. "When we learned from Mr. Volz that the property could be purchased, our board of directors voted unanimously to complete the transaction."

Purchase price was not announced.

The building contains two apartments, of five and six rooms, both of which will be available for rental, Collins said.

With this acquisition, Federal Savings now owns a plot of ground roughly 264 ft. by 132 ft. at the corner of Campbell ave. and Evergreen st.

Most of this property was once owned by his father Christian, George Volz recalls.

"MY FATHER first acquired the property on Campbell st. in 1867," Volz said this week. "Arlington Heights was then a village of fewer than 1,000 inhabitants. He bought the Federal Savings parking area in 1880 and the property now sold in 1882."

The two-story house at 14 S. Evergreen was built by his father for George Volz when the latter married in 1904. In 1934, Volz erected an addition to the building and in 1940 he remodeled and converted it from a private residence into a two-flat building.

Collins indicated that the association directors are considering the conversion of the first floor of the Volz building to business use if a suitable tenant is found. (A

Africa To Be Mission Study Topic Tuesday

Africa, with all its fascination and rapidly changing ways, will be the topic of a Mission Study day at Our Savior Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. To be held Tuesday, March 8, from 10:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., the event will be sponsored by the women's guild of the church. A potluck luncheon will be served and a supervised nursery available for children. All church women of Arlington Heights and members of Our Saviour's guild are welcome.

Rev. Mark Thomsen, missionary to Nigeria currently studying at Garrett Biblical institute in Evanston, will be guest speaker. A color sound movie, "New Faces of Africa," will be shown, as well as a filmstrip, "Lutherans in Liberia." Another unusual feature will be the running of a tape recording of an African boys' choir singing church anthems, highlighted by the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah.

MRS. ED SCHNEIDER IS chairman of the event and can be contacted for reservations at CL 5-8700 or CL 5-5581. Mrs. John Buthman is luncheon chairman. Mrs. I. R. Kraemer will lead the devotional period, and Mrs. David Bartlett will speak on the Congo.

Our Savior's women's guild will participate in the World Day of Prayer, March 4, at 1:15 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights. Mrs. John LeMein, guild devotional chairman, will be the official delegate. Our Saviour's church will host this event in 1961.

LENTEN VESPER services at Our Saviour's commenced last night, Ash Wednesday, with holy communion celebrated. Vespers will be held each Wednesday at 8 p.m. during Lent.

'Emphasis on Africa' Is WSCS Program

"Emphasis on Africa," a program planned by Mrs. Elmer V. Carlson of Prospect Heights, will give meaning to the theme "Giving Light to Those in Darkness" at the 12:45 o'clock luncheon meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service next Tuesday afternoon in First Methodist church, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Carlson has conducted a class in the study of this much-in-the-news country. She has selected a film, "New Faces of Africa," to show at the meeting. In colored photography it shows the effect of Christianity on the African people. The narration is done by Dr. Mungai Njaroge, an African physician educated in the United States.

ISRAEL OLA, a Northwestern university student whose trip to the Ecumenical conference at Athens, Ohio, was financed by the local women's organization, will be a special guest.

Afternoon meditations will be led by Mrs. Reuben Conrad, Mrs. Herman Meyer, Mrs. Robert Robinson and Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft. Mrs. R. Earle Johnston, soprano ,will sing.

Mrs. Fred Jorden, Mrs. Marvin Prellberg and Mrs. John Chidley and Ruth, Bluloa and Lynay circles are making luncheon plans. Mrs. W. G. Inman, CL 3-4456, is accepting reservations. (AMPh

Swingin' Squares

The club members accord special recognition this week to the hard-working and imaginative decorating committee which has delighted the Swingin' Squares with unusual effects at every dance. This group adds atmosphere to a busy and eventful evening as it is always fun with Don Finfrock and Bing Bengson doing the calls for a filled hall. Prizes and conversation during "coffee and" make the evening complete for members and guests.

The club extends an open invitation to its dance tomorrow night at the Recreation Park field house in Arlington Heights at 8:30. (A-13

Mighty Matmen

Norm Young, Michigan State's 130-pound Big Ten wrestling champion in 1959, was a state prep mat champion in 1956 and 1957 while at Lansing (Mich.) Sexton high school.

PENTANE GAS moved to within a single game of first place in Paddock Classic traveling league Saturday night by taking two of three games from loop-leading Martinetti's. Team members include Ed Duff of Niles, Al Valentino of Rolling Meadows, Ward Siewert of Palatine, Al Walter of Arlington Heights and Ernie Koche of Hoffman Estates.

Pentane Keglers Gain on Paddock Classic Leaders

Pentane Gas moved within a single game of the lead in Paddock Classic traveling league Saturday night by copping two of three games from Martinetti's at Ten Pin in Barrington. Tommy Thomas' Casablanca, tied with Pentane for second, dropped all three to Beverly to put the latter squad in third, two games out of third. Casablanca fell to fourth.

KOBZA

Tom Kobza led the way for both Martinetti's and Pentane Gas as he fashioned a 644 series for the Barrington squad, including a 244 game. Pentane won the opener, 952-942, and the second, 952-936. Martinetti's then warmed up for a 1025 game to take the final tilt. Ed Duff shot 626 for Pentane.

Basketball Classic Set

Chicago's twenty-first annual basketball classic, pitting the 1960 College All-Star against the famed Harlem Globetrotters, will be held Saturday night April 2, at the Chicago Stadium.

Selection of top college seniors to oppose Abe Saperstein's celebrated traveling team will be made as soon as players complete their college competition. No attempt will be made to sign players deemed to have a chance for the 1960 United States Olympic team, or those who still have collegiate competition remaining in baseball, track, or other sports coming up.

The game will write finis to the Globetrotters' thirty-third consecutive season of play, which began last mid-October and has continued on a daily play basis—and sometimes two games a day—ever since. The Trotters' next action will be their eleventh annual tour of Great Britian, the continent of Europe, parts of North Africa, and, possibly Russia again, starting the third week in May.

Arlington Gymnasts Triumph

York's varsity gymnasts gave Arlington's defending state champs a stiff battle last Friday before succumbing, 74½ to 57½.

The host Dukes outscored the Cardinals on the still rings and horizontal bar, but Arlington recorded near-sweeps on the Trampoline and side horse.

Coach Gay Hughes' Cards gained individual firsts on the Tramp with Gary Erwin, on the side horse with Dick Wetzel, on the parallel bars with Arnie Harvey, and in tumbling with Bill Sayre.

Trampoline — Won by Erwin (A), 83-80-163; 2nd, Cordaro (A), 71-70-141; 3rd, Simerson (Y), 69-68-137; 4th, Flood (A), 68-65-133; 5th, Probeck (Y), 59-60-119; 6th, Posey (Y), 53-55-108.

Side Horse — Won by Wetzel (A), 72-75-147; 2nd, East (A), 69-72-141; 3rd, Gailis (Y), 63-69-132; 4th, Brousseau (A), 66-60-126; 5th, Prentice (Y), 53-62-115; 6th, Boyd (Y), 45-48-93.

Tumbling — Won by Sayre (A), 84-80-164; 2nd, Beamish (Y), 68-64-132; 3rd, Anderson (A), 65-62-127; 4th, Cordaro (A), 60-60-120; 5th, Daniels (Y), 54-57-111; 6th, Clark (Y), 45-50-95.

Crystal Lake Beats McHenry For 2nd Place

Jim Rosulek's pair of free throws with 12 seconds remaining gave Crystal Lake a 71-70 triumph over McHenry Friday night and second place in the North Suburban conference. McHenry fell to fourth.

Though Mike Creighton tossed in 21 point for McHenry, Jack Weightman and Bob Fallenberg combined for 33 for the Tigers. Weightman had 18 and Falkenberg 15.

Score by quarters:

Crystal Lake	19	16	20	16—71
McHenry	12	24	16	18—70

Local Salesman Attends Steel Convention

Richard V. Abbott, 1415 W. Sigwalt st., Arlington Heights, salesman for Columbia Steel and Shafting company, attended the company's two-day sales meeting in Pittsburgh, February 8 and 9.

Production gains of 50 per cent in the Summerill Tube Division, 67 per cent in the Summerill Stainless Tube Division and 50 per cent in the Columbia Cold Finished Bar Division in 1960 were unveiled to the sales force. Plans for reducing delivery times were also disclosed.

The production gains are being accomplished through in-plant efficiencies and the expansion of the present product lines, T. L. Parker, President of Columbia Steel and Shafting, told the meeting. (BB

National Tea Co. Earnings at Peak

A new record high in earnings as a result of highest sales volume in the company's 60 year history was reported recently by H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Co., the nation's fifth largest super market chain, in his annual report to the company's shareholders.

Net income for 52 weeks of 1959 totaled $9,025,208, after provision of $9,120,000 for federal income taxes. This is a gain of $183,665 or 2.08 per cent over the 53 week fiscal year of 1958, when net income totaled $8,841,543, after providing $8,900,000 for Federal Income Taxes.

Measured in returns on volume, net profit rate for 1959 was 1.09 per cent of sales, as compared with 1.11 per cent for the previous year.

EARNINGS FOR 1959 were $1.32 per common share computed on average shares outstanding, as compared with earnings of $1.34 per common share on average shares outstanding for 1958, after adjusting for the three for one stock split effected March 26, 1959.

Average shares outstanding for 1959 were 6,849,000 as compared with 6,583,000 adjusted average shares outstanding for 1958, which was an increase of 266,000 average outstanding shares.

Quarterly dividends totaling 77 cents per share on the new $4 par value common stock, after the three for one stock split, were paid to shareholders for the year 1959 bringing to a total of 61 the number of consecutive, regular dividends paid on the company's common shares since the last quarter of 1944.

DIVIDENDS IN 1958, on an adjusted basis, were 67 cents per common share. Total cash dividends paid in 1959 were $5,266,038 as compared with $4,371,576 paid in 1959, reflecting the 20 per cent increase beginning with the quarterly dividend payment of June 1, 1959.

In his outlook for 1960 McNamara stated: "We are confident that the National Food stores will continue to lead the way in quality, service and economy and thereby obtain full participation in the continued growth of the food business in 1960, a well as in the decade of opportunity that lies ahead." Name Executive To Head Scout-O-Rama

Stanley M. Sorensen of Park Ridge, president and executive officer of the Hammond Organ company of Chicago, has recently been named general chairman of the 1960 Scout-O-Rama to be staged and produced by the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America.

He is a member of the Chicago Crime commission, a trustee of the Norwegian American hospital and a director of the Illinois Manufacturers association. He belongs to the Park Ridge Country club and the Swithold club.

Sorensen joined the Hammond Organ Company in 1931. He has served as head of the accounting department; as assistant treasurer and as executive vice president and general manager. He was elected a Director in 1953 and was elevated to the Presidency in 1955.

According to Sorensen, the 1960 "Big Show" of the Northwest Suburban council will be the largest of its type to be staged in the middle-west area.

Arlington Hts. Man Attends Conference

Charles E. Oman, Jr., 1239 N. Illinois, Arlington Heights, representative for Hardware Mutuals of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, attended his firm's area sales conference in Rockton, February 25 and 26.

Salesmen from the entire state of Illinois will attend the conference at the Wagon Wheel Lodge in Rockton.

PALATINE PRUDENTIAL office has received the company's President's Citation in recognition of achievements in 1959 with Marion J. Morris, director of agencies, presenting the award to Henry C. Bauer, manager of the Palatine office. Standing next to Bauer is James E. Rutherford, vice president in charge of Mid-America home office.

Of all Prudential's 589 district agencies throughout the U. S. and Canada, the Palatine office ranked 36th in customer service, quality of business and volume of insurance sales. Bauer accepted the award at a dinner held in honor of the event last Saturday at Inverness country club, Palatine, attended by 88 of the office's staff and their families. Palatine district office has won the coveted award both years of the office's existence.

Announcement was made at the celebration that staff manager Fred J. Thiel had again been awarded a president's citation for staff managers. Staff manager Raymond A. Chuipek was given special commendation for arrangements that had been made for the Citation party. Staff manager Carl E. Fuller served as Master of Ceremonies. The ceremonies were followed by entertainment and dancing.

St. Paul Federal says...

"New addition will climax 70 years' progress"

Building Report No. 17 to shareholders and friends

As we move right along on our new $1 million addition, it seems appropriate to give you a look at our tattered scrapbook. In 1889, when our doors were first opened for business, $4 a week was a good salary, the old horse and buggy was the favorite mode of travel and men sported handlebar mustaches.

Early headquarters

You see pictured here a very early St. Paul office on 22nd street, when Emil Basener was president of the Association. Today, his widow, Catherine A. Basener, is on the St. Paul Federal board of directors. Shown in the doorway of this old headquarters is Frank P. Kosmach, St. Paul president whose career covers over 47 years with this Association.

Prior to December, 1953, our headquarters remained at 2116 West 22nd street. Then, with $24 million of assets, we moved to our modern, spacious building at 6720 West North Avenue. This building was designed to accommodate $60 million in assets or an expected 10 years of growth. Now, just seven years later, we've passed $100 million in assets and grown to the point where more space is desperately needed. And all the thanks go to you.

So, once again, we're in the midst of a tremendous building program to serve you better and more completely. As work on our big addition progresses, we'll keep you posted through reports in your local newspaper.

Russian Attitudes Topic for Lecture

Robert J. Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Osborn, 2335 Lincolnwood, Evanston, will be the featured speaker at a public meeting and discussion at 8 Friday, March 4, at Evanston Friends meeting house, 1010 Greenleaf.

The topic will be "Russian Attitudes Toward International Tensions," and the event is sponsored jointly by North Shore Citizens for Peace and the social concerns committee of Evanston Friends meeting.

Osborn, an Evanstonian and member of Evanston Friends, is a political scientist and since 1957 has worked with the International Affairs seminars of the American Friends Service committee in Washington, D.C.

Last summer he traveled in Russia under the auspices of the Young Friends committee of North America.

WITH THE same organization Osborn helped play host to three Russian young people in 1958. The name of this project was "Experiment in Understanding."

Osborn's earlier training included work with the Institute of International Education in Chicago and field experience with refugees from Eastern Europe in Germany. Part of his graduate work in political science related to the Russian institute at Columbia university.

The public meeting on March 4 is a part of the continuing action and study program of North Shore Citizens for Peace. NSCP is comprised largely of people in this area and has been active for more than a year.

"THE ROBERT Osborn meeting is designed to encourage new insights into our raltionship with other nationalistic groups and to help create the understanding needed to establish conditions under which peace can exist," commented Wilfred Reynolds, Jr., 2439 Ashland, spokesman for the local peace group.

John Cotton, 2149 Pioneer and a member of the psychology department at Northwestern, will head the meeting. The public is invited and there will be no admission.

Give Trees Good Vitamin Balance

A balanced diet for trees looks something like the label on a vitamin bottle. The formula: high potency nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, plus a host of "trace" minerals, including iron, magnesium, zinc and boron.

So if you are one of the many home owners planning to dish out victuals to woody pets, don't serve them just any fertilizer this spring. Above all, make sure their blue-plate specials are high in nitrogen content.

Take it from Homer L. Jacobs, research director of the Davey Tree Expert company, nitrogen is the most important growth factor by far. He said the most effective tree food should have this element in the proportion of three parts to one part each of phosphorus and potash. Lesser ratios may result in malnutrition for woody pets.

TREES ARE hungry for nitrogen, even in the so-called dormant season. They absorb this essential in nitrate form around the calendar. Davey experimenters find that phosphorus and potash are important in those unusual cases where soil may be deficient in them.

Because of their continuing need for nitrogen, arboreal friends cannot wait for slow-acting materials to release it. For instance, bone meal, tankage or cottonseed meal may make the nitrogen available when it is too late to do any good.

Feeding has many advantages. It speeds growth, increases tree resistance to insects and disease and builds added winter hardiness and summer drought resistance.

YOU HAVE A HOME... BUT IT'S TOO SMALL?

Do you feel that you can't have a new home because your money is tied up in your old home? We have a ready solution for this problem. For a small earnest money deposit we will build the home of your choice. There are no expensive financing charges, no interest to pay during construction. While your new home is being built you sell your old home. You do not pay for the new home until it is complete and ready for occupancy. And payments on your new home do not start until payments on the old home cease. Because we can promise a date of occupancy well in advance you can arrange to release possession of your old home when your new home is completed. Hundreds of families have made this transition through our plan. You can, too.

2 Mt. Prospect Residents Promoted by Chicago Firm

FRANK R. BERGEN

FLOYD A. CALDINI

Three executive promotions were announced today by Commercial Discount Corporation, one of the nation's leading commercial finance companies.

Floyd A Caldini, 201 Moehling dr., Mt. Prospect, was promoted from Comptroller to Treasurer of the company. Frank R. Bergen, 613 N. Pine Mt. Prospect, promoted from assistant vice president to vice president, and Donald J. Howe was promoted from the legal staff of the company to Secretary.

Caldini has been with the company since January, 1959. Bergen first came with the company in 1952 Howe first company in 1952. Howe first joined the company's legal staff in October, 1958.

Party Planned For Skaters

Mrs. Walter P. Naegle of Mt. Prospect has scheduled a graduation party for June 12 at the Michael Kirby ice skating school at Park Ridge, one of many slated to be held at the rink.

Cliff Bickler, manager of the school in Park Ridge, explained that the idea of graduation parties has been a huge success, a new idea in parties that saves wear and tear on homes, and saves the nerves of mothers planning these parties. (BB

William A. Dasho, 2101 N. Quinten rd., Palatine, was elected a director of the Chicago Press Veterans association at the annual meeting of the board of directors Friday, Feb. 19, at the Chicago Press Club, Sheraton Towers. Also elected as a new board director was Budd Gore, advertising manager of the Chicago Daily News.

George T. Schreiber of The Chicago Tribune, chairman of the association, said that Dasho was re-elected as assistant secretary to Lew R. Merrell, head of the Merrell Features syndicate, secretary of the association. Schreiber was re-elected to serve as chairman for the fourth consecutive term with Anthony C. Raciti of the Chicago Sun-Times serving as the vice-chairman, also for the fourth consecutive term.

Dasho, president of the 24 year old public relations firm, Dasho-Rogers, Inc., (38 S. Dearborn st.) Chicago, has been a member of the Chicago Press Veterans since 1946.

The organization's membership is limited to those men who worked one year or more on a Chicago newspaper or recognized news service 20 years prior to their eligibility to membership in the organization. Each year an outstanding "Press Vet" of the year is honored at the fall dinner.

Dasho is a member of Medinah Temple; Scottish Rite Valley of Chicago; Lounsbury Lodge 751, Barrington; Bethel Commandery 36, Elgin; Chicago Press Club, Rotary Club of Chicago and the Illinois Athletic Club. (BB

New Paint Previewed By Jamieson

G. D. Jamieson, manager of the Sherwin-Williams branch located in the Arlington Market, Arlington Heights, attended a company sales conference in Chicago Monday. At the meeting, the firm unveiled its newest exterior house paint, a latex formulation that, according to company spokesmen, "makes exterior painting as easy and foolproof as interior painting."

The new paint, which has been under development and testing for more than eight years, will be introduced in the Arlington Heights area next week. It is designed for use over all types of construction materials and will be available in 31 colors and white. (BB

Ready Gondolas At Restaurant

The beautiful Villa Venice restaurant, 2855 N. Milwaukee ave., is preparing for the spring season and nightly gondola rides. The 52 foot gondodas are being given a spring paint-up and test sailed and will be ready sometime around the end of April. The Villa Venice, long famous for the gondola rides, will have five boats in the water this year for the convenience of their patrons.

The Villa Venice features Dick Sarlo and his orchestra with Jimmy Nickols at the piano bar. Fine dinners are served from 5 p.m. and there's never a minimum or a cover charge for the shows.

The Villa Venice is located on Milwaukee ave., (route 21) near Wheeling. (BB

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

Spring is not far off. Before it gets here, trees and fall blooming shrubs should be pruned. Thin out about one-fourth of the oldest branches of the shrubs and cut back the remaining branches to a good size shoot or bud. Remove the least desirable of any crossing branches on the trees.

Avoid narrow V-crotches on the trees. When one begins to develop, cut off one of the branches.

Remove sucker growth on the inner portions of the large branches.

WHEN removing large branches, cut upward (under cut) the branch six inches from the trunk. Then cut downward three inches nearer the trunk. When the branch falls, it will not split the trunk. Remove the remaining stub by cutting as close to the tree as possible. Treen wounds always heal from the outside in. Because of this an eliptical, vertical wound will heal faster than a round one, Paint any large wounds with asphalt base tree paint.

An excellent bulletin on pruning trees and shrubs is available free of charge from the Cook county Farm bureau Office, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

BAG WORMS can cause considerable damage to evergreen trees and shrubs in this location.

At this time of the year, bag worms can be identified by their gray, spindle-shaped sacks, securely attached to twigs and branches of the plants. Within these sacks are the eggs of the bag worm. In May these eggs will hatch, and the young worms wil begin to feed on the evergreen foliage. A large population of bag worms can seriously damage, or even completely defoliate an evergreen in one season.

The easiest method of controlling these insects is to remove all the bags from the plants before the eggs hatch. The bags should then be burned or otherwise destroyed.

If it is impractical to remove all the bags from the plants, spraying the evergreens with lead arsenate at the time the eggs are hatching, will give good control. It is essential that the spray be applied when the worms are very small, because when the worms become large, they are much more difficult to kill. Any spraying done after the end of June is of no value. By that time, the worms have matured and are sealed in their bags, well protected from any sprays which may be used. (BB

Insurance Man To Be Honored At Conference

Myron H. Custin, 39 S. Kaspar, Arlington Heights, representative for Hardware Mutuals will be honored at his firm's area sales conference on February 25 and 26.

Custin has been notified that his outstanding production has qualified him for honory sales club membership. This is the 15th year that Custin has been a sales leader.

Sales representatives from the entire state of Illinois will attend the conference at the Wagon Wheel Lodge in Rockton. Speakers will include Carl N. Jacobs, president, from the insurance companies' home office, and Val J. Williams, president, Sales Marketing Executives Club of Chicago.

Rolling Meadows Man Illinois CPA Member

Douglas P. Herr, 2104 Jay lane, Rolling Meadows, was recently elected to membership in the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants by action of its Board of Directors at their last meeting.

Herr, 24, a native of Wishek, N. D., attended the North Dakota State College and received his B.B.A. degree from the University of Minnesota in 1957. He was with the CPA firm of Frazer and Torbet in Minneapolis for part of that year and, since then, has been affiliated with the CPA firm of Arthur Andersen and Co. in Chicago. Herr became a CPA last year when he passed the uniform CPA examination in Illinois.

The CPA examination, which is now uniform in all the 50 states and territories and is given semi-annually, was given in November, 1959, to over 13,000 candidates. Of this number, over 600 were candidates who sat for the examination in Illinois. (BB

Medinah Maids Plan Bake Sale

Several talks and demonstrations in connection with 4-H projects were given at the February 22 meeting of Medinah Merry Maids held in the home of Candy Mesh es. Guest, Mrs. Larry Tellschow, gave the girls pointers on modeling clothes for the county achievement day to take place in spring.

Last minute plans were made for the "4-H Night" to be held at the next PTA meeting, when the girls will model dresses of their own creation and conduct a bake sale of home made items before and after the meeting. Proceeds from the event will be used to purchase signs for 4-H members.

The next meeting will be held March 7 in the home of Lynn Miskewitz on Hawthorne lane.

4-H Display Marks Elk Grove Calendar

Elk Grove 4-H club met February 16 in the home of Louise Ruge of Des Plaines. Judy Sullivan was appointed to find a location for the up-and-coming 4-H window display.

It was announced two members with the best 4-H project books will be awarded a trip to the 4-H summer camp in Kankakee.

In order to start the meetings on time, the group voted that if a member is more than a half hour late, he or she will counted as such, unless there is a plausible excuse.

COMMITTEE for selecting the performance for the 4-H "Share the Fun" show in May are Sandy Zick, chairman; Tom Sullivan, Barbara Brown, Pat Sullivan, Linda Sobb, Barbara Westberg and Connie Carson. The meeting for this work group will be held Wednesday, March 2, at 8 p.m., in Connie Carlson's home. Mrs. Ruge will serve refreshments.

Members who have not paid their dues are asked to bring them to the next meeting, Tuesday, March 8, in the home of Linda Sobb, 556 Thacker, Des Plaines. (4-H

Sewing Susies Plan Store Window Exhibit

During National 4-H week, March 5 through 12, Sewing Susies 4-H club will have a window exhibit in Lisa's Drapery shop, 17 E. Miner, Arlington Heights. Theme for National 4-H week is "Learn, Live, Serve through 4-H."

Sewing Susies exhibit will be entitled, "Use the Artist's Colors." The girls will use "Chestnut Trees at Jas de Bouffan" by Cezanne and show how the colors from this painting can be used as a color scheme for a model room. (4- H(FM

Shamrocks 4-H Have Wood Carving Lesson

A demonstration of wood carving by Linda Larson and a talk on hair care by Maureen Davis were highlights of the February 27 meeting of Smiling Shamrocks 4-H club, when members met at 1346 Foundry rd., Arlington Heights. During the meeting, ideas for a 4-H window display were submitted and voted upon and a committee was named to plan a March party.

A special meeting was set for Thursday, March 3, to be held at 18 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights. (4-H (FM

Prospectors Plan Window Display

The February 17 meeting of the Prospectors 4-H club was held in the Mt. Prospect home of Tom Walters. The club suggested ideas for the coming window display contest for 4-Hers and then set up committees for the event. Also discussed were "Share the Fun" ideas.

Paul Brookhausen presented a talk on indoor gardening and Gary Morton on safe driving.

The window display for the Prospectors will be in Mt. Prospect's toy shop the week of March 7-12.

Skating Party For TNT Group

At the regular meeting of the TNT 4-H club held in Higgins school February 15 members planned a roller skating party for March 10 at 7 p.m. Suggestions were also made for "Share the Fun" activity.

Another meeting was held February 29 in Higgins school with Pat Mortenson, Susan Payne and Alice Bollmann giving talks and Christine Gates, Bonnie Pohlman, Marcy Beigel and Pat Horn demonstrating 4-H achievements.

8 4-H Youth To Go Abroad for Summer

Eight outstanding Illinois farm youth will represent the United States in foreign countries under the International Farm Youth exchange (IFYE) program, Hugh Wetzel, Illinois IFYE committee chairman, announced today.

The Illinois delegates, and countries where they will go, are Mary Jo Cunningham, Georgetown, Peru; Eunice Schaudet, Pinckneyville, Republic of China; Lois Warfield, Gibson City, Australia; Walter Griffith, Galesburg, Dominican Republic; Donald Smallwood, Fairbury, Ireland; John Sadler, Fithian, Argentina; James Rea, Mulkeytown, Finland; and Leon Shaw, Woodstock, Mexico.

These young people were selected for their outstanding leadership in 4-H and other farm youth activities. They join more than 100 U.S. IFYE delegates in countries throughout the world.

WETZEL SAID each delegate will stay with four to 12 farm families during his four-to six-month stay in the country. In exchange, farm youth from cooperating countries will visit and work on Illinois farms.

Since the program began in 1948, more than 1,000 U.S. IFYE delegates have visited 50 countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Pacific area and the Middle worked with U.S. farm families.

When the delegates return home, they must share their experiences with youth groups, rural organizations, civic clubs and others in their own country. They tell about customs, living conditions, the type of people they met in their host countries.

U.S. delegates have given their impressions of foreign countries to more than six million people through speeches alone. They reach many more through radio and television programs and newspaper and magazine articles.

Wetzel said the IFYE project was founded to help rural young people undertand and appreciate the problems of similar people in other countries. The founders believe that understanding people is the foundation of world peace.

The program is supported by voluntary contributions. In addition to funds raised for each IFYE delegate from his home county, support is given by the Illinois and the national 4-H foundation.

Country Cousins 'Share the Fun'

"Share-the-fun and the window display for the coming 4-H week were the chief topics discussed at the recent meeting of Country Cousins 4-H club.

Linda Trimmel's demonstration on zippers and Pat Reif's demonstration on handicraft were well received by the members. Refreshments were served.

Palatine 4-H To Display Skills Mar. 7

Plans for window displays were submitted at the February 16 meeting of the Palatine 4-H club. Winning prizes for best display ideas were Jim Kagel and Ed Pacanna, who, along with Bill Engler and Ed Mossman, will head the construction committee.

Edwin Thurnau and Mike Biddle were appointed to serve on the committee for display materials and Shirley Thurnau and Joan O'Connor will place and arrange the display in a window March 7.

Two farm talks, "Milking the Right Way," and "Preparing for a Calf" were given by Jim Kagel and Bill Engler, followed by Edwin, Donald and Nancy Thurnau serving refreshments.

It was announced by Mrs. Bergman, club leader, that the "Chicken of Tomorrow" contest will be held in Dundee. Entries will close February 29. (4-H

Review of 'Stalag 17'

Fine Workmanship In Player Offering

by JO PARNELL

While the World War II drama "Stalag 17," by Donald Bevan and Edmund Trzcinski, may be dated in terms of the specific situation enacted, it nevertheless raises problems which are still quite pertinent some 15 years later.

The production of this play by the Palatine Players presented to its audience a fine job of workmanship but failed in communicating the drama of fierce conflict which raged throughout.

ODDLY enough, the scenes which stood out in quality of performance were those of bantering and broad humor. The actors seemed to take hold of and be at ease in these scenes which, while not adding to the forward movement of the play, served to give a needed touch of real life, and relief from the dramatic tension which is the essence of the play. However, the dramatic scenes which the humor was to relieve seldom materialized. The result was a performance of rather static proportions.

Because of the monotone of dramatic action, characters too failed to materialize with clarity. The audience was prevented from clearly identifying itself with any of the protaganists or feeling animosity toward their persecutors.

Clearly there was a difference between the attacks of "Stosh" upon his fellow prisoner Sefton, and the underhanded role of the Nazi corporal Shultz, but the play failed to distinguish between the two.

If anything, I found myself more in sympathy with this Nazi than the American! Surely the authors could not have intended this reaction. The culmination of the characterization of the insidious Corporal Shultz, was reached with the line which he spoke after brutally beating one of the prisoners, in words to this effect—"I couldn't help it. I was following orders!" but these words which so expose his savage nature were passed over unnoticed and Shultz remained 'just another prison guard.'

IN LIKE fashion the climax of the play was muted. At this crucial point the prisoners must decide, and quickly, on the morality of throwing Price, the informer, to his death. But because the issues, upon which this decision was ultimately made, were never clearly established earlier in the play, this moment lost its intense power and became instead merely an exciting incident.

Betrayal, lynch justice, judgment of the betrayer and hate of the Nazis, became purely academic questons to an audience never caught up in an illusion of reality.

John Grayson (Price) came the closest to a full delineation of character in his role as the Nazi informer while Leon Stevens (Sefton) though giving an even and intelligent performance, failed to infuse his characterization with the spark of individuality. In his role of the immature, comic Stosh, William Kollars scored a hit, but his performance fell down in the more demanding parts of his role. George Van Der Bosche (Horney) who was throughout the play eloquent in his complete silence, and Clifford Stenstrop, who stepped in at the last moment to play Marko, added small deft touches to the play.

THE EXCELLENT lighting and sound effects added greatly to the stark reality of prison life conveyed by the bare set. The walls, which looked to be constructed of corugated cardboard, gave just the bedraggled, makeshift effect which one would expect in such a prisoner of war camp. A particularly realistic touch was achieved in the bare light bulbs hanging by cords from the ceiling. If the set missed in any way it was in creating too great an impression of spaciousness. A set which would have given the illusion of more cramped confinement may have aided in the heightening of the action.

With all its shortcomings, the Palatine Players and particularly the director George Daniels, should be applauded for their serious attempt to produce a play which presented all the difficulties of a "Stalag 17." (Bill

Palatine Man Now Press Vet Director

When three Indiana University administrative officials arrive in Chicago on Thursday, March 3, to interview prospective students from the Chicagoland area, three area personnel will be among those in the official greeting party. They are Kenneth E. Gwin, 9922 S. Trumbull st., Evergreen Park; Bob Risteen, 1513 Alison Dr., Palatine, and Gil Perry, 8145 Kolmar, Skokie.

The three Indiana University officials are Max E. Skirvin, field secretary of the Alumni Association; Clem Bucher, associate dean of the school's Junior Division and Edward J. Koontz, assistant dean of the School of Business.

More than 100 prospective students from this area are expected to attend a special program to be held on March 3 at the University Club, 76 E. Monroe, Chicago, and will be told "that as the University looks big, today, so is its ability to educate students."

A film, a question and answer period, and refreshments are included in the program which starts at 7:30 p.m. All interested students are invited to attend for which no previous reservation is required.

Mortenson Promoted by Teletype

T. M. Mortenson, rt. 3, Bensenville, was promoted last week to chief of the accounting department at headquarters of the Teletype Corporation, 5555 Touhy ave, Skokie. In his new assignment, he will be responsible for the work of 45 employees.

In addition to accounting courses at Northwestern, Mortenson has had broad experience in accounting. Since starting with Teletype in 1941, he has had a variety of assignments of increasing responsibility in the organization he now heads. For the past ten years he has been supervisor of a small group of accountants.

During World War II, Mortenson served in the Army for almost two years. He spent 13 months in the Medical Corps in England.

Mortenson and his wife, Ann, are the parents of four children: Michael, 13, and Patricia, 11, who attend Higgins School; Robert, 10, who goes to Rupley; and James, 4.

Having two sons interested in scouting, he has enjoyed working with the Scouts, having served as Cubmaster for four years and more recently helping out with various jobs in the Boy Scout program in Elk Grove.

Local Company Gets Contract

Illinois Range co., Mt. Prospect, has been awarded contract for $261,646 for food service equipment to be installed in new residence halls for undergraduate men students now under construction at the University of Illinois.

The company currently is completing an equipment contract for the university's Central Food Stores Building.

The new residence halls will house 1,500 men in three units, with a central dining unit. First two units, housing 1,000 men, are expected to be ready by fall, all units and the food services by the second semester of 1960-61. (BB

Mercedes-Benz Sales Increase Across Nation

U. S. retail deliveries of Mercedes-Benz cars in January were the highest of any month since last June, according to Lon A. Fleener, president of Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc., a Studebaker-Packard Corporation subsidiary.

January's domestic retail sales totaled 842 units, with an additional 84 cars delivered to U. S. customers in Europe. Sales of Mercedes-Benz cars are limited by the number of units allotted to the U. S. by the manufacturer in West Germany, Daimler-Benz A. G., Fleener said.

"The upward trend of Mercedes-Benz sales" Fleener said, "is evidence that high-quality imported cars backed by reliable nationwide parts and service facilities will continue in popularity among U. S. car buyers. We recognize that maintenance of these facilities with trained mechanics and a ready availability of parts is vital to the continued success of our imported car program."

Service Director Winston Motors

EARL BROWN

Louis Bravos, president of the Winston Motors, Inc., Palatine, has just announced the appointment of Earl Brown as director of the firm's service department, dealer for Dodge and Dodge Dart automobiles. In addition to responsibility for the firm's service department, Mr. Brown will also be in charge of the body shop, with all-new facilities.

Mr. Brown has had 16 years of experience with Chrysler-built products, and factory-trained mechanics will assist hm in the Winston organization. (BB

At Camp Pendleton

Marine Pvt. Raymond E. Szilagyi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doster Roberts of 147 Elmhurst rd., Wood Dale, completed four weeks of individual combat training Feb. 26 at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Cal.

The course included the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortschooling on weapons.

Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

At Great Lakes

Robert P. Curatti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Curatti of 21 S. Phelps st., and Fred W. Stierle, son of Mrs. Erna Broer of 1022 N. Illinois ave., both of Arlington Heights, graduated from recruit training Feb. 13 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries. (WUS

Campus Capers

At Carroll

Judy Panek, a junior from Arlington Heights, was named as the "best dressed girl on campus" by a vote of the fraternity men at Carroll college.

Miss Panek will compete in Glamour magazine's "10 best dressed college girls" contest, the winners of which will be announced in March. She may win a two week trip to New York city in June if she is one of the 10 finalists.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Panek, 825 S. Evergreen. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority and is majoring in sociology and psychology at Carroll. (CC

At Lake Forest

Weir C. Swanson, 901 S. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, personnel director of the Jewel Tea company, Inc., was one of the 13 representatives of the business and professional world who conducted student seminars on Lake Forest college campus during the recent Careers Day program.

Among the local students taking part in the day's events was Paul W. Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Manning, 31 W. Robertson st., Palatine, a senior at Lake Forest.

At Denison

Chapters of eight national sororities at Denison university, Granville, Ohio, have initiated 173 women students. A scholastic attainment is required of pledges to qualify for initiation.

From this area is Susan Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron K. Anderson, 923 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights.

Miss Anderson is a new member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. (CC

At Taylor

Miss Darlene Kolze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kolze, 15 W. 518 George st., Bensenville, was one of 49 Taylor university students who were included on the dean's honor list for the first semester of 1959-60.

Miss Kolze, a freshman, is a member of Ambassadors for Christ at the university in Tipton, Ind. (CC

Leyden '35 Reunion

The class of 1935 at Leyden community high school will hold its 25th anniversary reunion in Elgin Sunday, July 10, at a potluck luncheon. Members of this class and families are invited to contact Edith Wadsworth Schwendeman at 2905 Atlantic st., Franklin Park.

Free Thought

The undisciplined mind is far better adapted to the confused world in which we live today than the streamlined mind. —James Thurber.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Gayle Eileen Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Francisco, 143 S. Benton, Palatine, has been placed on the Dean's List at Illinois Wesleyan University, it has just been announced by John S. Smith, Vice President and Dean of the University.

This recognition is given to those students whose grades include nothing below "B" and at least one grade of "A". This list is based on the grades from the first semester of the school year 1959-60. 166 students were honored by being placed on the Dean's List at this time.

At Coe

Gail Rosene and June Hall of Arlington Heights will participate in the water ballet "Cinema Rhapsodies" to be presented Saturday, Feb. 27, by the Coe Catalinas, women's swimming club at Coe.

Participants in the synchronized swimming event, which will be open to the public, were announced February 24 by Helen Stewart of the Coe physical education staff.

Miss Rosene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rosene, 404 Fairview, and Miss Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Hall, Jr., 1009 W. Oakton, will swim in the ballet numbers set to the music of well-known motion pictures ranging from "South Pacific" to "The Egyptian."

At Miami

Six area students were among those named to the deans list at Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, for the past semester.

Two from Prospect Heights, Janet M. Quirsfeld, 308 E. Euclid, and Walter C. Borman, 303 E. Willow, were on the high honor list, having made grades between 3.5 and 3.99.

On the honor list were Gail Carolyn Smith, 221 Wilshire lane, and Dwight W. Pate, 1112 Harvard, Arlington Heights; Fred G. Breitling, 250 E. Colfax, Palatine; and Judith A. Mell, Prairie View.

At Illinois

Miss Alexandra Crane, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Crane, 1128 Farwell, Chicago, was recently elected scholarship chairman of Beta Alpha of Alpha Phi international fraternity at the University of Illinois.

Miss Crane, a former Palatine resident, is a junior majoring in speech correction. Among her many campus activities, she is presently serving as publicity chairman of personnel at the Illini Union. As a freshman she was initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary for outstanding grades, of which she is now an active member.

At Wittenburg

Robert Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Saunders, 1163 N. Hickory ave., Arlington Heights, has been named to the Dean's List at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, for the first semester of the 1959-60 academic year, according to Dean John N. Stauffer.

To be named to the Dean's list at Wittenberg, students must have an average of between 3.5 and 4.0, or between a "B-plus" and straight "A" mark.

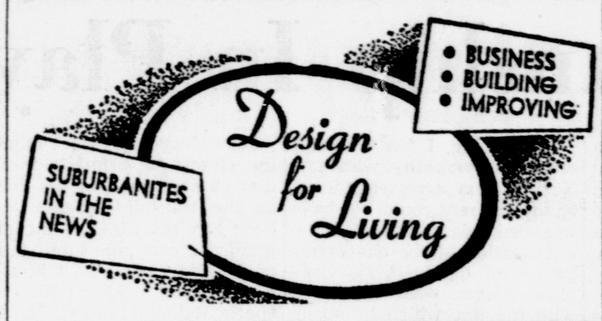
At Carleton

Jeffrey Hanor, Carleton College junior from Arlington Heights, Illinois, is the newly elected treasurer of the Carleton Student Association.

Throughout his college career, Hanor has been active as class officer and has consistently ranked in the top 10 per cent of his class, academically.

A geology major, Hanor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hanor, 729 S. Highland, Arlington Heights.

CSA is concerned primarily with the governing of the student body, but it also has under its jurisdiction all campus student organizations.



Local Man Directs 50th Homecoming At U. of Illinois

Ormand F. Lyman, 626 Mayfair, Arlington Heights, executive director of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the committee which already is at work planning for the 50th anniversary Homecoming at the University of Illinois

Lyman, a member of the class of 1925, will be working with many key alumni throughout the state for Homecoming, set for Oct. 8 at the Ohio State game.

The date was changed from Oct. 22 which has been selected because of quirk in the 1960 football schedule which left Penn State the only home game between Oct. 8 and Nov. 12 when Homecoming, originated at Illinois, usually falls.

At the time, the significance of the 1960 Homecoming as the 50th one was not realized. University President David D. Henry okayed the switch before he left for India at Christmas time. (CC

At Western Michigan

Miss Betty J. Thompson, daughter of R. T. Thompson, 119 S. Elm, Palatine, was recently recognized at a sophomore honor chocolate, sponsored by Arista, honorary women's society at Western Michigan university, Kalamazoo.

The chocolate is held annually to honor coeds who maintain a high grade average during their first two semester at Western.

A graduate of Palatine Township high school, Betty is studying secondary education. She is also active in the Campus Christian Fellowship.

At Valparaiso

Brenda L. Rudolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rudolph, 421 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, will appear in the next production of the Valparaiso University Players.

The group will present Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" March 18, 19 and 20 in Kroencke Hall on the Valpo campus.

Miss Rudolph has been cast in the role of Raina, the romantic female lead. (CC

At Valparaiso

Dorothy I. Plass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Plass, 220 S. Maple, Itasca, will go on tour with the Valparaiso University Choir March 25-29.

The 1960 edition of the annual event will take the 55-member group on a five-day swing through Illinois and Iowa.

The choir will present six concerts over the five-day span under the direction of Prof. Philip Gehring, university organist and choirmaster.

Two performances are listed for the first day of the tour, a morning appearance at Chicago Luther South high school and the evening presentation at Immanuel Lutheran church in Rock Island, Ill.

At Coe

Pledges to the five national fraternities at Coe college were announced here February 17 by the Coe Interfraternity Council which supervised the week-long rushing activities.

Pledges included Ronald Marks, son of Mrs. C. C. Marks, 123 S. Wapella, Phi Kappa Tau; and Charles Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orion Morris, 409 We-Go Trail, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Each of the five Coe fraternities entertained the rushees at parties under Coe's "delayed rush" program. Pledging of fraternities is delayed until the second semester in order to give freshmen an opportunity to become oriented to college life and to become acquainted with members of the various fraternities.

At Northwestern

Leighton Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Turner of Town Acres lane, Roselle, has just been awarded the Rogers Star, a medal given to each of the five students earning the highest grade average in the entire school for each semester.

Leighton has distinguished himself in more than one way, having received from the cadets of the Corps the designation of "Honorary Old Man." This is a most coveted award, carrying with it the fullest measure of approval of the recipient by the entire Corps of Cadets. Only 12 plebes were so honored. He has also received from Northwestern notification that he is one of the current students qualified to enter the academy's school for academically talented boys this coming summer. (CC

Students Intern At Fair Store

Ten students left Carbondale for on-the-job training assignments throughout Illinois February 26 in a unique tie-up between education and the market place to produce potential salespeople and executives. The students are part of the cooperative retail training curricula at Southern Illinois University's Vocational Technical institute.

The purpose of the 2-year course, leading to an associate degree in business, is to train junior executives and to develop them into potential merchants. The program provides limited specialization in the main retailing areas — apparel, hardware and foods.

Second-year students attend classes at the VTI on alternate 8-week periods beginning at the first of the school year in September.

Among students interning this quarter are: Ronald Thompson, Palatine, and William E. White, Arlington Heights, both at Fair store, Chicago.

At Purdue

Stanley W. Fletcher Jr., 2024 E. Park ave., Arlington Heights, was one of 721 students at Purdue university graduating at mid-semester. Fletcher received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering.

At Parsons

Arthur H. Tews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Tews, 600 E. Evergreen, Mt. Prospect, recently enrolled as one of 100 full time new students registered at Parsons college, Fairfield, Ia., for second semester studies.

Marines Enlist Only 100 Men In Local Area

Only 100 applicants will be accepted for enlistment thru the Marine recruiting office in Skokie during the year 1960. Master Sergeant Don Nygaard, local Marine recruiter, said the Marine Corps is numerically the smallest of the Armed Services therefore the limit was established.

Men who desire to be "One of the Hundred," but who want to leave at a later date may enlist in the Marine Corps "J" program, Nygaard said. Under this program a man may enlist and leave for active duty anytime within 120 days from his date of enlistment. The time spent at home counts towards promotion and total military service.

Nygaard, who visits the Palatine Post Office every Tuesday, said that men enlisting from this area receive their "boot" training at San Diego, Cal (12 weeks), then transfer to Camp Pendleton, Cal. for four weeks of advanced training after which they are sent to a school or to a regular unit for duty and on-the-job training. Twin Brothers Stick Together At Sub School

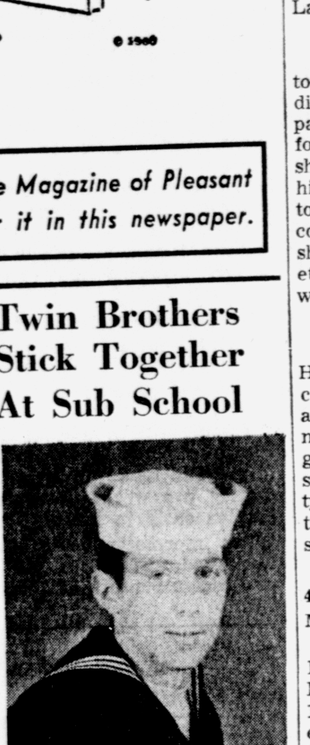
KURT J. ENGLE



LANCE J. ENGLE

Kurt J. and Lance J. Engle, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Engle, 115 E. Willow st., Arlington Heights, were kept together for boot training at Great Lakes, which they completed January 30.

After a 12-hour liberty, having had a 2-week leave at Christmas time, they left for New London, Conn., where they are also together for eight weeks of intensive training at the USN Submarine school, USN Submarine base.

Their studies at the base will cover the physical principles and actual operation of each integral functioning part of a submarine.

The twins graduated from Arlington high school last June and enlisted in the navy in November.

Schaumburg: Married: Miss Mollie Boegener and Mr. William Thies, Feb. 22, 1920. Messrs. Henry Boegeer, August Thies and Henry Harke were groomsmen, and Misses Emma and Alvina Thies and Sophie Boegener were bridesmaids. Henry Thies and Louis Harks drove the decorated autos at the head of the procession to and from the church. The boys held them up on the return trip, but they were able to buy their way thru the bridge toll gate.

Elk Grove: Married: Miss Lillie Bierman, youngest daughter of Louis Biermann, to Mr. Henry B. Cosman. Bridesmaid, Miss Leila Kolze and best man Alfred Cosman. The maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Freudenberg and the groomsman, Arthur Cosman. The bride and groom will be at home on the Ernest Cosman farm.

Arlington Heights: The Chicago Tribune Wednesday announced the death of Abraham Clum, who died March 2d, aged 58 years. Mr. Blum was a resident of Arlington Heights many years. Funeral March 4 from Jefferson Park Masonic Temple, burial at Waldheim.

A public mass meeting of the citizens and property owners of Arlington Heights will be held at the village hall at 8 o'clock p.m. Saturday, March 6, 1920, to discuss the emergency for the new artesian well. The drillers have gone down 100 feet deeper than the old wells and no water yet. What shall we do for future water supply? Everyone urgently requested to attend.

Palatine: "In memory of Private Benjamin Blohm, Co. B., 4th Infantry of the United States of America, who died for Liberty during the Great War. The Homage of France. The President of the Republic. R. Poincare." The above words are the inscription upon a beautiful memorial from France that was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Chr. Blohm by the French Consul of Chicago, on the awarding of diplimas of merit by the French Government to the next-of-kin of Chicago's dead, under the auspices of the Chicago Historical Society. Among the priceless possessions of the Blohm home, there is another parchment that is equally prized. It reads as follows: "United States of America. In Memory of Private Benjamin Blohm, Co. B. 4th Infantry who was killed in battle, Oct. 13, 1918. He bravely laid down his life for the cause of his country. His name will ever remain fresh in the hearts of his friends and comrades. The record of his honorable service will be preserved in the archives of the American Expeditionary Forces. John J. Pershing, Commander in Chief."

These echoes of the great war take our thoughts back to the days when 100 Palatine boys wore the U.S. uniform and were ready to make the sacrifices that were made by Benjamin Bohm and William Heide. In these days of hurrying for the mighty dollar, we should sometimes turn our thoughts back to the memory of the two gold star boys of Palatine.

Arlington Heights: Rev. Peter F. Gall has resigned the pastorate of St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights, on the advice of his physician. Rev. Gall was born May 20, 1883, was ordained to the priesthood May 20, 1910. After service in Chicago, Blue Island and Chicago Heights, he came to Arlington Heights in 1922. He became the first resident pastor of Arlington Heights parish, serving until last Tuesday, Feb. 23, 1930.

When he took charge of the parish in Jan. 1922, he found St. James' parish largely a vacant property, a church building standing there, and with families in the parish numbering 85, of seven or eight nationalities. He, finding no home or no room to rent, Mrs. A. S. Nehls of North Highland offered him a room and bed for as long a time as he should need it, till a home could be built. He resided there nine months.

In May, the foundation was lad for the present priest house. It was completed Oct. 12, 1922, but not yet furnished. The parish grew and within four years, numbered 150 families. Plans were laid in 1925 for the present school, corner stone being laid in 1926. The church and the priest house are now cleared of all debt, and the only debt on the place is on the present school. Rev. Joseph Wagner now takes charge.

Elk Grove: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dieke, who have the distinction of operating the last old time countryside store in northern Cook county, established their business on the Dieke farm in Elk Grove on Route 53, forty-three years ago. It has outlasted similar establishments that at one time marked every farming community in this section of the county.

Early in the century, the Djeke creamery and blacksmith shop drew farmers from a large district to the Dieke corner.

Tractors replacing horses have forced out the blacksmith shop; large milk companies have closed the butter factory, but the farmers in the Dieke neighborhood remain loyal to their own store, where they can conveniently purchase their daily needs.

Oil lamps are still being sold; coffee is ground on the hand operated coffee mill, but the open cracker box is gone as is the tobacco box, which Mr. Dieke kept filled with free tobacco for the use of his customers.

Free clay pipes were also furnished for those who sat around the old coal stove waiting for the shoeing of their horses, and the arrival of the mail over the star route from Itasca. They discussed national and local politics, were in no hurry to return home, and looked upon Mr. Dieke as their personal friend, legal counselor and sometimes banker. (Diekeville - on Route 53 - traveling south is about half a mile south of the WGN radio tower on the left hand side of the road.)

Arlington Heights: While no official announcement has been made by the police department it is understood that an informal approval has been given by the board for the purchase of a two-way radio for the Arlington Heights police car, using the facilities of the county highway station.

Elk Grove: Gust Hoeske, farmer at Higgins Road, southwest of Arlington Heights, will perform his first job as an auctioneer by shouting his own sale at his farm, Saturday, March 16. Mr. Hoeske, a farmer in this vicinity for many years, recently graduated from the American Auction College at Rice City, Wisc. and is now a member of the American Auctioneer's association.

William Helfers, Sr., a resident of Arlington Heights for the last 32 years, died at his home March 4, at the age of 79 years. He was born in the province of Hanover, Germany, Sept. 13, 1860. Six years later he emigrated with his parents to America. They settled in Elk Grove for a brief time after which they moved to Northfield township. In 1870 they moved back to Elk Grove where they lived for 38 years. He was married in 1888 to Miss Martha Scharringhausen who preceded him in death in 1935. In 1908 Mr. Helfers moved to Arlington Heights, and was engaged successively in employment by the John Schulenburg mason contractors, the C&NW Ry., and Benjamin Electric company. The deceased is mourned by his six children: Mrs. Lilliam Adam, Harry, Ben, and Herbert, all of Arlington; Wm. Jr. of Des Plaines, and Mrs. Caroline Elfring of Bensenville. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Bertha Hahnfeldt of Des Plaines, and one brother, Fred Helfers, also of Des Plaines. Fifteen grandchildren and one great grandchild also mourn his earthly departure.

Wheeling school may have to close within the next week due to the coal shortage. The school supply is running low and the possibility of obtaining more is remote. If school is closed now, the Easter vacation may be eliminated or school will close later for summer vacation. Attendance has been low during the past week due to several cases of mumps.

Arlington Heights: Night school classes at A. H. township high school had to be cancelled this week because of the brown-out. Students will be given an opportunity to make up the cancelled work at a later date.

Schaumburg: There was a fairly good attendance for the PTA discussion in the Center school Friday evening. The turnout was far better than expected and has given high hopes to those responsible for the first attempt to organize a Parent-Teacher Association in that there will be an even larger group present at the next meeting. Temporary officers are Mrs. Ethel Rowoldt, president, and Mrs. Carl Engler, secretary - treasurer.

Two Village Casts Cement Drama Ties

A new cultural exchange will begin tomorrow, March 4, when the Palatine Players will present an evening of entertainment produced by the Village Theatre of Arlington Heights in place of their usual monthly business meeting. The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Oak st. school, Palatine.

Lee Suhr, program chairman of the Village Theatre. has selected a varied program; one which will undoubtedly suit a variety of tastes. John Lobenhofer and Dee Kitsinger will appear in the final scene of "The Glass Menagerie."

Jeanette Jenkins and George Garland will appear as Ethel and Albert in the one act comedy, "Dutch Treat." "Why I Live at the P. O." will be presented as an example of the chamber theater technique. Appearing in this "new idea" production will be Shirley Freeman, Anne Hume, Virginia Hula, John Lobenhofer, and Ed Hume.

PATRON MEMBERS of the Players have been expressly invited to attend this unique event, and as always, the Players wish to extend a hearty invitation to all those interested in any phase of "little theater" work to come and see. Refreshments will be served following the entertainment.

In April, the Palatine Players will entertain the Village Theatre with a cutting from "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

Tryouts will be held for the Players production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" in approximately two weeks, for production early in May.

An Imaginary Interview With Hollywood Producer

by TIM PHILLIPS

It's time once again to go behind the scenes in Hollywood for an interview with that award-winning producer-director, Sigfried Slinkawitz, who has just returned from a country-wide lecture tour.

Mr. Slinkawitz has given over 3000 speeches about motion picture production and film story development.

"WAS YOUR lecture tour a success, Mr. Slinkawitz?"

"A success? Ha! Surely you joke mit me, my frand!"

"No, not at all. I understand you covered over 84,000 miles."

"Not only dot, but ve are also coverink ourselves — da veather vas stinkink on da whole trip! It is rainink and pourink like tventy million vater faucets, all of vich are not vorkink right!"

"That's too bad, Mr. Slinkawitz."

"No! No! Dot is goot! It over "Da Rains Came mit floods of vater rushink all over mine U-Haul trailer, I am thinkink dat ven I return to Hollyvoot, I gung make over "Da Rains Came" mit real rain."

"THAT sounds sensational!"

'Dere von't be a dry eye in da house ven ve show da premiere."

"So that's your next big project, he? ' '

"Big is not da vord! It vill be stupendace! It will make 'Birth of a Nation' look like comink attractions! I haff already contacted mine favorite female lead."

"You mean—?"

"Yas! You ar sayink it! Ve star Marilyn Moscovitz."

"But she's a musical comedy star!"

"Den ve change 'Da Rains Came' into a musical."

"That should prove interesting."

"Mit bathink beauties yeat! And den ve get dot handsome leadink man, Clark Stable!"

"SOUNDS like great box office, Mr. Slinkawitz."

"—and it vill make money, too!"

"I'm glad to hear that — now, getting back to the trip you took—"

"Must ve?"

"Yes, if you please—I understand that you lectured in many colleges throughout the United States—which ones did you find the most receptive?"

"Da coleges ver vonderful —Vassar, Smith, Seacrest School for Vomen, Da Crunchhaven College for Vomen, Da American College for Vomen—Da Junior Vomen's School of—"

"Wait a minute—those are all schools for women."

"Of curse! You tink I vaste time on da others?"

"Well—"

"I am Holyvood producer —I must alvays be on lookout for females! Just last vinter, who did I discover in basement of Ludlov's Meat Market?"

"I DON'T know—who?"

"Clarabelle Hooch, dot's who—she is greatest stunt voman dot ever live! Besides, she knows vhere to get good salami."

"You know your talent Mr. Slinkawitz."

"You should bet your sveet patootie, I am knowink it! In seex years I am takink over chairman of board—and more borink chairman you never are meetink!"

"I wouldn't say anything is boring in Hollywood — it seems to be one party after the other."

"Sometime you shoud be gettink da bills! Only last veek I am beink sent bill of $7500 for two dozen eggs yet."

'YOU MEAN you paid $7500 for only 2 dozen eggs? How could that be?"

"Ve are sendink to Australia for Ostriches! Everytink is bik, bik, bik in Hollyvood."

"I guess you're right, Mr. Slinkawitz. Well, we'll be looking for your next big production in the near future."

"If you are livink dot long."

"Accordink to production schedule, picture is beink finished about year 2100."

"Good grief, who so long?"

"Ven I do production, I do production!"

"But Marilyn Moscovitz and Clark Stable will be much too old—"

"AHHH, YES—but is no problem! I haf best make-up man in country! Ve hide wrinkles! Movie audience never knows difference. Tricks of trade, mine frand. At present time, ve are changink Empire State Building into Brooklyn Bridge! Also, ve plan on bringink entire Cuban Army to Hollyvood for publicity stuntink."

"What's the Cuban Army got to do with your production?"

"Didn't I tell you? Ve planning to shoot entire picture in sugar field! Den ve print up advance ads vich are readink 'Sveestest Picture in Vorld.' How's dot for doink up big, eh?"

JANE MILLER

BOB HAWLEY

Village Theatre, Inc., will present the final play of its tenth anniversary season on April 6, 7, 8 and 9 in the Little Theatre of Arlington Heights high school.

Richard Tyler, director, has announced the cast selected for "The Man in the Dog Suit," by Albert Beich and William H. Wright from a novel by Edwin Corle. It was first presented on Broadway in the fall of 1958.

Tyler is the third professional director invited by Village Theatre to participate in this year's productions. He has attended the Sherwood Music School, the University of Miami at Coral Gables, and the University of Illinois. He has directed the Northwestern university Chicago Campus Drama group, the New York City Center opera, as well as the Hhighland Park Experimental theatre. He has acted in summer stock with the Eagle River Players and Coral Gables Theatre-in-the-Round and has also worked with Summer Theatre in the east in connection with the USO.

ROBERT HAWLEY once again will play a leading role as Oliver Walling (the man in the dog suit). Hawley needs no introduction to friends and patrons of Village Theatre. Among his most famous roles are those of Elwood P. Dowd in "Harvey," Sakini in "The Teahouse of the August Moon," and Mr. Roberts in the play of the same name. Hawley will bring some first-hand experience to his role of Oliver, a banker, since in real life he is associated with a large loop bank.

Playing the part of Martha Walling will be talented Jane Miller, who will be remembered for her enchanting performances as Lotus Blossom in "Teahouse" and as Sabrina in the play "Sabrina Fair," as well as for her work in many children's show.

WILBUR POWNALL will return to the footlights as Henry Gaxton, brother of Martha Walling. Pownall has turned in many fine performances in the past three years and regular patrons will recall his work in "The Tender Trap," "My Three Angels," "Holiday for Lovers," and "Howie."

Carol Mooney will play the role of Letty Gaxton, wife of Henry. Carol's acting credits include a fine performance in "Witness for the Prosecution" in a difficult dual role.

Another person on stage known to many will be John Lobenhofer in the part of Stewart Stoddard. John's versatility has carried him from the smallest role to some of the prominent parts in Village Theatre plays. Most recently he played Bomber in "Picnic." Other parts include that of the dwarf in "Rumpelstiltskin," Ensign Pulver in "Mr. Roberts," and Jimmie Keefe, the young beau in "Howie."

THE PART of George Stoddard has been won by Pat O'Dea, who needs very little description to identify him. Friends of the community theatre group will recognize and welcome him again since his memorable performances in "Holiday for Lovers," "Howie," "Picnic," and many children's shows.

Anne Hume has been cast as Eileen Stoddard, wife of George. Anne may be new to the audience of Village Theatre. However, she has been active in Talent Bank plays and has been a hard-wroking member of the organization.

Harriett Smith has been cast as Mrs. Louisa Stoddard, mother of Martha, Letty, Henry, George and Stewart. Harriett's most recent performance was in the children's show "Sleeping Beauty" when she acted as the Queen. Other roles to her credit were in "My Three Angels" and "Witness for the Prosecution."

Marshall Moses has been given the role of Anthony Roberti. Marshall, too, has performed well in the past and many will recall his work in "Mr. Roberts," "Witness," "Sabrina Fair," and the children's shows.

George Garland will play the delightful character named "Mr. Beal." George is a veteran of Village Theatre and his credits for acting include "Tender Trap," "Mr. Roberts" and "Howie."

PRODUCTION manager for the play is Marian Malcolinson. Her crews are now being formed and work assignments are being discussed.

Lee Suhr is stage manager and Virginia Hula is the assistant stage manager. Rehearsals are under way for another fine production of community theatre.

Ticket information may be obtained from Jeanne Novotny, CL. 5-3494. (Bill

Two Mt. Prospect Players to Appear

Two Mt. Prospect residents have featured roles in "Anastasia," current Des Plaines Theatre Guild production, which opens at 8:30 Friday night for a four weekend run at Rand Park fieldhouse, 2025 Miner street, Des Plaines.

Robert E. Farris, 38 N. Albert, who moved with his family to Mt. Prospect last December, plays Counsellor Drivinitz in the colorful drama about the mysterious reappearance of the "Murdered" youngest daughter of the czar some 40 years ago.

Mrs. Jackie McDermott, 509 Maple, plays Baroness Livenbaum, and is also assistant to the director.

ART WORK ON the stage setting for "Anastasia" was executed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoyt, 807 See-Gwun.

Lee Madden, 8910 Menard, Morton Grove, is directing 'Anastasia." Madden's professional theatre background includes both directing and acting in Broadway off-Broadway and summer stock productions. He has also appeared on television on Studio One, Kraft Theatre and Suspense.

Production dates of "Anastasia" are March 4, 5, 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, 25 and 26. The Saturday night, March 12, performance is already sold out. For information on other performances, phone Mrs. Charlotte Kenzel, TA. 3-2216.

Try-outs for the Theatre Guild's next production, "Third Best Sport," a rollicking comedy to open April 22, will be held Monday night, (March 7) at 8:30, in Rand Park. Anyone in the northwest area interested in acting is invited to try-out. (Bill

The Way We See It

Helpless Humans Are Victims of Tragedy

One of the most telling analogies we have seen drawn on the condition of Illinois' mental hospitals was the observation by Stephen A. Mitchell, a candidate for governor in the Democratic primary.

Said Mitchell: "The Illinois mental health facilities are like an overcrowded 1930 model bus struggling up a long hill; the engine is weak and worn, the body is not big enough to carry its enormous load of helpless humans, and the tires are in danger of blow outs. Then, as the desperate and inexpert driver hopes for relief, he is forced to take on even more hapless passengers at every stop."

This word-picture inspired our artist to develop an equally appropriate vehicle of expression in likening the situation to "A Streetcar Named Despair."

But what ever the comparison, Mitchell struck upon a condition which, understated, can best be described as deplorable. The candidate—unlike many persons seeking public office—can document the charges he has made with considerable research on the subject.

Further to his credit is the fact that he is championing a cause not unpopular but certainly ignored by a large majority of the electorate; then, too, the group he is attempting to assist—the 47,000 persons populating our mental institutions—are politically as well as emotionally disenfranchised: their right to vote has been taken away from them.

Mitchell says the situation calls for ". . . a new governor who is willing and able to take the lead in marshalling greater public awareness and interest in this massive predicament. It means a new governor who will regard the state's responsibility as more than an irritating, non-vote getting, budgetary problem. It means a new governor who places a higher value on our mentally ill people than he does on Illinois sired colts, State Fair prizes, and $90 wastebaskets. It may even mean that our public officials must start doing without new Cadillacs and that the rabbit wardens in the Department of Conservation may have to go without pay as well as without work."

Mitchell, who says the state has slipped from 16th to 31st among states in the amount spent per day per patient in our mental hospitals in the years from 1952 to the present, also charged Gov. Stratton with knowledge of conditions that 1) are a deadly combination of inadequate, unsafe buildings, serious overcrowding, and insufficient personnel; 2) tend to aggravate, not cure, some patients; 3) make it impossible to attract or retain needed personnel; 4) impede progress and treatment programs, increase the average length of stay in institutions and financial burden upon the people of Illinois.

Mitchell compared facilities here with Kansas, where the average length of institutionalized care has been cut to 30 from 60 days. He noted that in 1958, Kansas spent more money per patient per day than any other state ($6.15 per day as compared with the Illinois expenditure of $3.66 and the national average of $4.06).

"The hidden fact is that if Kansas had continued its treatment on an ordinary custodial basis the cost would have been much greater—at least an estimated $14 million in 1959—or $5 million more in operating expenses alone than it is now spending."

Favoring the proposed $150 million bond issue for the Department of Public Welfare which will be placed on the ballot at the general election in November, Mitchell said he was aware of the objections to this type of deficit financing, but that "this is the price of years of neglect and timidity of our governor and legislators."

And for the complacent, he produces estimates that one out of 10 Americans will need treatment some time during their lives for mental illness; out of every 100 children, there will be three who are mentally retarded to a degree requiring special care and education.

Mitchell says that two years ago, the state board of public welfare reported that the mental hospitals were over 40 per cent overcrowded: where there is space for 100 patients, there are 143 crammed into existing facilities. For every 2,000 patients, there is one certified psychiatrist.

He labeled this as "warehousing"; it is an odious traffic in human souls, especially when officials admit that 20 to 35 patients out of a 100 do not actually belong in state mental institutions since they suffer the usual afflictions of the aged.

We are interested in knowing how other aspirants to the governor's mansion feel about this open sore of neglect, as well as candidates for other state and federal offices. (Mitchell suggests exploring the possibilities of working through an interstate compact with neighboring states for financing of research and research facilities in the field of mental health.)

For if something is not done soon to meet what he calls "the great necessities" of this problem, one can draw one final, incontrovertible parallel: that is to Sisyphus, the legendary Greek who was doomed forever to push a huge rock to the top of a hill only to see it tumble down again. In this case, however, Sisyphus' great misery will be shared by thousands.

Why Register for the Primary?

Very often good citizens limit their political activities to criticizing from the sidelines. Criticism is always good, but it is not nearly so effective from without as it is from within. To do the most good, citizens must work from within the political parties.

In many cases, this needed citizen participation has been discouraged because politics is concentrated in the hands of "party pros." They are disdainful of those who have no axe to grind, no reason to work within their parties except to see politics and government improved. The "pros" are not interested in attracting more young people, more women, and more persons who insist upon the right to think for themselves.

The good citizen plays into the hands of the party boss, however, when he avoids voting in the party primary elections, the biggest day of the political year. It is here that the candidates are selected, and the man who refuses to vote in a primary lets somebody else do the job for him.

A first step in raising the level of Illinois politics is for voters to register—and then work to turn out the largest outpouring of primary voters in the history of Illinois.

Pollution Crisis Growing

By CHARLES HAYES

Five million people in metropolitan Chicago face a growing crisis in the pollution of their waterways.

Key to the problem is a complicated hassle over the Lake Michigan water diversion bill.

Leading opponent to the bill is Canada, which has convinced the Eisenhower administration that approval of this legislation would have an adverse effect on relations between Canada and the United States.

Despite state department protests, however, Senator Paul H. Douglas has requested the Senate foreign relations committee to hold open hearings on the House-approved legislation which would allow an increase of 1,000 cubic feet per second to be withdrawn from Lake Michigan for three years as a test of the effect on lake levels.

THE SANITARY district since its inception has been embroiled in the battle over lake diversion.

The opposition was also raised by Great Lakes states, other than Illinois and Indiana, on the contention that diversion of water by Chicago from Lake Michigan would have harmful effects to shipping, power production and water recreation.

The district initially was granted the right to divert water from the lake on a permit issued by the secretary of war on May 8, 1889. When the Sanitary and Ship canal was opened in 1900, it allowed the flow of the Chicago river to be reversed from Lake Michigan up to capacity of 10,000 cubic feet per second.

At one time Chicago drew 10,000 feet of water from Lake Michigan. It was restrained through court action in 1908 from diverting more than 4,167 feet per second. The suit to keep diversion at this rate was confirmed by the United States Supreme court in 1925.

THREE YEARS prior to this confirmation a group of Great Lakes states filed a suit in the United States Supreme court to stop diversion. The court handed down a decree in 1930 ordering the Sanitary district to reduce its diversion from the lake to 1,500 cubic feet per second, plus domestic pumpage by Dec. 31, 1938.

When it became apparent in 1954 that the authorized diversion of 1,500 cubic feet per second was not enough to keep Chicago's waterways from becoming seriously polluted, the Sanitary district sought legislation to increase the present rate of diversion by 1,000 cubic feet per second.

Congress passed such legislation in 1954 and 1956 despite strong opposition from Canada, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York. However, both bills were vetoed by President Eisenhower on the recommendation of the state department, which based its opposition solely on objections by Canada.

THE OPPOSITION contended that Chicago's diversion from Lake Michigan for domestic and industrial purposes lowers the levels of the Great Lakes and results in an annual loss of millions of dollars in the carrying capacity of ships and hydro-electric power production.

A 1957 report by army engineers refutes the charge, however. To substantiate this report, the Sanitary district again sought legislation to increase the diversion by 1,000 cubic feet per second (plus domestic pumpage) on a trial basis. The lake states managed to forestall this legislation by filing suit in the Supreme court to compel Chicago to return to the lake all water it took for domestic use.

Meanwhile, a new diversion bill was passed last March in the House. It is still in the Senate foreign relations committee, and it is this legislation which Douglas is demanding public hearings on.

THE PROPOSED three-year test would lower the levels of Lake Huron by one-fourth of an inch and of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario by one-sixth of an inch. It would cause no damage to navigation.

"I must frankly say," Douglas declared this week, "that the state department, as representing the administration, is merely carrying out its occupational habit of disregarding the pressing needs and interests of American citizens in order to meet the wishes, however unreasonable, of a foreign government."

He said the citizens of the Chicago area have a high regard for Canada and desire to remain on friendly terms with the Canadian people and their government. But, he added, the Canadian government is not acting in a friendly spirit in trying to prevent a three-year study of the pollution problem.

Chicago has already agreed to abide by the results of the study.

IF CANADA and the lake states are successful in their opposition to the diversion bill, it will be a tragedy for Chicago and its suburbs. Sanitary district engineers maintain that it would cost an estimated $300 million to treat sewage before it could be returned to the lake.

It is regrettable that the State department has insisted on its unnecessary opposition to what, under the Treaty of 1909 and subsequent treaties, is purely an internal matter for the United States alone to decide.

We can only hope that Senator Douglas and other concerned public officials will be able to convince President Eisenhower that in this instance the welfare of the citizens of metropolitan Chicago overrides Canada's irrational fear of the study.

Fearful Millions Ask Answer to Arms Race

By WILLIAM DULANEY

Is the United States really interested in disarmament?

This question is being increasingly asked by the world's fearful millions whose destinies are tied to the spiraling arms race between the big powers.

As the March 15 ten-nation disarmament conference at Geneva approaches, the demand for an answer becomes louder. And what do we have to offer in the face of the Soviet Union's imaginative and bold proposal, regardless of its sincerity, to work toward the goal of total universal disarmament and to immediately agree to a ban of all nuclear weapons testing?

WE COUNTER with an offer to ban nuclear weapons testing excepting underground tests below a specific size. Our reasoning is that such tests would be undetectable. Yet many respected American scientists note that such a provision is impractical. They argue that the varying composition of the earth's crust would make it impossible to determine the size of an underground nuclear explosion. They further note that a large underground explosion would require a cavern the size of several football fields perhaps a half-mile deep. The time and expense of digging such a vault would, say the scientists, make it impractical for nuclear weapons tests.

The more skeptical critics of this country's reluctance to come to terms on a nuclear arms test ban point out that such action is unthinkable to the defense department and joint chiefs of staff.

THEY NOTE that continued testing is necessary to improve and lighten the nuclear warhead of the Polaris missile. It is also necessary to further refine small-bore nuclear weapons upon which this country would place great emphasis in a "limited" war. Therefore the exemption which Washington seeks in the test ban is exactly that which suits its testing purposes.

Regardless of whether the Atomic Energy Commission and Pentagon have devious reasons for imposing unrealistic limitations on a nuclear weapons testing ban, they have, in the words of Congressman William Meyer (D. Vt.), been guilty of "too much negative thinking . . . and concentrated on proving that a control system would not work."

This country's foot-dragging and lack of urgency in banning nuclear arms tests also extends to an overall disarmament program.

LAST JULY the President set up a committee whose sole purpose was to formulate America's position on disarmament. The committee's report was submitted to the state department in January. Last month representatives of the ten-nation disarmament committee appointed by the United Nations general assembly last fall came to Washington to discuss the American position. After 10 days of stalling the state department finally admitted our committee failed to come up with any concrete disarmament proposals.

On the contrary we are assured that our drawing boards are daily turning out defensive weapons that will destroy more people in less time. To this is added the pressure of the military and some politicians to furnish nuclear arms to Japan, Turkey, and other U.S. allies on the periphery of the Soviet Union.

Less than two weeks remain before disarmament talks begin. Should they fail to be productive, this country will bear the blame in the eyes of the world.

The Forces of Reason

Red Smear Hits Church

By MARTIN E. MARTY

PAMPHLET LINKS PROTESTANT CHURCHES AND REDS. I first saw the headline on a newspaper at the Pittsburgh airport. The smaller print revealed that none other than our friends the U. S. Air Force was printing the pamphlet, a training manual. It went 25 miles out of its way to bring up the subject of subversion and 25 more to locate it in the churches.

First, I was ready to rub my eyes and wonder if I was in a time-capsule headed the wrong way. Six years and nine years ago this kind of irresponsible noise could be heard in the lunatic fringe, but 1960 seemed to be a strange time to indoctrinate Air Force trainees in this subject.

GRADUALLY we can see how it is happening. A Mr. Homer H. Hyde, who holds views as improbable as his name, has worked his way into a post where he can insert his poisons into government manuals.

The fact that the charges that he brings up were successfully refuted six years ago when J. B. Mathews first made them in the McCarthy era; the fact that they remained current only in the kind of magazine few of us would be caught permitting our children to read; none of this bothered the professional anti-Communists.

The fact that some of these professionals are on the House un-American activities sub-committee lends no more credence to the charges. They have been exposed and can be exposed; it is to the credit of the leaders of six Protestant denominations which number 18 million people, that they refused to use the Committee as a forum to answer the charges.

WHO IS BEING hurt by such charges? Certainly not Communists or subversives. Certainly only the Protestant churches and the Protestant clergy—for which of them can demand equal time and say, "They're not talking about me!"

Most of the accusation comes from within Protestantism—if we can call it that—from the men and organizations that make their living out of opposing efforts at church reunion and the attempt of the churches to speak to our day.

Some newspapers, including one in Chicago, do every one a disservice by creating the impression that this Protestant fringe is as respectable and responsible as the National Council of Churches which it is attacking and to which most Protestant readers of this paper, through their denominations, belong.

WILD AS THE charges are, there must be some basis in fact for them. The attackers find plausibility in three types of incidents:

1) Some clergymen actually did support formally left-wing causes back in the 1930s. So did people of other vocations, particularly in college years. We've elected dozens of them to the most responsible posts in each party in Washington. But we don't call them "card-carrying Communists."

2) Clergymen sometimes are involved, for Christian reasons, in causes such as pacifism or disarmament. These causes are also sometimes promoted in America by left-wing fronts. This seems to bring together Christian and Communist, though on opposite grounds.

3) A year and a half ago theologians and ethical thinkers of the National Council of Churches - sponsored World Order Study conference, as an illustration of a point, suggested that the U. S. might do well to recognize Red China. The illustration is usually taken out of context and blown out of significance. The conference may have been wrong, dead wrong. But it was not in any sense Communist-inspired as the pamphlet charges.

FINALLY, THE translators of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible are attacked. This is the wildest point of all. The committee was made up of the finest Hebrew and Greek scholars in America at the time. They did the best possible task. Men of most denominations checked the translation and found it acceptable. But Air Force trainees are to be taught, says our friend Mr. Hyde, that one third of the translators are Communists.

The American Mercury, the kind of magazine Mr. Hyde uses for documentation named them. One of them was an Old Testament professor at my denomination's St. Louis seminary. He is the least politically-minded, most socially quietistic man I could think of. All I have to do to see the absurdity of the charges is to try to conceive of him as a Communist or a dupe of the Communists. The Air Force would make him one, through this pamphlet. Sanity says 'no'.

So one must keep the forces of reason alert. As always, vigilance. The wind blows and the fires go out. They must be lit again and again.

Nixon Stand Reprehensible

The Vice President of the United States, Mr. Richard M. Nixon, recently said that California should retain provisions for capital punishment. Under any circumstances, such a stand is morally wrong. But under the particular circumstances, it is reprehensible. I cannot conceive of anything more repugnant than an individual who places personal gain ahead of the life of an individual — ANY individual—or group of individuals.

Mr. Nixon comes from a Quaker background, a pacifist and humanitarian sect. Since rising in politics, he has affiliated himself with a more "respectable" Protestant denomination and flaunts his "Christianity" when it is politically expedient. In practice, his actions have proved to be anything but Christian. He advocates retributive justice of the Old Testament rather than redemptive love and rehabilitation of the criminal as taught by Jesus, whose teachings he professes to follow. He belies his present religious affiliation and his background.

MOREOVER, he displays this hypocrisy for personal gain and for his party. Republicans in California are now attempting to crucify Democratic Governor Edmund G. Brown for the reprieve he granted Caryl Chessman and Nixon is not above going along for the ride to get the votes.

Going along for the ride, though, may mean retention of the death penalty — a primitive, unenlightened and inhumane form of punishment. It may mean direct responsibility for the deaths of numerous individuals and consequent misery for their families and future welfare and criminal problems. It is an "eye for an eye" philosophy rather than one of "turn the other cheek."

Murder or any other criminal act is not to be condoned. But the commission of such acts is not atoned for by the "official" act of retribution in committing like acts against the offender.

ONLY A minimum amount of effort and intelligence are required (apparently more than the Vice President is willing to exert or possesses) to learn the facts about capital punishment and its lack of effect in doing what it purports to do — serve as a deterrent to future crime.

This is the argument — that capital punishment prevents future crimes — that Mr. Nixon presented in favoring retention of the death penalty.

Society has practiced capital punishment for thousands of years. Yet murder is still committed. Societies have gone to war (mass murder). Yet there continue to be wars.

If Mr. Nixon would bother to check (or have it done), he would find considerable evidence in scientific sociological, psychological and criminological literature that capital punishment does NOT deter future crime. The criminal, in his act of passion or permanent madness, thinks not of the consequences of his action but is intent on the immediate effect — the killing of someone he hates, material gain through robbery, sexual release, or whatever. Mr. Nixon's boss, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States, could give him a lesson here. As commander in Europe he ordered a soldier executied for rape in order that it might serve as an example and deterrent to further rape. But servicemen — away from wives and sweethearts and involved in official mass murder (the breakdown of law and order)—continued to rape the native women at the same rate as before the execution.

THE MOST glaring evidence of the failure of capital punishment as a deterrent is the fact that states which have abolished it have NOT experienced an increase in their crime rates.

..evertheless, whether one advocates capital punishment from deep conviction or not, Mr. Nixon is to be condemned for placing Self above Humanity, for being willing to have people killed that he might be President.

To think that there is even a remote possibility that he might be . . .!!!

Of Airports And Hospitals

It has been said once by a humorist: "All I know is what I read in the papers!"

Often in the process of doing good an evil creates itself and becomes most objectionable to someone. Take the case of an airport for Roselle. Its building might stimulate certain business activity, but later on, I for one would find its existence most loathesome. The racket created by the jet planes passing over our heads in their arrival and departure to and from O'Hare field is enough that our community should bear at present. Then according to the future airfield promoter his present proposed site might create an air hazard to those beautiful jets and we may have unwanted bodies spilled over the landscape. Which brings me to the topic, "What to do with the bodies?"

SINCE ROSELLE is most deficient in Medical services I propose we the residents in and about Roselle create a non-profit community hospital. As a suggestion the name of Trinity Community Hospital as a starter. On its board would be religious leaders of all faiths, and such people who would be willing to give their time to such a cause. The purpose of such a hospital would be for the giving of preliminary first-aid sufficient to keep the spark of life. After diagnosis a patient could be moved to facilities with specialist care for their needs. For convalescence a patient then could be moved to our community hospital to be near home and loved ones. It has been my own experience and probably of others where they had to travel 20-40 miles back and forth to be near loved ones incapacitated by illness or accident.

Is it not wiser now when one is most healthy to provide for a medical facility near ones home. The Blue Shield, Blue Cross or the telephone are not the answers unless there is a facility tied up with your hopes. At present I feel a 20 bed unit would amply supply our needs. Later the plan can be enlarged. I'm ready to work on such a project. Are you? I have no real estate to sell, no medical services to render but a sincere desire to help those of us who want good medical attention when the need arises.

GETTING back to those bodies: I see one solution for the promoter to take his airport to Barrington Road & Irving Park. A lot of space exists out there. The jets will be high enough in the air to avoid hitting the planes about his airport. Result no bodies. You say, "What about the land he has now?" He'll be so busy subdividing it for manufacturers that the profit will pay for his new airport.

On must remember that medical services are more important to any manufacturer before that of an airport and if we n Roselle port and if we in Roselle can see this as first need and work toward that goal we will all benefit.

Police Earn Her Praises

I wish to give public thanks thru your publication for the help given me in a time of emergency by Arlington Heights police department. Unfortunately, due to the circumstances I did not get the names of the officers but if you will publish this I am sure that they will see it and know that I am indeed grateful.

On February 18, at about 1:30 in the morning, I left the parking lot of the new Northwest Community hospital with just a little gas in my car. It was snowing heavily and the roads were slippery — and it was late — but I had been assured that one of the gas stations at the corner of State rd. and Central was open all night, so I was not worried. I had a little gas, but I knew I did not have enough to get to Park Ridge along the lonely stretches of Algonquin rd., so when I found the three stations closed I headed into Arlington Heights business section, feeling confident I could fine one open.

I found nothing open, then I went toward Mt. Prospect and I became more than a little panicky, as I realized I was using up what gas I had, so I returned to Arlington for another futile search for either the police department or a cab stand and I could find neither, nor a public phone wherein to call for help. Even the railway station was locked.

It is interesting to note that I passed not a single passing car to flag down and ask for help, so I decided the best thing to do was to try and make it back across that lonely road to the hospital and possible help. I was riding on the "empty" mark of gas and I was not a little panicky by then. I rationed my remaining gas by giving it a shot and then coasting on the icy snowy road and finally made it to the parking lot. I had the hospital call the police and a squad car came about two o'clock. They were a welcome sight indeed.

THEY WERE most appreciative of my predicament and so very courteous and helpful. They explained that there were no stations open at that hour, the nearest being at route 12 and route 83, and they suggested that they appreciated my feelings about running out of gas along the lonely stretches of road between Arlington and Park Ridge and they said they could do one of two things: push me to 12 and 83,where I could get gas, or they would be very glad to drive me home to Park Ridge and I could come back via some other transportation in the morning and get my car.

We elected to go to the gas station and they took me all the way, only to find that station closed also. But this did not deter them, they continued on about a quarter of a mile still further to a station that had a sleepy attendant who opened up for them only to help me out, then they left before I had an opportunity to get their names or to reward them in some way, but only after they were sure that I was getting gas and was safe.

THE BENEFIT of their presence, the quiet assurance they gave me lessened my anxiety and my panic and I cannot let this act of kindness and courtesy go without giving public thanks. In these days when so much bad is accredited to our policemen, it is good to be able to tell of the fine deeds they perform in their line of duty.

They never knew that I was out there in distress at that hour of the night because I had stayed with my mother, who expired just before that.

Itasca Park Foe Speaks

In regards to your editorial last week on the Itasca park district; we of Medinah, not a minority, but a majority, of "agitators," are a group of civic minded people who are fighting to protect ourselves from aggression. A right that every American citizen has been given since the time of George Washington.

Yes, we are "emotionally" upset as anyone would be when another group suddenly, without warning, descends upon you with a proposal such as this. But we have also gone over all the advantages and disadvantages with much thought. We, who have a school issue pending that is of much more importance, feel that this is no time to come up with embellishment when our children's education is of more importance, not only to us but to our country as well.

WE, AS A whole, do not want to hold back Itasca's park district which we feel may be of benefit, to them, but of no direct benefit to us. If the vote is defeated on March 12, and the formers of the district are sincere in their wish to better their community, we are truly sorry for them. However a polling of Medinah Terrace, before the boundaries were set, would have given them our opinion and saved much grief on both sides.

As for Little League, the Brookwood Little League has Medinah on the Roselle Roster, a decision made in 1959, which gives Medinah boys no right to play on any other teams.

It has been stated that "a few personal friends were contacted" that constitutes 158 families? In a December issue, an article appeared stating that Itasca was forming a park district. This mentioned, Itasca proper, Itasca Ranchettes, Fairway Park, and homes adjacent to Itasca. No mention was made of Medinah, and we of Medinah do not consider ourselves adjacent when we are seperated by over a mile of farm land.

LET IT BE known that we have no "ill feeling" toward Itasca, only to the enforced inclusion in this district. We would also like to know why, when the towns of Itasca, Wood Dale, Bensenville and Addison met, and the boundaries were set in school districts did these formulators of the plans step over the line into District 11?

We hope this will be a fair election, and let the people decide as they wish. A turnout of all residents involved, on March 12, is the only way the people can voice their choice.

She Wants Bus And Rail Data

Might I suggest that your paper display a notice informing people of Addison as to the transportation facilities available, like the bus schedule and the roads on which they operate, including the railway transportation.

Due to the amount of new people residing here now, I believe it would be a nice suggestion.

Mail Plight Irks Reader

I see that the village fathers are studying a plan to improve the downtown shopping area of Arlington Heights by making a parking mall. I am writing to suggest that perhaps they should consider locating a new post office building on the present site of the village hall on Davis st. and part of the C&NW park. Davis st. could easily have an outlet over to Wing st. at the rear of the new post office, thereby giving access from the west as well as the south. I feel sure there must be others that share my opinion of the present misplaced, misconceived post office building.

I leave work at 5 p.m. each evening (missing the 5 o'clock mail pickup. Our mail is metered and must be delivered to the post office if after 5 p.m.) so I proceed west on Wing st. I cannot use the letter drop from the car as it is on the left side of the street. I cannot make a "U" turn (as the glaring eyes of the policemen standing in front of the station usually are on me—although at times I am tempted). On rare occasions, I have found parking space and after delivering mail to the post office I must drive all the way to Ridge street and come back on (horse and buggy) Campbell, fighting the traffic from Rolling Meadows commuters on their way home from the Arlington Heights depot.

NOW, ALL I wanted to do was to drop a few letters at the post office and here I am in the midst of the Arlington Heights business district, trying to get across the C.&N.W. tracks at the commuters hour — late for supper as usual. "So, I'll beat this thing yet," says I. The next night, I go down Campbell st. to Ridge and approach the post office from the west. I'll have the letter drop on the right side of the street and that will help some. But, lo and behold, when I get to the post office to use the letter drop, what do I find? The village fathers have installed parking meters right in front of the post office. I cannot drive in for an approach to the letter drop and have to park again.

Oh well, I suppose the village need those precious pennies from the meters and besides, the government has a monopoly on carrying the mail so why should they worry if you get your car up to one of the new letter drops.

If the rest of the business people feel as I do about the present location of our post office, perhaps it could be corrected with the ideas set forth when I started to write this.

If we don't do it now we are missing a "Golden Opportunity."

Bloomingdale Roads Are Hit

In the first page of the February 11 issue of the Roselle Register I read an article stating that the road commissioner of Bloomingdale township was operating his fund in the black.

This well may be, but it's being done at the expense of the taxpayers in the form of rough, muddy roads in mild weather and drift covered ones in bad weather.

We've lived here on Mensching rd. for over five years and our road and Rodenberg rd. have never been in such a deplorable state.

MR. TONNE might not have been able to operate in the black, but at least our roads were kept in good shape and plowed open in winter. If the roads got a little rough then, a call to the township garage or to Mr. Tonne brought results in a few days. Now our requests are either ignored or given a belated "lick and a promise."

The roads have now gotten so bad the public school system has threatened not to pick up children living on Mensching rd.

Maybe nothing can be done about this mess now, but things will be different at the polls when re-election time rolls around.

Jaycees Made A Good Choice

We would like to commend the Junior chamber of commerce for its selection of Eugene F. Schlickman as its choice for Arlington Heights' "Man of the Year." While no doubt there are many men in the village who had excellent qualifications, and who might have been selected, we know that none could surpass Gene Schlickman's ability, integrity, earnest effort and sincerity of purpose.

The entire village may again take pride in the "Jaycees" selection for this honor.

There's Run On Pineapples

When shopping at the A&P in Mt. Prospect. So many ladies were buying green pineapples. What for? Of course for "Here's Haugh to Plan a Party," "A Bit of Ireland Laua."

So the first thing I did was to read all about this clever theme for a party. I, too, will be getting some green pineapple and try my luck as a clever hostess.

THE TAX-TIME TEMPER TEMPEST

A tempest it is, usually. In the first place, the arithmetic is time-consuming and irritating. In the second, there are all those annual discoveries . . . such as the appalling number of non-deductible expenditures one family can make in a single year.

Worst of all, there comes the grim revelation that you aren't going to get any money back at all. On the contrary . . .

AND HOW TO AVOID

Here's where a savings account at Oak Park Federal saves the day. In a tax-time bind it's a great relief to have a savings account to draw from. Also, when you consider that the money which would have come from your salary—had enough been taken out—has been in a 4%-per-annum savings account at Oak Park Federal Savings, making money for you...well, you've actually come out ahead by owing the government.

With a savings account at the house that security built, one avoids the temper tempest at tax time.

Values of Illinois Farmland in Decline

by L. H. SIMERL

Illinois farmland values may have passed their peak, at least for a while. The United States Department of Agriculture reports that average values declined 1 per cent from last July to November. Many unofficial reports since December 1 indicate that prices are down $25 to $50 an acre from the high point last summer.

The 1959 summer drouth in central Illinois depressed prices in some communities and may have pulled down the state average from July to November.

MOST OF THE states surrounding Illinois reported small increases in the value of farmland from July to November. Increases were as follows: Missouri, 4 per cent; Iowa, 3 per cent; Minnesota, 2 per cent; Wisconsin and Indiana, 1 per cent; and Kentucky, 3 per cent. Michigan, like Illinois, reported a decline of 1 per cent from July to November.

Values held about steady in the Great Plains, the Pacific Coast states, the Central-South and New York and Pennsylvania. Two to 4 per cent increases were reported in the other eastern states and the Rocky Mountain states. The over-all national average increased 1 per cent in the four months.

Compared with a year before, Illinois farmland values in November were up 4 per cent, and the national average was up 5 per cent.

ILLINOIS farmland was worth about five times as much in 1959 as 26 years before, in 1933. (Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that the dollar is worth only one-fifth as much as it was 26 years ago.)

During the 26 years ended with 1959, Illinois farmland values declined only once, in 1954, and that decline was almost too small to measure. The present decline may be more substantial, for several reasons:

1. Land values are much higher in relation to net farm income than they have been at any time since 1940.

2. The calculated return on land has been less than the interest rate on farm mortgages in four of the past five years.

3. If land values have stopped rising, land has lost its big advantage over bonds as an investment. (Prices of farmland rose about 6 per cent a year for many years, while prices of bonds were stable or declining.)

4. Returns on farmland during most of the past five years have been unusually low in comparison with returns from common stocks. (In 1959 average common stocks returned 5 to 6 per cent, while the average returns on farmland were estimated at 2½ to 3½ per cent.)

5. Taxes on farmland may increase more than taxes on corporations.

6. Nonfarmer investors may lose their enthusiasm for buying or holding low-profit farmland.

Many people have said that the demand for land for farm enlargement will hold prices up. But farm operations can be enlarged by renting additional land. Some farmers with savings to invest may make more by investing in livestock or farm equipment, or in nonfarm securities.

The longer run trend in farmland values will depend upon whether or not our wage-cost inflation is brought under control. (FM

Elk Grove Bureau Holds Forum On Mental Health

Mrs. Robert Wagner, Higgins rd., was resident hostess for the February 24 meeting of the Elk Grove Home Bureau. Mr. Erwin Behrens, Mrs. Ernest Brezinski, and Mrs. Arthur Busse were dessert hostesses. Although there were threatening signs of snow, quite a few members were in attendance including the following guests: Mrs. Bessie Carter, Mrs. Lorraine Nelson, and Mrs. Maud Pfeffer and Mrs. Henneberg, visitors from the Mt. Prospect unit.

Members and guests heard a summarization of the February lesson, "What a Family Needs for Good Mental Health." Mrs. Glenn Pasvogel, the local leader for this lesson, conducted a question and answer forum on mental health problems and gave explanations on how to cope with the various types of mental depression. The informative presentations of the lessons given by leaders are responsible for attaining two new members; the group welcomes Mrs. Bessie DePalma and Mrs. Mildred Hall into the unit.

BECAUSE OF the snow storm February 10, the "Busy Beehive" session was cancelled. Mrs. Arthur Busse offered to have the next session in her home Wednesday, March 9, at 10 a.m. Craft leaders urge members to attend this meeting and complete all unfinished projects. Those planning to attend are to bring their lunch; coffee will be served.

Members are reminded of the "Blue Ribbon" deadline, June 1. Mrs. August Deeke will provide members with additional information on the event.

This year Mrs. Claradehl Upham is taking her vacation in March, so all units have a choice to do as they wish. Mrs. Fred Busse has offered to be resident hostess for the March 23 meeting to hear Mrs. Ernest Brezinski give a discussion on Celanese products and show slides on the use of Celanese in the home. A dress-length piece of material will be given as a prize.

There will be no business meeting preceding the cussion; the meeting starts promptly at 12:45 a.m. After Mrs. Brezinski's presentation, an old-fashioned "kaffee klatch" will be held. Mrs. Fred Busse and daughter, Sylvia, Mrs. Marvin Busse, and Mrs. Wallace Busse, will be the dessert hostesses.

Mrs. Noel Foss has made arrangements for the unit to attend a food demonstration with 4-H members in April, the date of which will be announced later.

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

Theme for the 1960 National 4-H week March 5 through 12, is "Learn, Live, Serve Through 4-H." Nationally, 4-H Club week will be highlighted in Washington, D.C., by six members who will present the annual 4-H "Report to the Nation." The report will summarize in story and pictures outstanding 4-H accomplishments and current projects. While in the nation's capital, these three girls and three boys expect to view the report with President Eisenhower at the White House. They also plan to visit secretary of agriculture Ezra Taft Benson; C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension service; and various senators and members of Congress on Capitol Hill.

4-H'ers everywhere will share honors with the 296,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico. The main purposes of 4-H Club week are to acquaint more young people with opportunities available to them through joining or forming 4-H Clubs; to assist new members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities; to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has issued the following memorandum: "Your theme for 1960 'Learn - Live - Serve Through 4-H,' reflects the high purpose of your organization and the broad concern of its leaders.

"This changing world places new demands upon the spirit and abilities of our people. Therefore, the opportunities offered to 4-H Club members to grow in skills are especially valuable to them and to the nation.

"I hope the coming year will be rewarding both in your 4-H programs and in your personal efforts to become active, informed, and effective citizens."

NATIONAL 4-H Club week provides an opportunity to tell others what your club is doing. More than 2¼ million 4-H club members in America will observe this special event. In Illinois last year there were 71,758 4-H members - the largest enrollment this state has ever had. These members were enrolled in 4,132 clubs led by over 7,500 local volunteer 4-H leaders.

4-H Club work is part of the national educational system of cooperative extension work in which the United States department of agriculture, the state landgrant colleges, and the counties share. The Federal Extension service gives national leadership, and the state extension services give state leadership to the program. Two important groups helping further the program are the National committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, 59 E. Van Buren st., Chicago, and the National 4-H Club foundation, 7100 Connecticut ave., Washington 15, D.C.

THE AIMS OF National 4-H Club week are to: "Help members measure their progress and set new goals. Influence more young people to join or form 4-H clubs. Acquaint more parents with 4-H and enlist their aid. Encourage youth-minded citizens to volunteer as local club leaders. Increase public understanding of 4-H objectives and methods. Gain community support for year-4-H activities. Express appreciation to friends of 4-H.

There are at least two big reasons why local clubs should observe National 4-H Club week: 1. The thousands of local 4-H clubs that carry on special activities and events in observance of National 4-H club week have a very important and favorable impact on the public.

2. Group effort in behalf of this worthy purpose can do much to improve the local club program and interest of the members and parents by stimulating their participation in some of the activities or events.

Number of Cattle Climbs Since '57

The nation's cattle herd increased 9 per cent in the past two years. The United States department of agriculture estimated numbers of cattle and calves on farms and ranches January 1, at 101,520,000. That was 5 per cent more than one year before and also 5 per cent above the previous record high four years ago.

Numbers of dairy cattle increased 1 per cent, reversing a five-year down-trend in numbers of cattle kept for milk.

Beef cattle on hand January 1 were estimated at 68,536,000 head. This number was 7 per cent more than a year ago and 14 per cent more than two years ago. It was two years ago that cattle numbers reached their their low for this cycle.

FOR THOSE WHO like to make comparisons with population, our population has increased about 1¾ per cent in each of these years, or 3½ per cent in the two years.

Numbers of steers over one year old increased 8 per cent in 1959 and 17 per cent in the past two years. The number on farms January 1 of this year was estimated at 11,009,000. Most of these steers will be marketed this year.

Numbers of calves under one year were estimated at 21,093,000 head, up 7 per cent from the year before and up 14 per cent from two years before. Some of these calves will be marketed as beeves next summer and fall. Others will be fed out in 1961 or added to breeding herds.

Numbers of beef heifers one to two years old on farms and ranches on January 1 were estimated at 7,419,000 head. That was 9 per cent more than a year ago and 22 per cent more than two years ago. These heifers will be slaughtered or added to breeding herds in 1960.

NUMBERS OF beef cows increased 7 per cent in 1959, rising to 27,263,000 at the beginning of this year. The increase over the two-year period was 11 per cent.

We now have considerably more beef cattle in relation to human population than we had at the peak of numbers in the previous cattle cycle four years ago. In proportion to the number of consumers, we now have 3 per cent more beef calves, 8 per cent more steers and also 8 per cent more heifers than we had at the beginning of 1956. The number of beef cows is the same, in proportion to population, as it was at that time, but the number of dairy cows is 8 per cent lower. (Dairy cows eventually make beef too.)

In 1956, the year of the last previous peak of cattle numbers, farmers sold enough cattle to provide each person with 85 pounds of beef, 4 more pounds than last year. These sales, combined with very heavy sales of hogs, kept prices of Choice steers in the lower 20s most of the year. Farmers may supply as much beef to consumers this year as they did in 1956, but competition from pork will not be so great. But, the yearly average price of Choice steers at Chicago was under $24 for three consecutive years—1955, 1956 and 1957. (FM

10 Exhibits To Highlight Festival

Ten exciting exhibit stories, presenting opportunities for better farming and better living, will be featured at the 1960 University of Illinois Farm and Home festival March 31 and April 1 and 2.

The exhibits present the work of the colleges of agriculture and veterinary medicine. They are:

RECORDS: TOOLS FOR PROGRESS will show how farm records and research data are gathered and interpreted for the benefit of al farmers.

FEED AUTOMATION: FOR PROGRESS — FOR PROFIT. This exhibit demonstrates how five mechanical units can be integrated into a complete feed-handling system.

SOYBEANS: GOLD FROM THE PRAIRIE presents the story of soybean production and processing and the many uses for this crop.

CHEMISTRY IN AGRICULTURE. This display features the many benefits of chemicals to agriculture.

ANIMAL PRODUCTS STRENGTHEN THE NATION. The research and practices that lead to quality animals and quality products will be shown.

BETTER LIVING AT HOME will explain the new labeling law for fabrics and garments, show a day in the life of a nursery school child, show methods of serving large groups of people, display decorative and funtional home lighting and report results of food and nutrition research.

THIS IS COLLEGE presents a picture of student life at the University of Illinois. Students and staff will answer questions about housing, costs, scholarships and class schedules.

CAREERS FOR YOU portrays the many opportunities for young people trained in agriculture, home economics and veterinary medicine.

EDUCATION FOR BETTER LIVING will show how the college serves all Illinois through research, teaching and extension.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH OUR COLLEGE. The College of Agriculture is working in other lands, and many students and visitors also come to Illinois from other countries.

BESIDES the exhibits, the 1960 Festival also features a speaking program on timely topics, a Town and Country art show, a Town and Country talent show and square and folk dancing.

Saturday, April 2, is high school student day. All high school students are invited to learn more about college educational opportunities.

These many events and activities are all packed into a three-day program on the campus of the University of Illinois, Urbana. You can come for one or all three days and find something to interest you all the time you are there. (Fm

So What?

The best excuses usually contain a considerable proportion of harmless prevarication. —William Feather.

Chemist Hits Freak Diets

A well-balanced diet is probably the most sensible prescription for people who worry about heart disease, according to Dr. F. A. Kummerow, University of Illinois food technology chemist.

Speaking recently at the Illinois Nutrition conference at the U. of I. Campus, Kumerow said "freak" diets which exclude meat, eggs and "hard" fats (animal fats) may do more harm than good.

These "freak" diets are sometimes recommended to avoid ather-osclerosis, a form of heart disease caused by fat-like serum cholesterol build-up in artery walls.

WHY, THEN, he asked, should Americans give up their best sources of protein because these foods also contain "hard" fats?

Speaking further about the diet - heart disease controversy, Kumerow explained that heart attacks generally are not caused by drastic changes in the diet.

Fat build-up in artery walls has been shown to begin in three-month-old babies and gradually accumulate to a "soft" fat diet cannot effectively reverse the end result of a lifetime of fat accumulation, Kumerow said.

Only when the serum cholesterol level is extremely high should the diet be drastically altered — and this must be done under the supervision of a physician.

THE U. OF I. scientist said that recent publicity given to the possible relationship between fat-like serum cholesterol and heart disease has led to an unfortunate situaton for researchers, doctors and heart patients.

This "cholesterol fixation" has resulted in repetitious research work, diverting attention from the real problem, which is atherosclerosis —not serum cholesterol levels — he explained.

July Lily Show To Have Prizes, Massive Display

Backyard gardeners and professional flower growers have a rare opportunty to gather a wealth of information about raising and showing lilies at the International Lily Show in Madison, Wis., July 8 through 10.

Many individual displays of lilies will be judged at the show. But there will also be one massive educational display featuring the whole season of lilies. Blooms from around the world will be imported for this exhibit. This showing is designed to help gardeners select lily species in a more practical manner than is possible by personal visits to nurseries.

Members of the North be featured speakers during the show.

J. R. Kamp, University of Illinois floriculturist, points out that Illinois gardeners need much specific information to grow lilies successfully. This expositon should provide much of this information.

Last Chance to See – Most Fascinating

GALLERY OF MONEY

of the World!

It seems everybody likes money — even just "for looking." Our big gallery of ancient and modern currencies has drawn so many connoissuers and curiosity-seekers that we've decided to add 96 more famous coins and bank notes and hold the whole collection over for another final week. This means you'll still be able to visit (or re-visit) our gallery through next Saturday, March 12.

WORLD'S GREATEST . . .

Whether you're looking for history, beautiful engraving, or varieties of the good old American dollar, we've got it. In fact, one visiting expert — Mr. Leonard Stark, member of the American Numismatic Association — said, "To my knowledge, no one has ever assembled a collection just like this before. It's a pity it will be broken up after this showing."

You can see priceless gold coins from Greece and Rome, preserved in perfect condition, as well as the "most beautiful" of all dollars — the First Charter National Bank note of 1872 . . . Study a Shekel of Tyre (the "Judas coin") as well as the first United States coin (with its inscription, "Mind Your Business").

DON'T TAKE ANY WOODEN NICKELS . . .

We have three real wooden nickels issued in Tenino, Washington, in 1932. They're really worth a nickel — which is better than the famous "Continental," the only money ever repudiated by the American government.

DON'T TELL THE SECRET SERVICE . . .

Nowadays it's normally illegal even to display United States gold certificates. But you can see them at Citizens — still fresh, and as good as gold . . . And don't miss the wampum and beads used for money by American Indians, or the Gizi iron "penny" with which you can buy a wife — in Liberia.

We hope you'll drop in and look at these and some two hundred other things you've probably never seen and may never get to see again. Admission is free — naturally — but we still think you'll get your money's worth.

P. S. In case you can't get in by day, the gallery will be open evenings next week only, Monday through Friday, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., even when the bank is closed. But remember, the show closes for good at noon on Saturday, March 12.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS:

Dear Mom,

Wouldn't you like your family to be well dressed without paying fantastic inflation prices and putting the budget on the verge of bankruptcy?

Wouldn't you like to buy a beautiful dress for your daughter for $2? A sport coat for your son for $5? Maybe a dress of finest quality for yourself for $6 or $7?

Impossible, you say?

Not at all. Pay a visit to the Potpourri Resale Shop, 117 S. Cook St., Barrington, Ill. We're open Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10 to 5. Friday nights too!

YOU MUST NEED A HOME or you probably wouldn't be browsing through the ads. So we say again the best time to buy that home sweet home is right now when you need it. Just think of the joy and comfort you'll have in your own back yard this summer with the kids romping in the pool and the steaks simmering on the bar-B-que. Why wait any longer? Come in today and let us show you how we can give you a new lease on life at substantially less than you will pay anywhere else. We still have those very desirable 4½% G. I. loans available to qualified buyers.
A VERY SPECIAL HOME
We are proud to offer for the first time one of the most outstanding homes in the village. In fact, the owner was awarded first prize in 1959 for the most extensive outdoor improvements. This is truly a deluxe ranch style home with a total of 1695 sq. ft. under roof; 3 good size bedrooms, 2 full baths, one of which is in the master bedroom; spacious 24'x13' living room with sliding window walls leading to patio and superbly landscaped yard. Included among the numerous extras are aluminum awnings, combination storm windows and doors, Johnson water softener, stone planter boxes, Hotpoint washer, dryer, oven, range, disposal, gas heat, lamp post, coach lamps and draperies throughout. Unusual circumstances force reluctant owner to sell this gorgeous home located on a private cul-de-sac. You may assume the 4½% G. I. loan with low monthly payments. Seldom are we able to offer such a lovely home. May we show you through today? Asking $25,950.

ARE YOU LIKE ME?

If you are, chances are that you've had a high school diploma or some college training but you didn't acquire any special skills such as typing or running complex office machines. Nevertheless, I'm a pretty good gal and fussy about who I work with.

If you like to work and talk with people—and help them — and will take pride in keeping various records up to date — I'm looking for you.

I need a young gal who has enthusiasm and wants to learn — and do sales and service work in a modern business office in Arlington Heights. Please call for an appointment.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE
IT'S A WONDERFUL PLACE TO WORK!

Or so our employees tell us. And apparently they're not just flattering us. Over 14,000 employees thruout the state have been with Illinois Bell Telephone Co. over 21 years.

If you're a recent high school graduate who can add and subtract, come in and talk to us. Perhaps you'll be able to tell from looking around and talking to some of the people who work here why so many people are proud to say they're Illinois Bell Employees. And we, in turn, are proud of them. They're special people.

You'll like our modern, air-conditioned building. There's a company cafeteria and free parking lot. The salary is good, employee benefits better than average. Working hours are from 7:55 a. m. to 4:40 p. m. See Mrs. Millie Marcoux at 44 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, or call her at CLearbrook 5-6100.

Arms Broken for 2, Tot Takes Overdose

Play accidents, shop accidents, and babies getting into things babies shouldn't get into caused most of the emergency excitement around Northwest Community hospital last week.

James Graham, 9, of 277 Marion st., Palatine fell on the playground and broke his left arm, Wednesday. Another school accident put Betty Schuette, 15, of 1019 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights into an arm cast. She had corrective surgery, Friday.

Jack Theobald, 32, of 130 Lincoln st., Hoffman Estates, lost part of his right ring and index fingers in a shop accident at a night class at Arlington high school.

CATHY CALDWELL, 3, of 372 S. Wolf, Wheeling, is believed to have swallowed too many children's aspirin for her own good. She was relieved of the contents of her stomach and sent home in good condition, Sunday.

James King, 2, of 1726 Verde dr., Mt. Prospect, broke a bottle and received head cuts from the broken glass. He was stitched up and released, Wednesday.

Two tobogganing casualties were brought in, Sunday. Tommy Brandlein, 4, of Edward st., Wheeling, got head cuts when he fell off the toboggan. Douglas Kenning, 17, of 542 Shadywood lane, Elk Grove Village, injured his right hand in a similiar accident. (B8

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ernest A. Schroeder, our dearly beloved husband, father and grandfather who passed away 7 years ago, March 10, 1953.
Time goes on, the years fly by,
To some you are only a name,
But to us who loved you so
The heartache remains the same.

County Government Has a 'Warm Heart'

Every year Daniel Ryan, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, delivers an annual message telling what the county has accomplished during the past year. He also highlights some aims for the coming year.

The report is a fat bound volume that looks wordy and uninteresting from the outside.

However, probing this report, looking at pictures of county institutions and reading figures of help the county gives people—often people unable to pay for private services—an interesting picture presents itself.

THESE ARE some of the things Ryan touched on in his message. Without actual cases to bring the story to the people in warm human terms, it still seems far away.

But the 4,100 workers at the County hospital are working in human terms, and the 21 buildings there are filled with human beings. The forest preserves are in the backyards of Northwest suburban residents who picnic there in the summer, toboggan there in the winter. The old man who gets a monthly check for old age assistance is a warm human term. All these are part of the collection and cold statistics in Ryan's annual message.

In Cook county hospital, for example, a half million persons are treated annually. The Arthur J. Audy home handed 10,240 children—children who are delinquent, orphans, or dependent—during 1959.

Children, too, are being treated more often at the County Mental health clinic. In 1950, 17 children under 15 years of age were treated for mental health problems. Last year this number had grown to 68, children ranging in age from 3 to 14 years.

PRESIDENT Ryan told commissioners that a remodeling program at the Family court was now nearing completion. The court has been connected to the Audy home by arcades. More than 15,000 cases were referred to this court between October 1, 1958 and September 30, 1959. Of these 10,219 were delinquent children under 17.

Plans for a mental health program are being initiated as part of the county department of public health. During the past year students were assigned to this department for training as part of their college curriculum.

Toward the end of 1959, the county department of rabies control hit the headlines when officials identified an Evanston girl as having been bitten by a rabid bat, believed to be the first in this area.

RESIDENTS OF Cook county during 1959 received more than $135 million in public assistance. This ran the gamut from aid to dependent children to old age assistance and help for the blind.

The county auditor is responsible for checking that county funds are spent wisely and according to Hoyle. This department will benefit in years to come by a project of the department of central services. It is hoped that the mechanization of property tax records will make the billing, collection and redistribution of taxes faster in the future.

The county highway department during 1959 completed four sections of the expressway system and spent $19,000,000 for street and road improvement programs. A uniform 20-miles-per-hour limit was established last year for all school zones.

THE BUILDING and zoning department has spent the year holding public hearings and evaluating all parcels of unincorporated land in the township hoping to put each parcel in a class where it can best be used. The county hopes to establish a ratio of 92.38 per cen residential use; 6.72 per cent industrial use; less than 1 per cent business use.

Acreage in Cook county forest preserves was increased by 720 acres last year, bringing the total to 45,265. The county also maintains Brookfield zoo where a "Seven Seas Panorama" is now being constructed. Ryan said this was the only salt water display in the world not located on a seacoast. The panorama is scheduled for completion this year. (B8

County Housing Authority Helps Suburbs Planning

One county group, not directly under the jurisdiction of the county president or board of commissioners is the Cook county Housing authority—a board of five commissioners working diligently to up housing standards in suburban areas.

One of their current projects is cooperating with the northwest suburbs' Opportunity Council, Inc., and other interested groups to explore the best way to provide livable conditions for Mexican-Americans here.

MANY PROJECTS that the Authority governs are well under way. In Chicago Heights, for example, an urban renewal project is half-way completed. During the past year, 80 per cent of the families, or 365, currently living on land that is to be cleared for new buildings, were moved. This is an allied problem these men work with; finding new quarters for families living on urban renewal sites. If the moving day can be put off, the Authority reduces rents on the land it has acquired and repairs buildings to make them livable.

During the past year a rent roll of $73,719 was collected, and more than 70 structures vacated. Twenty-eight apartments are to be started this spring and 92 others in a year in Chicago Heights.

A 100-acre area is to be improved in Robbins, and 70 per cent of that land was acquired during 1959.

Work of the men, appointed by the county board, but who serve the Cook county Housing authority without pay is done in conjunction with the Chicago housing authority and other county officials. The hope is that respective urban renewal plans can provide orderly community growth.

IMPETUS FOR county work, however, comes from within each community itself. Arlington Heights and associated Opportunity council towns is an example of this. They went to the county; the county didn't come here.

In Chicago Heights, the village is paying for demolishing condemned buildings to keep up its share of the improvement cost. Part of the development funds will then come from the county; some from the federal government.

The Authority recommends that interested communities choose their development plans and a developer. Then the County will be ready to acquire the land.

Today the County Housing Authority is operating 187 dwelling units of low-rent public housing in Summit, Robbins, and Chicago Heights.

'Sixties' Decade Of Century Here?

The sixties can be the decade of the century for Metropolitan Chicago.

That is the theme of the annual report of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry just published.

The 104-page report reviews the association's 1959 activities, its objectives for 1960, and committeemen for the coming year. More than 3,000 businessmen who serve on 47 association committees represent a membership of 10,000 individual members and 6,500 firms.

THE PRESIDENT'S message by Paul W. Goodrich, President, Chicago Title and Trust company, reports on projects consummated and inaugurated during 1959. He points out the significance of these projects and specifically refers to Chicago's future regarding mass transportation.

Thomas H. Coulter, chief executive officer, discusses the promising future for Metropolitan Chicago and describes growth areas with emphasis on new job opportunities.

New in this year's report are interviews with association vice presidents. The activities of the association's nine divisions are discussed in a question and answer interview with business leaders who headed each division in 1959.

The report also contains Metropolitan Chicago's business statistics for 1959, which show an increase in every catagory over the figures for 1958.

ALSO SHOWN in the report are the folowing facts indicative of the growth of Metropolitan Chicago.

1. The total labor force rose to 3,005,000 persons from 2,960,000 in 1958.
2. Bank clearing increased from $59,230,000,000 in 1958 to $65,429,000,000 in 1959.
3. One of the largest increases was shown in investment in industrial buildings and lands. In 1958, $198,930,000 was invested as compared to the 1959 total of $332,064,000, an increase of $133,134,000.
4. Electric Power sales in terms of kilowatt hours increased from 18,008,804,000 in 1958 to 19,929,671,000 in 1959.
5. The statistics show that 94,000 new passenger cars were sold in Metropolitan Chicago in 1959 than in 1958.

Fur-type coats... beautifully, safely cleaned

Luscious wraps of man-made "furs" now provide every wardrobe with the bloom of luxury. These synthetic furs, like natural furs, require special cleaning techniques. At L'Nor Cleaners, all the gentleness, care and know-how of master furrier and other approved methods are lavished on them. Using methods recognized by leading manufacturers, as well as the National Institute of Dry Cleaning, L'Nor provides the safest, gentlest, cleaning available anywhere.

CARE NOTE: Clean frequently to avoid excessive soiling, hang coat on coat hanger when not worn, and give the same fine care and consideration that you give your regular fur coat. Beautifully refreshed Borgana-type coats are returned to you in transparent plastic bags, at no additional cost.
